Hurricane, Torrential Rain Bring Disaster in Mexico

Supreme Court Refuses Haste In Steel Strike

Union To Be Allowed Until Monday To File Injunction Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refuses to order the United Steelworkers to speed up their appeal of a Taft-Hartley back-to-work injunction that would halt the 107-day steel strike.

The government made a strong plea to the court Wednesday to tell the union to get going on the appeal by noon today. Without comment, the court denied the Justice Department request.

That leaves the union until Monday to appeal the ruling of a Philadelphia appeals court that upheld the injunction.

But union lawyer Arthur J. Goldberg said he expected to file the formal appeal notice with the Supreme Court Friday and present a complete brief for the union case by Monday.

This means the court probably won't be ready to rule until the middle of next week.

The strike will go on at least until then unless something comes of new full-scale negotiations that resume today at Pittsburgh between the union and the big steel companies.

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service said it was glad to hear that negotiations would resume. But it served notice on both sides that if nothing happened by Monday it would call them to Washington for a joint bargaining conference.

The involved court action began nine days ago when President Eisenhower asked his government lawyers to get a Taft-Hartley injunction in Pittsburgh.

The court order would halt the strike for 80 days, but the union could resume it after that period if no settlement were reached.

The union, believing the big steel firms are beginning to feel the financial pinch, attacked the injunction as unconstitutional.

The Philadelphia court upheld the injunction, but gave the union six days to take the matter to the highest court.

Half a million steelworkers are on strike against 96 companies and 250,000 more in related industries are out of work.

At issue are wage increases and the industry's demand for more control over local working conditions to effect economies. The industry contends any big wage increase would be inflationary and against the national interest because it would force a rise in steel prices. Prestrike wages averaged $3.11 an hour.

THE CORRECT ANSWER — United Steelworkers attorneys, Arthur Goldberg (left) and David Feller leave the Supreme Court building after filing the union's answer to government efforts to speed the union's appeal of the back-to-work decision in the steel strike. The high court refused to go along with government efforts. The union now has until Monday before asking the court to review a circuit court of appeals decision upholding the back-to-work order.

Ohio Steel Mill Employment Now 47,000, Was 122,000

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Employment in Ohio steel mills dropped from 122,000 in mid-July to 47,000 by mid-September, the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported today.

The bureau said the difference "largely represents primary steelworkers directly involved in the strike." Nearly one-half of these steelworkers are in the Youngstown - Warren area.

Layoffs stemming from secondary effects of the steel strike are beginning to rise, the bureau said, reporting that some 18,000, newly unemployed filed claims last week under the unemployment compensation law. One out of every three was due to the steel dispute. Part of the 50 per cent increase over the previous week, however, was due to delayed filing, as liberalized compensation regulations went into effect.

Cleveland alone accounted for three - fourths of the statewide jump, as several large automotive factories ran out of steel.

The bureau said those out of work one week or longer in Ohio totaled 57,000 last week, not counting 8,000 claiming temporary extended benefits. A year ago in the same period the average was 94,000. Ten thousand among current claimants, nearly one-fifth, represent persons jobless as secondary effects of the steel strike. Those covered by federal unemployment insurance systems, for railroaders, federal employes, and former servicemen, are not included in the figure cited.

It is too early for total figures on October employment. But mid-September showed nonfarm employment in Ohio up somewhat from mid-August, despite primary and secondary effects of the steel dispute.

Both factory and nonfactory employment were up. Introduction of new model automobiles boosted manufacturing totals, the bureau said, and opening of schools and seasonal pickups in trade and service lifted nonmanufacturing. The grand total of employed—three million—was two per cent above the year-ago figure.

But contrary to the statewide pattern, Canton and Youngstown employment were down from mid-August to mid-September — more than two per cent at Youngstown but less than one per cent at Canton. Steel short fabricators in Stark County and striking steelworkers in Mahoning - Trumbull - Mercer (Pa.) counties pulled their overall nonfarm totals down.

In the Youngstown area, steel mill employment fell from 52,000 in mid-July to 19,000 in mid-August to 15,000 by mid-September. The Canton area dropped six per cent from the year-ago nonfarm level. The Youngstown area, however, fell 14 per cent.

But earnings are still high, the bureau said. While down from their $106 per week peak last June, factory production workers in Ohio averaged $103 last month. Average hourly rates were down several cents, as higher - paid Steelworkers were off the payroll.

The outlook? It depends largely on steel, the bureau said. September and October are normally highest employment months in Ohio.

Tire, Wheel Theft Reports Continue

Marvin Spangler, Route 1, Ashville, informed the sheriff's department that two whitewall tires and a rim were missing from his car.

Spangler said the tires and wheels were taken sometime during the last two weeks.

The sheriff and local police have been investigating a series of tire and wheels thefts here since Pumpkin Show.

Several such thefts were reported during Pumpkin Show. The equipment was taken mostly from trunks of cars parked near the western edge of the city.

Retired Cops Forget Rules

LONDON (AP)—Thirteen retired police officers looked in vain for their cars after an annual reunion at a London restaurant Wednesday night.

The missing cars were on the other side of town-towed away for illegal parking.

Shakeup Near Complete in U.S. Diplomacy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The resignation of Robert D. Murphy as undersecretary of state has almost completed an unplanned shakeup in the State Department high command. It has been under way since Christian A. Herter took control last spring.

Two further developments are in prospect: a successor must be found to fill Murphy's key job. And Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen, veteran expert on the Soviet Union next week will assume a new post as Herter's special adviser on Soviet affairs.

The changes involving five policy-making positions could have important impact on the development of U.S. foreign policy toward various parts of the world, but Herter's associates say they were not made with any policy purpose in view.

Murphy's resignation was announced by the White House Wednesday night. Murphy, 65, wrote President Eisenhower that he was resigning effective Dec. 3 for personal reasons. The President accepted the resignation "with deep regret, but with complete understanding."

Later Murphy told reporters, "It was an awfully tough decision to make." He said he wanted greater financial security and more time with his family than his State Department duties had permitted. He will take a job in private industry.

Cuban Military Tribunals Get Official Revival

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's Cabinet early today ratified the revival of military tribunals which sent 555 of his enemies to execution before firing squads.

Fears of a new blood-bath grew with an estimated 200 persons already in jail awaiting investigation or trial as counterrevolutionaries, and unconfirmed reports circulating of more and more arrests daily.

Prime Minister Castro abolished the controversial military tribunals in July in favor of civilian courts. Though the latter had power to impose death for activities against the revolutionary regime, the heaviest sentences meted out were 30 years.

A power failure plunged most of the capital into darkness and fresh anxiety after the six-hour Cabinet session ended just before 2 a.m. The blackout was traced to an equipment failure, the American-owned Cuban Electric Co. said, adding there was no immediate indication of sabotage. The power went on again over most of the city after about two hours.

Foreign Minister Raul Roa told newsmen that the government would deliver its reply later today to the stiff U.S. protest against the rising anti-American campaign in Cuba and Castro's charges that the U.S. government had connived at flights over Cuba by anti-Castro exiles in the United States.

ESCAPES MOB — Jules Dubois, Latin American correspondent for the Chicago Tribune, was threatened by a mob in Havana while he was writing a story in a cable office. Several hundred demonstrators gathered in the office, shouting "to the firing squad" before military policemen rescued him.

Rivera Paintings Sold

NEW YORK (AP)—Twenty-seven works of the late Mexican painter Diego Rivera were sold at auction at the Parke-Bernet Galleries Wednesday for $167,000.

Mylar Ballon New, Flashy Entry in Outer Space Race

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has a spectacular new entry in the space derby — a DuPont Mylar made-in-Circleville balloon as big as a 10-story building that inflates 250 miles above the earth.

The first space balloon launching Wednesday at Wallops Island, Va., was a smashing success. Not only did the balloon perform as planned, it startled the dickens out of hundreds of citizens all over the Eastern Seaboard.

The balloon, 100 feet in diameter, was the biggest object anyone has ever sent up into the fringes of space. But it weighed only 130 pounds.

It was not meant to go into orbit, and soon fell back into the sea. It was visible for 10 minutes. Later the National Aeronautics and Space Administration hopes to put some of these giant space travelers into orbit around the earth.

The balloon, fired at 5:40 p.m., caught the rays of the sun at the top of its flight. As it unfolded up there, its aluminized surface caught the light at different angles and sent forth myriad flashes of reflected sunlight.

Many who saw it thought it was a flare, surrounded by sparks.

The project was not announced in advance and nobody knew what it was.

Prof. Robert Brown, director of the Moonwatch station at New Haven, Conn., said it looked like "the craziest thing in the world."

Civil Defense officials checked in with their headquarters within minutes. Newspaper, police and radio station telephone switchboards were glutted with calls.

The balloon was sent up in a two-stage rocket with a thrust of 130,000 pounds.

The space agency said the whole huge balloon was folded into a container 26½ inches in diameter. The sphere was made of plastic and coated with silvery aluminum outside.

The plastic used was Mylar, manufactured by the E.I deNemours DuPont Co. at its plant in Circleville, Ohio.

After the balloon was released 250 miles up, air trapped inside it began to expand it. Then four pounds of water in two plastic bags was released inside the balloon. At that altitude the water expanded into vapor and completed the blowing up of the balloon.

NASA hopes to send these balloons into orbit 800 to 1,000 miles above the earth. They will be used as reflectors of radio signals.

Miami City Officials Slap Ban on Negro

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Negroes were barred from six city swimming pools and other recreation areas today after quick reversal of City Manager Ira F. Willard by the Miami City Commission.

Willard had issued an order Tuesday opening the previously all-white pools and parks to Negroes and six Negroes used two pools Wednesday before the commission acted.

"I had no legal basis on which I could refuse them entry," Willard told the commissioners.

Mayor Robert King High said he had "grave fears about what might happen if Mr. Willard's order was put into effect."

Willard issued an order returning the pools and parks "to the status they were before."

The NAACP has said if the commission did not open the recreation areas it would go into court again.

Court action already has brought integration to the city's golf course and public transportation.

Girl, 19, Is Held For Lima Shooting

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff's deputies held a 19-year-old Lima girl for investigation today after Jewel George Trevoe, 21, described by officers as her former boy friend, was shot in the abdomen with a .38 caliber revolver.

Deputy Sheriff Bernard Ludwig said the shooting took place when Trevoe found the girl sitting in a car with another man outside a house where a party was being held. Trevoe was accused of threatening the girl with a knife when he was shot. He was taken to a hospital where his wound was reported serious.

Seaway Business Booms

MASSENA, N.Y. (AP) —An estimated 6,600 ships will pass through the U. S. locks of the St. Lawrence Seaway before the waterway closes for the winter Nov. 30, officials estimate. To now, 5,650 ships have passed.

General Electric Adds Third Shift

The local General Electric Lamp plant returns to three-shift manufacturing operations next week. The announcement was made today by E. G. Grigg, plant manager.

At the start of the third shift will have 30 manufacturing employes, but it is expected that more will be employed later. The third shift will operate six days a week.

Since the plant expansion was completed, production has increased steadily and all parts of the new facilities are now in use.

In the last three months more than 100 women and 25 men have been added to the payroll bringing total employment to more than 750 and annual payroll to more than $3,500,000.

Grigg said that growth of demand for both regular and new types of fluorescent lamps including the new Power Groove lamp, is responsible for this rapid expansion.

Also growth in demand for lamps made here is causing the General Electric Glass Plant in Logan, to increase production and increase employment in order to supply glass for the Circleville plant, Grigg said.

Survivors of 'Black Tuesday' On Wall Street Recall Fate

NEW YORK, (AP)—Like the survivors of the blizzard of 1888 the survivors of Black Tuesday on the stock market have long memories. It was 30 years ago today—Oct. 29, 1929—that the bottom dropped out of the stock market.

Today's stock market has been booming. But most brokers stress all the measures taken since 1929 to keep the debacle from happening again. And they think the majority of Americans are more sensible now.

Stock prices had been riding high in 1929—ridiculously high, whether measured by earnings, assets or prospects.

The little fellow was in the market up to his neck — and often over it. He had taken his life savings to gamble. Often he had only a 10 per cent equity in his holdings. The rest was borrowed money.

So, many were wiped out overnight. Banks tottered. The depression — not prosperity — was just around the corner.

On Black Tuesday a record 16,410,030 shares were traded on the New York Stock Exchange in the frantic effort to unload. In a series of lesser falls prices kept on going down until mid-1932.

But in the wake of Black Tuesday came a long series of measures by the government and by private business and financial institutions to tidy up stock market practices and guard against a repetition of the disaster.

This year daily trading averaged 3,800,000 in the first three months, 3,200,000 in the second quarter, and 2,800,000 in the third.

This year you must have a 90 per cent cash down payment when you buy a share, not 10 per cent.

The Securities and Exchange Commission (born in the 1930s) takes a close look at any new stock offered for sale. It and the stock exchanges police the activities of corporations whose stocks are listed.

Federal insurance agencies back bank deposits and guarantee home mortgages.

You can get badly hurt in the stock market today. That's for sure.

But there can't be another Black Tuesday unless an awful lot of us start acting plumb foolish.

Auto Crash Injures Two

A driver and a passenger were slightly injured in a one-car crash at the Goodman-Teegardin and London - Lancaster Roads 16 miles north of here at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Driver Delbert M. Murphy, 28, Route 3, Circleville, suffered lacerations of the face. Pat Williams, 18, Ashville, received lacerations on the face and right knee. Both were treated at Berger Hospital.

Murphy told Deputy Sheriff Robert Hoover that he failed to get his car stopped at a dead end in the road and that the auto crashed.

Hoover said the front of the car was extensively damaged.

Khrush Visit Labeled Ike's Greatest Mistake

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — A churchman says Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the United States was the "greatest mistake our honored president has made."

Dr. Carl McIntire, Collingswood, N.J., president of the International Council of Christian Churches, said Wednesday President Eisenhower should scuttle the Soviet-United States exchange program. He said only the Soviets benefitted.

Van Doren Admits Being In on 'Fix'

NEW YORK (AP)—Charles Van Doren and Hank Bloomgarden reportedly have admitted to the district attorney that they received both questions and answers prior to their appearances on the NBC TV quiz show Twenty-One.

The New York Times today attributed its information to "an authoritative source in the Criminal Courts Building."

The New York Herald Tribune, in its edition today, quoted "a reliable source."

Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan refused to confirm or deny the reports.

The Times quoted Van Doren as saying: "I think that Monday is only five days away. I'm not in a position to start talking about it now. It would put me in such a terrible light, not only with the Congress, but with the other newspapers to whom I have refused to speak that I feel I must say, 'No comment.' "

Van Doren, who won $129,000 on Twenty - One, now dropped by NBC, is scheduled to testify next week in Washington before a House special subcommittee.

Bloomgarden, who won $98,500 on the quiz show, was quoted by the Times as saying: "You go ahead and print what you want. I don't intend to get into an argument about it. I have no comment as to whether I received any help."

Bloomgarden has not been invited to testify before the House committee.

400 Feared Dead; 2 States Suffer Floods

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A radio message from the State of Colima today said at least 300 persons are reported to have perished as a result of hurricane and flood in the town of Minatitlan.

The message, picked up here by an amateur radio operator, was addressed to Mexico's President by Dr. Rafael Chavez Carillo, brother of Colima's governor. Minatitlan is an inland city of about 10,000 population.

Added to those who lost their lives in coastal regions of Colima and Jalisco states, counted earlier at nearly 100, the loss of life assumes the proportions of one of this country's worst natural disasters of modern times.

In Tecoman, 12 miles from the coast, 16 persons were reported dead and 4,000 homeless.

Large sections of the two small western states bordering the Pacific still were isolated by floods in the wake of weekend torrential rains and a hurricane Monday.

Air rescue operations continued around the clock in an effort to reach hundreds of families driven from their homes by rain-swollen rivers that jumped their banks and poured through dozens of small villages.

The rivers knocked out communications and flooded roads in the stricken area, hindering the movement of military convoys carrying food, medicine and clothing.

The Pacific port of Manzanillo, which took the full force of the hurricane, reported 80 known fatalities. At least 100 residents were reported missing and 500 injured.

Full reports of casualties and damage could not be obtained because of the breakdown in communications. The President's office announced reports received by radio.

At least seven persons were dead and 15 missing in Cihautlan, 30 miles northwest of Manzanillo. Floods destroyed 40 per cent of the homes in the town of 5,000.

Four small Mexican freighters were reported sunk at Manzanillo. There also was a report indicating the 800-ton freighter Sinaloa, which left Manzanillo Monday for Acapulco, had gone down at sea. The report said 12 crewmen were rescued but 17 still were missing.

Teenage Glue Sniffing Is Dangerous Fad

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)—As many as 4,000 of the 16,000 teen-agers in this northern Texas city are endangering their lives by sniffing plastic cement fumes, police say.

Sgt. John Cawyer said Wednesday his agency has been investigating the practice since last June. Cawyer gave the estimate of the number of youths involved.

The cement produces a state similar to drunkenness, Cawyer said after he questioned teen-agers who said they sniffed the fumes "for kicks" during school hours.

Dr. D. E. Fletcher, a pathologist who helped police in the investigation, said the cement is a substance containing ether and carbon disulfide.

The ingredients damage the liver, may harm the brain, and will kill if used repeatedly, Dr. Fletcher said.

"Apparently this is replacing drinking among the younger set," the sergeant said. "Some teen-agers known as 'glue sniffers' have been handled previously for drinking."

Lima News Hit By Big Lawsuit

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — E. Robert Thorpe, former Auglaize Local School District superintendent, filed a $1,271,000 libel suit today against The Lima News. He charged in the suit that he was libeled in news stories published by the newspaper on July 2 and 21.

What Happens If School Tax Levy Is Not Approved?

By ROBERT K. HARROD
Editor, The Herald

What would happen if the Circleville school operating levy is not approved by voters next Tuesday?

First thing that would happen is the Board of Education would call for a special election in an attempt to gain approval again.

If the issue failed a second time it would be placed on the ballot in special election again, and again, until it is approved.

The levy is for a total of 9.5 mills. Of that total 6 mills are on the tax bills now, but that levy will expire at the end of this year. An additional 3.5 mills is on the same ballot to finance normal growth of the system, plus a small amount of improvement.

If the levy fails the schools will not have enough money to continue operations past March 1, 1960. That means the schools will have to borrow money to finish out the school year. If money is not borrowed, the schools will be forced to close doors.

* * *

IF THE levy fails the local school system will lose what is called "additional state aid." This year that figure was $63,000. A conservative estimate of the loss if the levy fails would be $50,000 state aid next year.

If the levy fails taxpayers would be forced to pay for a special election. That amount is $0,000. An additional expense of that size would further add to the school's financial woes.

The taxpayers are entitled to the facts.

They are entitled to know what the money will be used for if the levy is approved. Likewise, the public is entitled to know what would happen should the levy fail.

This is no threat. Many persons can't face the facts and are resentful if anyone says, "You must vote for this or the schools will close." These persons are hypersensitive and refuse to believe the facts.

The fact is the schools will be forced to borrow money to continue operations past March 1, or close about that date.

There is no sword hanging over the taxpayer's head. Prsons promoting passage of the levy won't make a nickel if it is approved. If it fails they won't lose money except indirectly through the general weakening of the economic activity here. The real losers are our children.

The indirect loss through debilitation of Circleville's economic life would be serious. Chances of attracting a new industry here, so vitally needed for continued community progress, would be extremely slim if schools were forced to close.

No one likes to be told, "you must do a certain thing". Each of us is free to make our choice, even if it hurts us. However, any reasoning voter will face the facts. The levy must be approved.

U.S. Foreign Service Vet Is To Retire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert D. Murphy, undersecretary of state and troubleshooter in U. S. diplomacy, is about to retire after 39 years in the foreign service.

Murphy, who is 65 years old today, has decided to accept a post in private business, turning down the opportunity to become ambassador to West Germany.

Since 1953, the Wisconsin-born Murphy has been the highest ranking career officer in the State Department's top echelon.

The late John Foster Dulles relied heavily on his judgment and skill as a negotiator to help settle many a diplomatic crisis. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter has relied on Murphy just as heavily.

Murphy has played key roles in helping settle the fighting in Lebanon, the Trieste dispute, and many backstage diplomatic quarrels.

He also has been one of the most influential men in the State Department in deciding on policy with the Soviet Union. When Soviet diplomats visited the department to discuss detailed problems, Murphy was usually the man they called on.

Murphy's reasons for stepping down at this time are not known officially. He is known to have considered for a long time whether he should climax his career by accepting the post in West Germany. But he turned it down, notifying President Eisenhower at the White House Tuesday.

He is expected to stay on as undersecretary for about two months.

The present ambassador to West Germany is David K. E. Bruce.

Lima Ex-Convict Terrorizes Family

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—A former convict freed of a charge of shooting with intent to wound only days ago was hunted on the same charge today after police said he terrorized his estranged wife and her six children by a former marriage.

Police say Lloyd Van Riper, 52, who was released from Ohio penitentiary in 1957 after serving 28 years for armed robbery, fired one shot while chasing a 12-year-old stepdaughter into the street. She was unhurt, but the girl and her family fled to neighbors for protection.

Van Riper was freed in Municipal Court recently on a charge of shooting with intent to wound a 19-year-old stepson.

Circleville Halloween Parade On Schedule for Saturday

The Circleville Junior and Senior Chambers of Commerce sponsored Halloween Parade will be held at 7:30 p. m. Saturday.

The parade will form on E. Franklin St., between S. Court and S. Pickaway Sts. It will march north on Court St. to Ted Lewis Park where judging of costumes will take place on the ball diamond.

All contestants must march in the parade to be eligible for prizes. A total of $1.00 in cash prizes will be awarded.

The annual affair will be led by the Circleville High School marching band. In case of rain, the judging will take place under cover, but under no circumstances will it be cancelled.

* * *

PRIZES INCLUDE: grand prize, $15; best decorated vehicle, $15; ugliest in parade, $5; prettiest in parade, $5; best impersonation, $5; youngest in parade, $5, and oldest in parade, $5.

Other prize categories will be divided into three classes. They are under one year to seven years; eight years through 14, and 15 years and up.

Prizes in the age categories are $5 for first; $4 for second; $3 for third; $2 for fourth, and $1 for fifth.

Chairman of the Jaycee parade committee is Glenn McCoy. He will be assisted by Edgar Webb and Clark Bitzer. Prominent local citizens will act as judges.

700,000 Ohio Folks Receive Half-Billion

CLEVELAND (AP) — About a half-billion dollars will be collected by about 700,000 Ohioans this year in social security payments from the federal government.

This was evident from a report which Melville H. Hosch, regional director, gave Wednesday showing 694,286 persons in Ohio were receiving payments at the end of last February, the last time totals were figured.

The major share of the money and of the people receiving it comes under the retired men and women classification and represents funds contributed by them and their employers. In Ohio the average retired worker was drawing $75.74 a month in social security last February. This compares with $79.64 in Connecticut, which has the highest state average, and $54.66 in Mississippi, where the average payment is lowest.

The number of retired men and women getting federal old age insurance benefits in February in Ohio was listed by Hosch as 379,611—up 39,939 from a year earlier. Total payments amounted to $28,749,888 a month, an increase of $5,547,180 from a year earlier.

To 117,746 aged dependent spouses, a monthly total of $4,820,854 was being paid in Ohio last February.

Under the comparatively new disability provision, 13,638 persons were drawing $1,254,426 a month.

Survivors' benefits to widows, minor children and aged dependent parents totaled more than a half-million dollars monthly.

Cage Tourney Site To Be Aired Tonight

Pickaway County coaches, male teachers and administrative personnel will meet at 6 p. m. today in the Walnut Twp. school cafeteria for their annual pre-basketball season meeting.

Dinner will be served at 6 p. m., with the business meeting to follow. Main topic of discussion will involve the site of the 1960 County Basketball Tournament.

Reports here indicate that coaches and school administrators are split practically down the middle on the future site for the tourney.

In yaars past, the tournament has been held at the County Fairgrounds' Coliseum. Many coaches maintain conditions are unsafe due to a sweating floor there.

* * *

LAST YEAR conditions became so intolerable that huge floor fans were placed next to the playing surface where players were exposed to possible serious injury.

School administrators maintain that parking facilities are advantageous at the Coliseum, plus the fact that the coliseum is for the use of county residents and should be ulitized.

Coaches favor transferring the tourney to the newly erected Circleville High School gymnasium which will house the same number of fans under more comfortable and safe conditions.

All school personnel agree that tonight's meeting will be interesting.

U.S. A-Chief Tells of Pace Set by Soviet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviets show a remarkable ability to get an atomic energy project moving in a hurry, says Chairman John A. McCone of the Atomic Energy Commission.

But McCone, just back from a Soviet tour with other U.S. experts said he felt the U.S. program of peaceful uses of atomic energy is "considerably more advanced."

McCone told a news conference Tuesday he was shown a thermonuclear machine at Leningrad which the Soviets said they built and got into operation in four months.

It would have taken this country a lot longer, he said, and British scientists estimated it would take them two years.

McCone said the United States must "find a way to cut down our lead time to a minimum" on critical projects. He pointed out, however, the inherent lack of speed in the democratic processes that required getting things approved on various levels of government.

McCone led a party of six American atomic specialists in a six-day tour of Soviet civilian atomic installations. McCone said U.S. developments in nuclear power, controlled thermonuclear fusion and high energy physics are examples of fields in which he said the United states is ahead.

Gotham Cops Urged To Use Billyclubs

NEW YORK (AP)—"A crack around the legs will do them no harm and will cure a lot of this juvenile delinquency," says City Council Majority Leader Joseph T. Sharkey, a Brooklyn Democrat. He spoke Tuesday before the Council adopted a resolution urging Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy to order policemen to carry nightsticks on all shifts. Police now carry the long sticks only at night.

Ohioan on Supreme Court Is Living 'in Goldfish Bowl'

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Everyone wants to see the new giraffe in the zoo," Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart observed.

He was referring to himself, and his career on the highest bench that started just a year ago. So many people want to see the Ohioan who—at 44—is easily the youngest member of the nation's highest court.

But Stewart has to refuse most of the many invitations he receives to speak, to attend parties, to write articles. He says he simply is too occupied with his work.

He talked about his job the other day in his office. As he figures it, he participated in perhaps 150 cases a year when he was on the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati.

That compares, he said, with 1,800 cases decided by the Supreme Court in the last year—and he had to read every one.

"That means working almost every night at home," he said. "I have a hideaway on the third floor where I read. Also I'm usually here (in his office) Saturdays.

"Sometimes I'm interrupted in my reading at home by my two older children, asking help on their homework. I'm glad to do it, too."

Stewart is proud of his children: Harriet, 14, Potter Jr., 11, and David, 8. Harriet is at Madeira School in suburban Virginia, Potter attends St. Albans in Washington. Both are private schools.

David goes to Jackson public school in the Georgetown section of Washington, where the Stewarts have rented a house.

"Harriet, the oldest, is an excellent student," her father said. "Potter was just elected president of the sixth grade."

Stewart has a cardinal rule that homework must be completed before Harriet and Potter may watch television. Usually, that means they don't get to watch much.

"But, David, the youngest, is quite a TV fan," he said.

The justice himself watches only an occasional football or world series baseball game. He says he hardly has much time for outside reading, let alone time for television.

He manages to read the New York Times and Washington Post every morning. Currently he is reading a novel about Washington politics, "Advise and Consent."

How would he describe the work of a Supreme Court justice? As he put it in an address to a group of lawyers a few weeks ago, it's much like the work of federal judges elsewhere—with this difference:

"The tempo is faster, the pressures greater, the conflicts sharper.

"There is the ever-present consciousness, at least for a newcomer, that he is functioning in a goldfish bowl—the uncomfortable feeling, as one of my colleagues has put it, that everything he writes is chiseled in stone."

Mile of Pennies Drive Ended Short of Goal

Circleville High School Band Mothers today announced the final collection of the Mile of Pennies campaign which ended Monday. The collection came within 260 feet of the intended goal, 5,280 feet.

The total collection was $606.76 which was $31 short of the goal, $638.

A weekly individual prize was awarded to the three pupils turning in the greatest number of feet of pennies. Also a prize was given to each elementary school room that turned in the largest number of feet of pennies during the campaign.

Folders for the Mile of Pennies drive were donated by the Circleville Savings and Banking Company. Andy's Restaurant, 504 S. Court St., donated the proceeds of the oversized hamburgers which he auctioned off Friday at the Pumpkin Show to the Band Mothers drive.

This week's individual prize winners were—1. P. D. Ehmley, senior band—43 ft.; 2. Elaine Goldschmidt, senior band—39 ft.; 3. Kay Kline, Wayne Twp. School—37 ft.

School rooms receiving awards are—Circleville Junior High School grade 8— 202 ft.; Corwin St., grade 1—53 ft.; Wayne Twp. grade 5—185 ft.; Mound St., grade 2—55 ft.; and South Court, grade 5—69 ft.

Walnut St., grade 1 — 60 ft.; Franklin St., grade 4—57 ft.; High Street, grade 5—132 ft.; and Atwater, grade 4—172 ft.

Beware of Food Fads

Recent research suggests that, through atomic science, alcohol may be extracted from wheat as a fuel on a commercial basis. That could eat into the wheat surplus, particularly that part of it not desirable for milling and baking.

Another line of inquiry is proceeding in the grain sorghums. These, too, tend to pile up because production is greater than demand for feed. Yet the sorghums have a heavy starch potential and might provide an important base for industrial production.

While these trends promise increased grain consumption, nutritionists are inquiring into the effect of various foods on the heart and arteries. The villain, according to one medical school of thought, is cholesterol, a fatty substance that shuts off circulation if too much of it builds up in the circulatory system.

Some scientists have suspected a number of causes, including potatoes and the grain cereals. Word got out that maybe you ought to go slow on potatoes and cereals. As a result potato consumption per capita in the U. S. went down from 146 pounds in 1938 to 107 pounds in 1958. Consumption of grain cereals declined from 204 pounds per capita in 1938 to 146 pounds last year.

Now the experts are getting off that scent, more or leess, and putting sugar at the top of the list of suspects. They're putting bread and potatoes back on the list of pantry staples that people ought to eat more of.

Consumption of sugar has remained about the same per capita through the years. Now sugar producers had better get on their guard. If the nutrition faddists go after sugar as they once did after bread and potatoes, the producers of that commodity will be compelled to undertake a fight against declining consumption similar to that of the cereal and potato producers.

There is a constant struggle against food prejudice. It is very much a factor in the market places. It would be well if the experts were sure of their ground before proceeding. But perhaps that would be too much to expect of them.

Need More Pre-Marriage Info

Did you know that you are (or were) "preconditioned" to success or failure in marriage? So says a family sociologist.

Judson Landis, staff member of the University of California, contends the roots of marriage troubles go back to early experiences of individuals in their own families. If the individuals come from happy families, their chances of a happy marriage are good. Otherwise not.

Landis admitted that this fact would probably not keep any young people from marrying. But he said that persons from unhappy families should recognize that they are "poor risks" and have to work that much harder to make their own marriages successful. Recognizing the handicap from family background is the first step in achieving a successful relationship, he added.

Landis' main point for students is the importance of young people ascertaining what they and their would-be mate are really like. He deplored the fact that dating and courtship years often are spent without learning the elementary facts — especially how each prospective marriage partner thinks and feels about things important to the other.

Late Sleeper Becomes Actor

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—"Some people don't like to get up in the morning," said Eddie Jackson, "So they go into show business."

"That's how it was with me. I couldn't get up early enough to look for any other kind of work," he said.

Dixieland music is back, bigger than ever, and "Struttin' Eddie," who has been singing it for 45 years, is cashing in on the boom.

"I don't know any other kind of music. I like the beat of rock 'n' roll, but I can't catch the lyrics," he said.

"If you put a gun to my head and asked me to name three words in any rock 'n' roll tune, I couldn't do it—not even to save my life."

The banjo-eyed veteran, slowed up a bit by a double hernia operation a few years ago, is still one of the most active survivors of the heyday of vaudeville. Eddie, now 63, started as a singing waiter in Brooklyn. He teamed in his salad past with Jimmy Durante and the late Lou Clayton, and played at the old Palace here, the mecca of vaudeville, no less than 29 times.

Jackson loves to recall the Prohibition Era of the flaming 1920s.

"There was a lot of money around then, and it was being spent," he said. "Anything they couldn't get is what people wanted —so they all seemed to want to drink.

"But I don't miss the night clubs. Those were closed-door days. They had some rough college boys around then who aren't around now—if you get what I mean.

"People don't go for the night clubs so much now. They all stay home and keep their television sets warm. I do myself."

As he talked of the old days, Eddie cocked his head sideways as if he were listening to the faint echo of a distant song.

"The greatest entertainer that ever lived was Al Jolson," he said. "No man ever thrilled me like that man."

Eddie came from a poor family —his father was a pushcart peddler—and knew lean years of struggle himself.

"I believe in doing the other fellow good; I never hurt anybody in my life," he said. "I don't mind how big the other fellow's yacht is, or how green his yard is—just so there's a little green in my own yard."

Moonshine Business Booming

By George Sokolsky

It does not seem possible, but moonshining has developed into a big industry and it is estimated that from 40,000 to 60,000 persons are engaged in producing moonshine liquor and that perhaps 150,000 more are engaged in the distribution and sale of the stuff.

What does this mean in terms of government? It can only mean that just as local governments are unable to deal with the increase in major crimes and the fact that the age of the criminal is consistently lower, year by year, so is the Federal Government unable to enforce its laws because when taxes on a commodity make that commodity too costly, contraband sales set in. In 1958, more than 20,000 illegal stills were seized and according to statistics gathered by Licensed Beverage Industries, Inc., their production amounted to about 55,000,000 gallons of moonshine liquor which would gross about $1,000,000,000.

According to the same source perhaps 20 percent of all liquor consumed in this country in 1958, was non-taxed moonshine. This is an enormous percentage, particularly as it is now 26 years after Prohibition was abolished and the bootlegger is supposed to be out of business.

Again, the same thing is true of moonshining that is true of most other evasive crimes; they cannot be committed without the consent of government officials, particularly at the lower level. The fact is that it takes 10 pounds of sugar to make a gallong of moonshine. Therefore the wholesaler who sells large quantities of sugar to those who can have no proper use for sugar in such huge dimensions must have some knowledge of the reason for the purchase. There must be bankers or factors who finance these operations and whose activities can be traced by efficient government supervision.

To the distillers, naturally, this is a form of competition that is annoying, but the real issue is tax evasion. Whenever a group is enabled to evade taxes, by whatever method, whether it is shipping money to Switzerland or gypping the customs by bringing in dresses from Paris, the rest of us have to pay more taxes. There can be no excuse for creating a privileged class of those who do not pay taxes.

The moonshiner exists because he is able to evade the excise tax on liquor. If he had to pay $10.50 a gallon Federal excise tax, plus state taxes, he would go out of business. Whatever he pays to state and county officials as graft is less than $10.50 a gallon. Therefore, he can stay in business. The moonshiner can sell his liquor, after paying graft and taking his profit, for about half the price that tax-paid liquor costs.

The size of moonshining is now so large that it needs to be taken seriously. The usual crime syndicates have gone into the business and in cities such as New York, Cleveland and Detroit, the business now flourishes on a large scale. The heaviest concentration of moonshine stills is in the Southeastern states, although there is considerable activity of this kind in New York, Pennsylvania and Oklahoma.

Some people like moonshine liquor. They get a kick out of the illegality of it. They are thrilled by the escapade of doing something they ought not to do. But the game is not worth the candle because all the safety devices that the law has put upon the distilling industry disappear in moonshining. Also, it gives to the criminal elements another commodity in which they can deal freely, designating markets, dividing territories and killing those who stand in their way.

One of the fundamental moral problems in the United States is the re-establishment of the authority of the law and the punishment of those who violate the law. Those who push heroin or marijuana or moonshine whiskey are all of the same ilk; they violate the law, organize crime syndicates and disturb society.

Invariably they are able to operate because some law enforcement agency is unable or unwilling to do its duty, or has been so corrupted that it has actually become part of the crime syndicate. These racketeers move in wherever it is possible. They are in narcotics, in moonshine whiskey, in labor unions, even in what has heretofore been regarded as legitimate business. They have their own lawyers and bankers. They are a menace to established government because they are organized to violate the law and evade taxes.

You're Telling Me!

New acturial tables disclose that slender people live longer. Now you know why insurance companies take a narrow viewpoint.

Overweight people can still live to a ripe old age, however. At least they've got a fat chance.

One fact about both men and women hasn't changed. They die very late in life.

The actuaries learned that women are five pounds lighter than they were 30 years ago. Slow process, that reducing.

Women still outlive men, their statistics say. Women's figures may lie, but their statistics don't.

It's no wonder women die later than men. Most women won't admit they're that old.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

SAM LEVENSON reports that he dropped into a Chinese restaurant recently and was mildly astonished to note that the menu featured pizza pie. Summoning the manager, he demanded, "How come a chop suey joint serves an Italian dish like pizza?"

"We gotta," explained the manager. "The demand is terrific. You see, this is a Jewish neighborhood."

Home from a trek through darkest Africa with his wife, an explorer confided to J. W. Cunningham that the highlight of the expedition was the day they were captured by a band of cannibals. The chief, luckily, proved to be something of an epicure. "I never eat a person who has passed the age of forty," he announced.

"That was the moment," recalled the explorer, "that I heard my wife give her correct age for the first time in public."

TV Can Make You Fat

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Most of you can blame lack of will power if you are fat. You simply eat too much.

But you can also justifiably place a good share of the blame on the advent of the invention of television, the home freezer and all of our other labor-saving devices.

Supermarkets are wonderful places in which to buy the family's groceries. The only problem is that they make it too easy to buy too much.

This, coupled with the ease of storing food in home freeers and refrigerators, has helped change our shopping habits—and our figures.

Not so many years ago when a homemaker went shopping she bought only enough food to last for two or three days. That's about all she could carry in her arms or in the youngster's wagon. Besides, that's all she could store conveniently at home.

Now the housewife takes the family car when she goes shopping and she often buys enough to last a week or more.

She doesn't buy one loaf of bread, she gets two or three, maybe even four. Instead of getting one box of cookies, she picks up three. She doesn't get one candy bar, she buys a box of them.

One ice cream bar? Of course not. She has a freezer at home, so she buys half a dozen, or possibly a whole dozen.

As I said, she buys enough to last a week. However, often it does not last that long.

When the goodies are in the house the temptation is great to eat them. One ice cream bar no longer suffices. There's always another one in the freezer and it's a simple matter to get it.

Televiewing, of course, is an accessory after the fact. It has become a national habit to nibble while watching TV.

By ten p. m. that fullness you felt after dinner has worn off. With commercial after commercial appealing to your appetite, it's natural that you beat a path to the refrigerator, pantry or freezer.

And you lose another round in the battle of the bulge.

Question and Answer

A. B.: How long after the last period of a woman going through the menopause is she safe from becoming pregnant?

Answer: There is no absolute rule as to how long after the cessation of menstruation the possibility of pregnancy will end. To be reasonably safe, several years without any menstrual flow should be permitted to elapse.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — If Fidel Castro is earnest about wanting a democratic Cuba, then why all the blood?

Prime Minister Castro has been in effect dictator since his rebel army last New Year's Day threw out Fulgencio Batista's dictatorship and took over.

He has called for land reforms, probably badly needed, and other social changes. But Cuba is in growing turmoil. Criticism of his regime is rising.

He was an inspired rebel military leader but now gives the impression of a man too emotional, chaotic and disorganized to run a government.

As the heat increases, he thinks of vengeance. He calls for death for his enemies by firing squads and depends not on ballots but on mobs for support.

His government suspended Congress Jan. 6, put off new elections for 18 to 24 months, suspended criminal courts, and, through military courts, rolled up 555 executions by firing squads.

Yet he said Cuba will remain a democracy. "We are men of the law."

The firing squads worked for months, were finally stopped. But his troubles continued. This week he summoned 250,000 Cubans to a rally in Havana.

He outdid Hollywood by arriving in a helicopter, gun in hand, denounced the United States and asked the mob for approval for new firing squads. He got it.

This was reminiscent of last January when the firing squad execution of so-called war criminals was being severely criticized abroad and he called together a rally of a million Cubans to approve what he was doing to his enemies.

His idea of justice was to try a foe in a sports stadium, with not a single witness appearing in his defense, before 18,000 people. The crowd included American newspapermen his government invited down to see the spectacle.

This was what happened in the case of Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco, who had directed Batista's army operations against Castro. There was never any doubt of the outcome: the major was sentenced to death before a firing squad.

When Castro addresses a mob he harangues, he screams, he appeals to hate in a way Hitler or Mussolini might have found refreshing.

He denies he is a Communist but turns with fury on any who say he is or complain that Communists are infiltrating his government.

He has done this three times to men once close to him.

On Oct. 19 Maj. Hubert Matos, one of Castro's most respected revolutionary leaders, resigned as commander of Camaguey province, charging the Castro regime was being penetrated by Communists.

Castro had him arrested and before Monday night's mob virtually signed the major's death warrant by asking approval for Matos' execution by a firing squad. The mob responded: "Firing squads! Firing squads!"

On July 13 Manuel Urrutia, Castro's handpicked president, blasted Cuban Communists although declaring Castro's government "has absolutely nothing to do with Communists." Why this threw Castro into an emotional spin is not clear. But it did. He accused Urrutia of "near treason."

On July 17 Castro denounced Urrutia on television and, in a play for mob support against the President, resigned as prime minister. A few hours later Urrutia resigned. Then Castro went back as prime minister.

The most sensational case was that of Maj. Pedro Luis Diaz Lanz, who resigned June 30 as Cuban air force chief, fled to the United States, and told a Senate committee Castro was a Communist. Cuban officials called him a liar.

On Oct. 19 — the same day Matos resigned — Havana was plastered with leaflets from a plane flying over Havana. This was the latest of several similar leaflet air drops.

The former air force chief several days ago told U.S. authorities he had piloted an unarmed aircraft over Havana last Wednesday. Later he publicly denied this statement. He is in the United States.

These various episodes so inflamed Castro that at Monday's rally he denounced the United States. The U. S. State Department protested in a stiff reply. The episode of the plane put this country in an embarrassing fix.

But Castro didn't gain anything, except mob approval, for his performance. The net result: tattered relations between Cuba and the United States.

Lake County Bank Takes Over Stamps

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Not long after he began his present term, State Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson announced that he felt deserving Democrats should have the sales tax stamp agency commissions many banks were collecting.

Now, in Lake County, a number of the Democrats to whom Ferguson assigned agencies Sept. 30 have turned their selling job over to the Lake County National Bank and its branches. The bank, which had handled the stamp sales before Ferguson revoked their agencies, shares the one per cent commission with the appointed agents.

Joseph E. Sarosy, chairman of the Democratic executive committee of Lake County, disclosed Tuesday that the agent-appointees had made the agreement with the bank. But he declined to say what the commission-splitting arrangement was.

Sarosy had been appointed an agent in Painesville. The only agent in central Lake County prior to Sarosy's appointment and after Ferguson had revoked the bank's agency was the county treasurer. His commissions had to be returned to the county general fund, and the fund was enriched about $9,000 last year from this source, Mrs. Catharine B. Rose, deputy county treasurer said. Now, she said, sales at the county courthouse office of the treasurer have been dropping off.

First Astronaut Is Cinch To Be Very Frightened Flier

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—What will happen to the first man shot into space?

"He'll get the hell scared out of him."

That is a comment from Dr. Fred W. Berner, the man who is helping to put the "finishing touches" on the nation's seven astronauts.

Dr. Berner is technical director of research at the Aero Space Medical Laboratory at Wright Air Development Center, Dayton. He spoke Tuesday night to members of the Central Ohio section of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

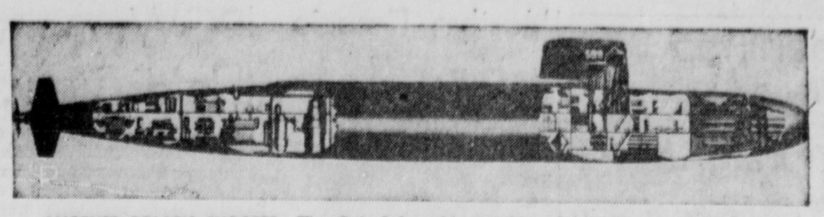

Space travel for man is not so simple after all, he explained. Combatting weightlessness — zero gravity — and meeting human needs are two of the big problems. Dr. Berner's job deals with the problems affecting man—Psychological, physiological, isolation, claustrophobia, food, water, oxygen and body chemical processes. The serious problems in interplanetary travel, he said, involve weight, space and power.

"We don't know how the body is going to react under the long time gravity zero," he said, speaking of the point when man, if not strapped down, will float. "If anybody here can develop a means of creating gravity zero for five minutes, let me know."

Thus far, by use of jet plane at high altitude and steep dives, gravity zero has been maintained for about 30 seconds.

Dr. Berner said man's entry into space will be by rocket penetration and early return such as was accomplished with two monkeys. And the first space trip will come when scientists "perfect the business of where (the first man up) is going to light."

Questioned by the chemical engineers on Soviet progress, Dr. Berner replied: "Don't underestimate the Russians." He also said, in reply to questions, that space travel in event of an international conflict would be of advantage if a space ship could be maneuvered within 400 miles of earth.

ANOTHER POLARIS SHOOTER—The Oct. 3 launching at Mare Island Naval shipyard, Vallejo, Calif., finds this undersea weapon sliding into the deep. It is the nuclear sub Theodore Roosevelt, third such to be built on the west coast and latest addition to the U. S. Navy's Polaris missile fleet. The cutaway sketch shows the engine room at far left, and the reactor room next to it. Enclosed middle section is the missile area. Toward the bow are the control room, crew quarters and forward torpedo room. The T.R. has 16 firing tubes for the 1,500-mile Polaris missiles. The 6,700-ton sub is 380-plus feet long.

Officials Press Probe Into Woman's Death

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Allen County officials are continuing their probe in the death of Mrs. Fay Brown, 54. She was shot in front of her home Monday. Sheriff's deputies have been unable to obtain any coherent information from the victim's son, Darrell, 21, in custody since early Tuesday.

4-H Program Highlights Saltcreek Twp. PTO Meeting

Discussion of levies to be voted on by Logan Elm voters, 4-H Achievement awards, purchasing window shades for the older section of the school and a talk by George Hamrick, County Agent, were highlights of the Saltcreek PTO meeting held Monday evening.

Carl Anderson presided at the session held in the school auditorium. Mr. H. A. Strous, membership drive chairman, reported the results of the drive which ended Monday. Top room honors went to the 4th grade students and their teacher, Miss Margaret Chilcote with 82 members.

Mrs. Florence Bochert's 1st grade and Dale Drake's 6th grade won second and third place awards. Individual winners were Lynn Kay Fraunfelter with 36 memberships, followed by Darlene Collins and Lorna Poling and Lynda Young who tied for third place.

On the recommendation of the school needs committee the membership agreed to purchase new window shades for the front of the older section of the school as well as first aid kits for the first eight grades and two record players for the use of the lower grades.

The president named the teachers of the first four grades to the program committee for November and asked Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dresbach, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Moss, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Speakman and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Justice to serve as the refreshment committee. It was also decided to hold future PTO meetings at 7:30 p. m.

Logan Elm Superintendent, Carl Burger, distributed information sheets on the school levies to come up for vote in next week's election. He explained the need for the funds requested. The operating teacher's salaries, to provide which is needed to continue paying teacher's alaries, to provide for fuel, light, janitorial services and supplies. A two and one-half mill levy, he explained, is needed for one year to raise forty-six thousand dollars to buy equipment for the new high school.

For the program, devotions were conducted by Barbara Jenkins. 4-H Advisors, Miss Donna Hardman, Francis Fraunfleter, Robert Collins, Judson Beougner and Raymond Hedges made achievement awards to 35 members of the two Saltcreek clubs.

George Hamrick, county agent, spoke briefly emphasizing the good to be gained from keeping boys and girls busy in 4-H and other activities. A piano solo by Linda McFadden and two numbers by the junior orchestra under the direction of R. H. Shaw completed the program.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Spangler, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Van Fossen.

28 Children Celebrate Halloween

Junior Modern Woodmen Club held its annual Halloween Party Tuesday night in the club rooms of the Masonic Temple.

Twenty-eight children dressed as barnyard animals, witches, farmers, society ladies, sailors, Indians, storybook characters and High School majorettes were present.

Rita Garrett and Judy Gatrell tied for the prettiest; Donna and Debbie Whaley, witches, were named the ugliest and Ellen Whaley, made up as an Indian maiden was awarded a prize for the most characteristic.

Club director Ruby Cross, assisted by club officers, served donuts, cider and candy to the group.

Mothers present were Mrs. Esther Gattrell, Mrs. Pauline Garrett and Mrs. Margaret Bunn.

Initiation exercises will be held at the next meeting November 18th.

Teenage Class Elects Officers

Election of officers was held when the Senior Teenage Class of the Christian Union Church met in the home of their teacher, Mrs. Laura Maxwell Monday.

Officers elected were: Ethel Ramey, president; Butch Adkins, vice president; Jane Huff, secretary; Barbara Knece, treasurer; Grover Temple, assisting secretary; and Jane Huff, news reporter.

Following the devotional period, games and refreshments were enjoyed by the group. Plans for the next class meeting have not been scheduled.

Tea & Program Slated Wednesday

A Tea and Program will be held by the Pickaway County Committee of the Martha Kinney Cooper Ohioana Library Association at 3 p. m. Wednesday.

The Tea will be held in the home of Mrs. John W. Eshelman, 484 N. Pickaway St. The program will feature a speech by Mahonri Sharp Young on "Arts and Letters and Lovely Ohio Homes".

Eastern Star Joins Society

Circleville Chapter No. 90 held its regular meeting Tuesday evening in the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Donna Foreman, Worthy Matron was in charge of the business meeting. The Chapter voted a membership to the Pickaway County Historical Society. Leslie Hines was appointed as a representative to the Pickaway County Traffic Safety Committee.

Election of officers for the year 1959-1960 will be held at the November 10th meeting. All members are urged to be present to cast their ballots.

Yearly dues will be payable November 11. Members are asked to pay the secretary, Mrs. Emma Curlett.

PC Womens Republican Club Holds Luncheon-Meeting

About 50 members and guests of the Pickaway County Women's Republican Club were present at New Holland Methodist Church to observe their Halloween Casserole Luncheon and Meeting Monday.

Table arrangements and decorations for the fall season were made by Mrs. Roy Stewart, Mrs. L. M. Tarbill and Mrs. Merton Tootle.

Following the luncheon, the business session opened with prayer by Mrs. Elmer Siegle. Pledge to the flag was led by Miss Betty McCoy.

A review of the 20th Annual Fall Conference of the Ohio Federation of Republican Women's Organizations was reported, with discussions and remarks. A review of the Hawaiian Party, celebrating Hawaii being admitted into the Union as our 50th State was given by Mrs. Wilbur Gillespie. Others who attended were Mrs. Herbert E. Louis, Mrs. William Lucas and Mrs. Donna Wagner.

Special recognition was given to Mrs. Theron Loose, who celebrated her 60th wedding anniversary on October 15, and to Mrs. Herbert E. Louis, wife of Herbert E. Louis, former State Republican Representative, who was celebrating her 49th wedding anniversary Monday.

It was voted to donate Christmas wrapped gift packages to be given to the Orient State School for Christmas. Gifts are to be brought to the November 23rd meeting at the home of Mrs. Elmer Siegle, Ashville.

Hostesses were Mrs. Wilbur Gillespie, chairman, Miss Mary Withgott, Miss Margaret Withgott, Mrs. Irvin Yoeman, Mrs. Carl Binns, Mrs. Theron Loose, Mrs. Merton Tootle, Mrs. Russell Ebert. Mrs. Mrs. William Lucas, Mrs. Herbert E. Louis, Mrs. Roy Stewart, Mrs. T. C. Gooley, Mrs. L. M. Tarbill and Mrs. Donna Wagner.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Curlett and Misses Alice and Mary Curlett, Dayton, visited last week with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Curlett, Montecello Ave. It was the first time their guests had seen the Pumpkin Show.

Guest Speaker Slated At B&P Women's Club

The Business and Professional Women's Club will hold its meeting at 6:30 p. m. Thursday, November 12, at Pickaway Arms.

The Rev. John Wilson, Columbus, executive secretary of the Ohio Council of Churches, will be guest speaker.

Wife Preservers

A scouring pad, dipped in concentrated soap or detergent suds, will remove dirt on the white rubber part of sneakers or baby toys.

Guild No. 36 Observes Halloween

Members of Berger Hospital Guild No. 36 were dressed in Halloween costumes last evening when they met in the home of Mrs. Ronald List, Route 1.

Plans were completed for the annual bazaar to be held November 13th in the Armory. Guild No. 36 members will be selling pocketbooks, stoles, sweaters, dish cloths, cookbooks and chances on a clock and stole.

Jean Binkley read a letter from Mr. Williamson, Berger Hospital Administrator, explaining hospital needs.

The next meeting will be held in Shade's Restaurant, Canal Winchester, on November 18th. Those attending are asked to contact Mrs. John Cockrell, GR 4-4377 for reservations by November 13th.

Mrs. Don Hurley, 124½ Watt St., will host the December 16th meeting.

Trailmakers Hold Candy Exchange

Mrs. Bill Ankrom, 415 N. Pickaway St., was hostess to the Trailmakers Class of Calvary EUB Church Tuesday evening. There were 14 members present.

Mrs. Dorothy Wise was in charge of devotions. She concluded with a reading, "A Mighty Fortress". The group then repeated the Lord's Prayer.

The business meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. Andrew Goeller. The group voted to donate clothing to needy children at Thanksgiving in place of the usual food baskets.

During the social hour, conducted by Mrs. Goeller, prizes were awarded to Mrs. Manley Carothers and Mrs. G. E. Niswender.

At the close of the evening, a home-made candy exchange was held and refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Niswender.

Local Women Attend OFWC Conference

Tuesday, members of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs attended the district conference held in the McKendree Methodist Church, Columbus.

Mrs. Carl A. Weinman, president of OFWC, told of her tour of Asia with a group of women from the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Weinman and Mrs. Ned Newcomer, Director of Juniors for Ohio, gave a report on the GFWC Board Meeting in Washington.

Both speakers devoted much time to reporting their experiences during a visit to Postal Department where they were shown a display of obscene literature which is being sent through the mails to children whose names the publishers are able to secure.

Mrs. Weinman told of seeing sewing machines donated by clubwomen, through CARE, being used 24 hours a day near Manila. She also told of watching the distribution of 5000 school kits by American Clubwomen in Hong Kong, which were donated to the children, about half of whom are refugees from Red China.

The theme of the conference was "House of Treasures". Following a short tour into the house, a dramatization of the departments of work of the Ohio Federation was given.

Mrs. Ralph Dunkel, district music chairman sang, "Bless This House". Also participating in the day's program was Mrs. William Speakman, president of Circleville Junior Women's Club, who led the Junior pledge.

Attending the conference from Circleville in addition to Mrs. Speakman and Mrs. Dunkel were Mrs. Richard Pettit, Mrs. Earl Wolfe, Mrs. Sterling Poling, Mrs. Earl Weaver, Mrs. Forrest Croman and Mrs. Homer Reber.

Ladies Aid Plans Wednesday Meeting

Ladies Aid of Morris EUB Church will hold its meeting in the home of Mrs. Carl Anderson, Route 4, at 2 p. m. Wednesday. Mrs. Anderson will be assisted by Mrs. Minnie Kerns.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

You'll Be Sorry, Young Lady

DEAR ABBY: My problem has been getting me down. I have been dating a young man who means nothing to me. He says he loves me. I have told him honestly I like him only as a friend. I feel guilty letting him spend his money on me but he begs me to go out with him anyway. When I turn him down (I date others, too) he cries and it breaks my heart. He calls me every single day! He knows I go with him because I feel sorry for him, but he says he is living in hopes that one day I will love him like he loves me. I am 20 and he is 23. When I kiss him good night, I gag.

SORRY FOR HIM

DEAR SORRY: Girls who go with men because they "feel sorry for them" usually wind up feeling sorrier for themselves. Send him on his way. He'll live.

DEAR ABBY: I am a man who has done a hitch in the Navy and has been around quite a bit. I am 33 and have been going with a woman who is 29. I like a woman to be honest with me as we talked over our past lives out-in-the-open like. I told her about my past and then she commenced to tell me about hers. At first she said there were only three men in her life. This didn't bother me much because I figured it was average. Every time we get on the subject she brings up another one. The total is now up to eleven. I am very upset about this and wonder if maybe she is not the girl for me. What do you advise?

BEEN AROUND

DEAR BEEN: If she gets to 12—sell!

DEAR ABBY: I am a Senior at college so you know I'm no moron. I've been dating this girl who is engaged to a man who goes to another college. I know for a fact that this girl thinks more of me than she does of her fiance. I can tell by the way she kisses me. My problem is she won't admit it. She won't do anything about it (like send her ring back). But I know she'd like to. How can I get her to break off with the other guy and be all mine?

FLIPPED

DEAR FLIPPED: (and I do think you have!): Do you realize that you are fighting for the "love" of a girl who is engaged to one man and romancing with another? If you think a wedding ring would stop her circulation, you'd better think again. Take a good look at her in daylight.

Do you have a problem? For a personal reply, write to Abby, in care of this newspaper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Kingston News Report

By Miss Margaret Thomas
Phone NI 2-3495

Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett, who was elected a delegate to the Altrusa Conference of the 5th District, spent from Friday evening to Sunday, in Akron where she stayed with a group of delegates at the Mayflower Hotel.

One of the highlights of the weekend was a conducted tour through the Stan-Hywet Museum. This was originally the 60-room home of Mr. Seiberling, who was the founder of the Akron Rubber Co.

It is built in English architecture and furnished with many wonderful and valuable pieces of art.

They also were in Mansfield where they visited the Kingswood Gardens to see the beautiful Chrysanthemum Show.

Mr. and Mrs. David Crouse Jr., of Lake White, have recently become the owners of Lawson's Restaurant located at the northern edge of Waverly.

• • •

THE CROUSES are former residents of Kingston and are well known in Ross County where they are called Dave and Louise. They have named their new enterprise "The Crouse House," and report that they will install pizza ovens along with other improvements.

Since Dave is busy with his duties at the Waverly State Bank, where he is vice president, and Louise is a teacher in the Jasper schools, they have engaged Bill Lawson to manage the business. He has been associated with the restaurant since it opened several years ago, so is familiar with its operation.

We called attention to the 96th birthday of Mr. Charlie Edler which was celebrated Oct. 4 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Asa Parks. Mr. Edler (Grandpa) is still up and about, but is not in Kingston, as reported.

Just recently he has gone to stay at the Gospel Light Nursing Home, 15 S. Hickory St., Chillicothe, where his wife "Mollie" is being cared for, because of a hip injury she suffered some time ago.

On Friday the Edlers observed their 69th wedding anniversary. No celebration was planned, but members of the family called to congratulate them, and friends sent cards and notes of greeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Edler have a son, Mr. Charles W. Edler, besides the daughter already mentioned, and seven grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Mr. Edler spent much of his life farming in Ross County, but because of ill health had to give it up. For 21 years he was custodian of the Methodist Church and no one could ever ring the bell like Grandpa. Later he was care-taker of the old grade school building on Church Street for eight years.

Thus he is widely known in this area and he and his wife are highly respected citizens.

Keep in mind the meeting Wednesday at the Methodist Church in observance of the Week of Prayer and Self-denial. All members of the four churches on the charge, with their families and friends, are invited to be present.

MR. AND MRS. William Gary spent Tuesday in Columbus. They have recently moved here from Columbus, and Mr. Gary is the new upholsterer who has opened a place of business on Main Street, next door to the Library.

Mrs. Blanche Long and cousin, Mr. W. S. Van Skiver visited his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Shellhorn, at Springfield Wednesday. Mrs. Shellhorn is recovering from a serious operation.

Mr. Robert Whitsel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Whitsel is in Grant Hospital where he was put in traction. He is suffering from an injury received while he was at work at the Meade Paper Co. in Chillicothe.

Pat Kelley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carson Kelley, was operated on in Chillicothe Hospital on Wednesday. Pat is the boy who was in a coma for 4 months in 1958, following a bicycle accident. This surgery had nothing to do with that injury, however.

Mrs. Lawrence Betz, the president, had charge of the meeting when the Ne Plus Ultra organization met at the Methodist Church, Tuesday evening. Miss Margaret Thomas presented the devotions.

The secretary, Mrs. Paul Miller, and the treasurer, Miss Mildred Holderman, gave their reports. The Traveling Basket was present and again started out.

The committee, appointed to investigate the cost of making sliding doors for the church kitchen, reported and were ordered to complete the work.

The pecans, which is the project of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, have arrived and some were sold to this group. The gift package of the evening was won by Mrs. James Search.

Miss Nancy Jones entertained with several piano solos, and Mrs. N. F. Bond played a group of popular numbers of "yester year", while refreshments were being served.

The committee in charge were Mrs. Charlie Miller, Mrs. Lawrence Kerns, Mrs. Paul Miller, Mrs. Barton Whitten, and Mrs. Rufus Kerns.

'STUPID THING' — That's what Virginia Arness, wife of the star of the "Gunsmoke" TV series, said about her suicide attempt in Honolulu. She told reporters she and her husband James, who plays marshal Matt Dillon on television, had been "having difficulties the last three years."

Mother Is Freed In Death of Child

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I did it; I know I did it," said the young mother accused of murdering her 3-year-old daughter.

"I don't want to go home," Elvera Ellis told her husband.

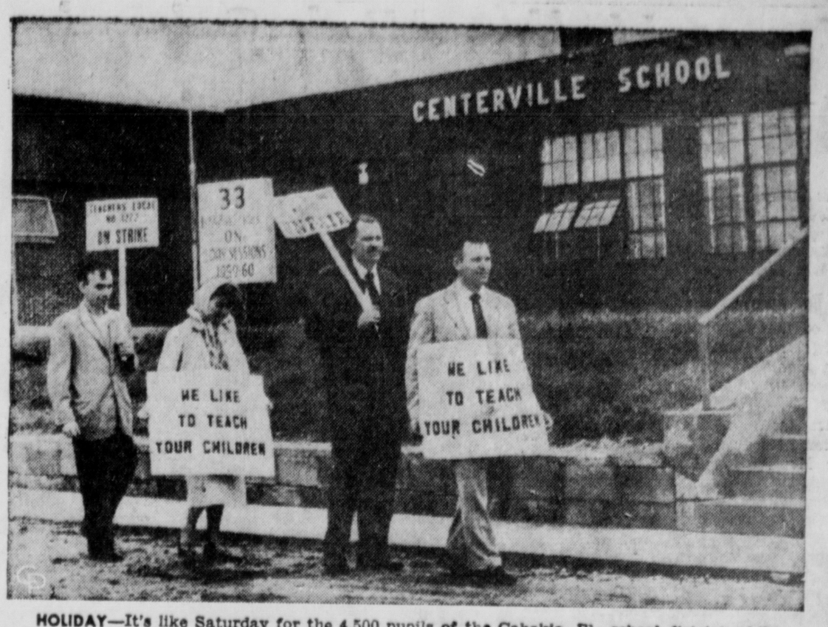

But Mrs. Ellis was free to go home anyway. She had just been acquitted.

The 21-year-old mother said she struck Gloria Duran — her daughter by a previous marriage — because Gloria hit her 10-month-old son.

There had been testimony that Gloria suffered previous head injuries and Superior Court Judge Walter H. Odemar decided: "I can't find her (the mother) guilty in the face of this testimony."

400 Men To Be Idled By Dayton Plant Move

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Some 400 workers will be idled here when the V-belt operations of Dayton Rubber Co. are moved to Springfield, Mo., by Nov. 13. A spokesman attributed the move to a "tremendous" increase in business

HOLIDAY—It's like Saturday for the 4,500 pupils of the Cahokia, Ill., school district while this is going on—a strike of 100 of the 180 teachers. They seek $300 pay increases, regret the strike but "will stick by their convictions."

Teays Valley High School Big Enough for 850 Pupils

Pictured above is the proposed Teays Valley consolidated high school. The bond issue for the construction and equipping the school will appear on Tuesday's off-year general election ballot.

The building's proposed site is 60 acres west and south of the intersection of Route 752 and the Circleville - Lockbourne Eastern Road, north of Ashville.

Plans call for the high school to be completed by September, 1961 to concur with the opening of schools that fall. It will provide adequate facilities for 850 pupils.

Based on 85 cents a cubic foot cost, the building will cost $1,423,750. Other fees and costs will include architects' fees, $87,600 or 6 per cent of the total amount;

* * *

FURNITURE and fixtures, $170,850; athletic field, $97,800; land, $60,000 or $1,000 an acre, and site improvement, $60,000.

The bond issue will not only care for the present student population but will meet enrollment for many years to come at the present expected rate of increased enrollment, according to school officials.

The building will be constructed so that additional classrooms and shops may be added at a minimum of cost.

The high school building would include facilities for English and foreign language, science and electronics, social science, mathematics;

Commercial, vocational home economics, vocational agriculture, manual arts, metal working and mechanics, driver training and automotive, arts and crafts, drafting, printing and photography;

Music, both vocal and instrumental; health therapy, library to seat 76 persons, study halls of 80 seats each, cafeteria with stage for double service;

* * *

A 1,200-SEAT auditorium; athletic field and stadium; a 2,000-seat gymnasium; speech therapy room; counselling rooms; sick rooms; a complete kitchen; general office rooms; storage rooms, and boys' and girls' rest rooms.

The plans call for the high school to have facilities sufficient to meet the requirements of the North Central Assn. of Secondary Schools.

Based on an average cost of 3.4 mills for 20 years, the additional tax would mean $3.40 per year for property valued at $1,000; $10.20 for $3,000 piece of property;

Property valued at $5,000 would be taxed $17 per year; $6,000 at $20.40 per year, and an $8,000 property at $27.20 per year.

These taxes are based on real estate property which is valued at half of its market value on the tax duplicate.

Buggy Drivers Told About Lighting Law

MILLERSBURG, Ohio (AP)—The current issue of the Sugar Creek Budget, a publication circulating through the Amish section, contains a reminder from the sheriff of Holmes County about buggy lights.

Sheriff Harry R. Weiss notes that under a new state law, effective Nov. 1, all vehicles travelling the highway at night at speeds under 20 miles an hour must have flashing red lights.

This safety measure will require some changes in the Amish country. Some of the newer buggy models are equipped with batteries and lights, but lack any flashing mechanism.

Westinghouse Votes Hike in Dividend Rate

NEW YORK (AP) — Westinghouse Electric Corp. directors today raised the annual dividend rate of common stock from $2 to $2.40 and recommended a 2-for-1 split of common shares.

The split proposal will be submitted to stockholders at a special meeting at Pittsburgh Jan. 4.

The company also reported the highest third quarter earnings in history.

Directors declared a dividend of 60 cents on the common — on which the quarterly dividend had been 50 cents—payable Dec. 1 to holders of record Nov. 9.

If the stock split is approved, it is expected that the quarterly dividend on the new common will be 30 cents a share.

President Mark W. Cresap and Board Chairman Gwilym A. Price said the action was taken after a review of operating results showing increased profit in the first nine months of this year on only slightly higher volume of sales than in the like period of 1958.

Westinghouse reported earnings of $56,225,000, equal to $3.17 per share, for the nine months ended Sept. 30, compared with $49,011,000 and $2.79 in the corresponding period of 1958.

Third quarter earnings totaled $22,075,000, equal to $1.25 per share, up from $19,038,000 and $1.09 a year ago.

Sales in the third quarter amounted to $494,189,000, compared with $460,538,000.

Trading in the company's stock was suspended for a time after the split was announced because of a crush of buy orders. When trading was resumed, the first sale was at $96, up $2 from the previous price and up $2.50 on the day.

Killer of Neighbor Gets Sentence in Pen

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Common Pleas Judge G. H. Birrell Wednesday sentenced John Sacha, 70, to life in Ohio Penitentiary for shooting Mrs. Katherine Propkowchow last August in a dispute over the boundary between their properties. Sacha was indicted for first-degree murder but allowed to plead guilty to second-degree and to a charge of shooting with intent to kill. He wounded Mrs. Propkopchow's husband, Joseph, and was sentenced to 20 years on that charge.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's Halloween time again and the gobblins and witches will find many apples available at stores and roadside food stands.

All types of apples are in plentiful supply, the quality is excellent and prices are low.

The other trappings of Halloween and the harvest season also are available in adequate numbers. This includes pumpkins, gourds and Indian corn.

Along more substantial lines, best buys appear mainly in veal and pork. Several chains are running weekend specials in leg of veal, pork loin, hams and rib ends of pork. The low pork prices reflect large runs of hogs at livestock markets.

On the other hand, a tendency for prices of sirloin steak to strengthen is apparent in some sections. More uniform are gains of 2 to 6 cents a dozen in egg prices in virtually all areas.

Other items in which stores are running specials include fish sticks, ground beef, ducks, sirloin, chuck roast, steaks and chicken legs.

For the second straight week iceberg lettuce is cheap and is listed as among the best buys in the vetetable section. Potatoes and onions, although slightly higher priced than last week, are still excellent buys.

Most of the popular vegetables —cabbage, cauliflower, tomatoes, Idaho potatoes, brussel sprouts— are in the good buy list. On the expensive side are snap beans and egg plants.

The good buy list in fruits is quite colorful — oranges, lemons and limes.

Grapefruit, pears and emperor grapes also come cheap.

Youngstown-Lorain Shriners Shun Purchase

CLEVELAND (AP)—Al Koran Temple of Shriners from a territory extending from Youngstown to Lorain voted 672 to 538 Wednesday night against purchase of the old Euclid Ave. Baptist Church building at East 18th St. and Euclid Ave. Al Koran Temple had a 60-day option to buy for $550,000 the 32-year-old Baptist building to replace its headquarters at East 36th St. and Chester Ave. razed earlier this year by fire.

Licking County Dems Give Nod to DiSalle

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — The Licking County Democratic executive committee has formally endorsed Gov. Michael V. DiSalle as a favorite son candidate for the 1960 presidential nomination.

A number of other county party organizations preceded Licking into the DiSalle camp, but the governor has not yet indicated he would accept the favorite son role.

Urbana Man Held In Poisoning Case

URBANA, Ohio (AP)—A first-degree murder charge has been filed against an Urbana man for the Oct. 18 cyanide death here of James (Chico) Gomes.

James G. Buckney of Urbana is being held without bond since his arrest Saturday and will be arraigned in Municipal Court Friday, Champaign County Prosecutor Richard Harris said.

Buckney has been the unidentified "mystery figure" in the case. He has consistently refused to make any statements except to deny his guilt, Harris said.

Gomes died after drinking some wine in his home Oct. 18. Wine bottles found in his backyard and his body were sent to the Bureau of Criminal Investigation and Identification in London.

450 Persons To Work County Voting Places during Tuesday's Election

The Pickaway County Board of Elections today announced the assignments of personnel to man the county and city's 45 precinct polling places Tuesday.

A total of 450 persons will man the polls from 6:30 a. m. until the precinct counting has been completed. Six persons will be on hand during the voting hours of 6:30 a. m. until 6:30 p. m.

Four persons will relieve the voting crew and count the ballots, tabulate the results and report into the election board office.

The 450-person total does not include officials of the election board and their tabulating crew of John A. Fissell, 354 Cedar Heights Road, and A. W. Goeller, 1040 Atwater Ave.

* * *

THE HERALD will have a reporter on hand to obtain the results as they arrive. The public may call The Herald GR 4-3131 for hour-to-hour tabulations.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown stated today that Ohio's 88 County Boards of Elections have completed appointing thousands of men and women to serve at the more than 12,500 polling places in the state at the off-year general election, Tuesday.

"September 15 was the deadline for such appointments", Brown said.

* * *

JUDGES AND CLERKS of elections' appointments are made with consideration of the recommendations made by the Republican and Democratic parties.

"Because of this, in his endeavor to insure the appointment of the best qualified precinct election officials," Brown said, "he has continuously kept state, district and county political leaders in both parties acquainted with a well-defined program of his office and the Boards of Elections for increased efficiency and honesty in the elections operation."

"This," he said, has been done through his educational program, including the mailing of a semi-monthly bulletin directed chiefly to Boards of Elections but containing information of direct bearing on party officials responsible for recommending election official appointees."

* * *

SECRETARY OF State Brown estimates that more than 130,000 persons will be in some manner allied with the conduct of the November 3 election, including the polling place judges and clerks to be appointed on or before September 15.

He had high praise for the men and women who serve in the polling places. "By and large they do a good job. Our efficiency has greatly increased in the past few years and fraud and irregularities are at a minimum," Secretary of State Brown said.

New Idle Claims Mounting in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—New claims for unemployment compensation mounted to 18,814 in the week ended Oct. 24, up from the 12,458 reported the previous week.

Bureau of Unemployment Compensation officials attributed the climb to the effects of the steel strike. In October last year, the average weekly total of new claims was 14,112.

Continuing claims of those unemployed one week or more increased from 51,870 to 57,233. The average number of claims on file in October last year was 93,672.

Biggest hike in new claims came from the Cleveland area, where the total jumped from 1,825 in the week ended Oct. 17, to 6,005 for the week ended Oct. 24. Furloughing of workers in industries short of steel was the principal cause of the big increase in the area.

Cost of Steel Strike Being Felt Good Now

Earnings, Payrolls Both Cut as Walkout Starts Taking Toll

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The cost of the big steel strike is beginning to show up in the figures. Whether they're earnings or payroll totals they aren't pleasant.

Stockholders are being told the net loss in income in the first months of the strike. But these figures have to be read against the background of the year as a whole if they're not to be misleading.

The metalworking companies also are reporting their third quarter and nine months earnings. In most instances these figures cover periods when neither the steel strike nor the copper work stoppage pinched. These statements also have to be read with the final three months in mind if they are to be given their true perspective.

But, first, here are the figures.

Fifteen steel companies have reported on their third quarter operations. Five of them report net losses. Two others, with some of their activities unaffected by the strike, reported in the black but much lower net income than the previous year. Most of those showing increased earnings are small companies not involved in the strike.

Combined, the 15 show a loss for the July-August-September quarter of nearly 49 million dollars. This compares with a net income of 124 million for the same companies in the 1958 third quarter. The second largest steel producer, Bethlehem, isn't included in the list.

But this year's loss must be considered in relation to what went before.

In the first six months of the year steel users were ordering a nine-month supply of steel so that they could ride out a three-month strike, which was the longest then expected.

The big earnings that the steel industry piled up in the first half of the year enabled them to turn in a pleasant report for the year to date.

Nineteen steel companies report their combined nine months earnings are 443½ million dollars, a third higher than the same companies reported in the like 1958 period—a good part of which was recession ridden.

The metalworking companies have gone through the summer quarter without many bruises. Most fabricators of steel and copper products didn't first feel the strikes until October.

In this group 37 companies show only five making less for the first nine months of the year than they did in the like period of 1958.

Combined, their earnings come to $86,891,000, or an increase of 70 per cent over what the same companies reported for the 1958 period.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Clear skies prevailed over the state during the night and temperatures again dipped to near or below the freezing point.

Temperatures ranged from 35 at Cleveland to 27 at Zanesville, while Columbus and Akron had 31.

Heavy fog formed along the Ohio River at Chesapeake and Marietta.

A high pressure controlling our weather has now moved to the lower St. Lawrence valley and our winds will return to a southerly flow with a slight warming trend for today and Friday.

Today will be dry with the earliest possibility of some light rain late Friday night.

Vega Rocket Plans Stalled By Walkout

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Space Chief T. Keith Glennan said the steel strike is delaying a crucial space program — the Vega rocket capable of putting up a Sputnik-size satellite.

He told the American Bankers Assn., in a prepared speech, that "this program, unfortunately, is now being set back by the shortages resulting from the steel strike."

Glennan, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, gave no indication as to the extent of the delay.

The three-stage Vega was designed to place 4,800 pounds in an orbit 300 miles above the earth, or 1,000 pounds into a deep space trajectory to the moon and beyond.

It was scheduled to be ready for initial flight early in 1961.

"As the situation stands now, it is reasonably certain that in early 1961 the Vega will be the first of our space vehicle systems capable of matching the performance demonstrated by the Russians more than a year ago," Glennan said.

"I have no doubt that the Russians will be improving their systems during this same period," he added.

Glennan attributed the Soviet lead in space exploration to the early Soviet decision to concentrate on ICBMs as the delivery system for the nuclear weapons they were developing shortly after World War II.

Smoke Screen

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Neighbors became concerned when they saw smoke billowing from the garage of a house. Teenage Marriage Divorce Rate Labeled as 'Appalling'

CINCINNATI (AP)—A veteran social worker says more and more teenagers today are rushing into premature marriages — and their divorce rate is appalling.

"They see this as a way of getting the love they never experienced from parents," said Mrs. Pauline Cohen, a supervisor here for the Family Service Assn. of America.

Mrs. Cohen said in an interview that her experience confirms the results of a special study of teenage marriage patterns published in the coming issue of a national magazine.

The results include these eye-openers:

Forty per cent of girls married in America this year will be under 19.

Twenty-six per cent will be under 18.

Forty eight of every 1,000 girls between the ages of 14 and 17 are married.

"These figures are in line with what we find here in Cincinnati," Mrs. Cohen said.

The study adds this:

"A bride under 20 has three times the chances of being divorced as a girl who marries between the ages of 22 and 24."

One of the main reasons for this young marital failure, said Mrs. Cohen, is the pathetic ignorance of teenagers as to what marriage is like.

"So many of these youngsters go into it without knowing the day-to-day routine that goes with it," she said. Budgeting, cooking and other basic skills of household management are often lacking.

The teenage husband finds it hard to hold a job. "He becomes miserable at home and carries it with him to work, so that it becomes unbearable," the social worker said.

Sometimes parents help, but also offer another danger. "Even where parents do help," Mrs. Cohen said, "there is a continuance of the dependant relations between parents and children that can be quite harmful.

"If the parents contribute to their youngsters support, they often feel they have a right to control decisions in the marriage."

Other contacts with school friends, usually dwindle away to almost nothing.

She said that if the couple has religious ties, they feel sharply the loss of religious ceremony.

"Most girls have some dream of what their wedding will be like," said Mrs. Cohen. "They think the excitement of the quick marriage will be enough, but later they think differently."

The lucky ones are steered to a family aid service by parents or friends. There they can receive help that may see them through the difficult adjustment period.

The study lists four chief factors that seem to lead to teenage marriages:

Parent - child friction, lack of realistic approach, mothers who relive romances through their daughters and school difficulties.

Mrs. Cohen suggested more courses on family relationships are needed.

"But this instruction has to be fairly early," she said, "because if you wait too long, you may reach the youngsters when they already are too involved to see the problem clearly."

She recommends the junior high school level.

DiSalle Approves New Prison Boss

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle today expressed satisfaction over appointment of Beryle Sacks, former FBI man, as warden of Ohio Penitentiary, effective next month.

Sacks will succeed Warden Ralph W. Alvis, who was named to head the Lebanon Correctional Institution.

Commenting to newsmen on published reports that he was miffed by the appointment, DiSalle said he was concerned instead over apparent leaks after supposedly confidential talks about Sacks.

The governor said everything he learned about Sacks in checking his record of service with the FBI was good.

7-Count Indictment Filed Against Killer-Car Driver

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A seven-count indictment faces the driver of a stolen car which ran down and killed three school children here Oct. 19.

A grand jury returned the indictment Tuesday against Paul W. Graham, 22, of Columbus. Police were pursuing Graham who apparently lost control of the car when the tragedy occurred. The children were waiting for a school bus.

The indictment charges Graham with three counts of second-degree manslaughter, one of auto theft, one of auto theft as a second offender and two of driving a car without the owner's consent.

Prosecutor Earl W. Allison said Graham probably will face the charges in Common Pleas Court about Nov. 6. Graham is held in lieu of $100,000 bond.

Victims of the crash were Randy Kline, 7, and his brother, Raymond, 4, sons of T.Sgt. and Mrs. Arden Kline, and Jane Bellah, 7, daughter of T. Sgt. and Mrs. Jerry J. Bellah. The sergeants are stationed at nearby Lockbourne Air Force Base.

One auto theft charge stems from Graham's admission that he took a privately owned car from the state capitol lot on Oct. 12, then abandoned it.

The second offense involves the car which struck the children as they waited for the bus south of Columbus. Police said the vehicle belonged to the state auditor's office and was taken from the same capitol lot about six hours prior to the accident.

Twice in the past year, Graham was placed on probation by the court. He now faces the possibility of sentences on previous charges of burglary, grand larceny and auto theft. Allison said he will ask for revocation of the probations.

22 YEARS IN PRISON—Paul Dwyer, 40, sentenced to life imprisonment 22 years ago in the 1937 slaying of Dr. James Littlefield, is shown leaving prison at Thomaston, Me., on parole. Dwyer always has denied his guilt, but says he bears no ill will.

Logan Elm Levies Are Explained

The Logan Elm Board of Education today outlined the necessity and reasons behind the two current operating levies to appear on Tuesday's off-year general election.

Logan Elm voters are being asked to support and vote for a proposed 2-mill renewal levy for current operating funds which is presently on the tax duplicate and will expire January 1.

This levy will continue to finance teachers' salaries, janitorial services, fuel, light and supplies. The levy will run for five years and will not increase district taxpayers' assessments.

A new 2-mill current operating levy is before the voters to provide funds for the operation of the new Logan Elm High School and the elementary schools.

* * *

IT WILL not be possible to operate the new high school or to make necessary improvements in the elementary schools without passage of this levy.

This levy will increase taxes 20 cents for each $100 of property valuation.

If the property is on the tax duplicate for $5,000 the tax increase will be $10 annually.

The majority of properties in Pickaway County appear on the tax duplicate at half or less than half of their true valuation. This levy will run for five years.

School administrators and architects state they are disappointed that the construction costs for the new high school and the Washington Twp. elementary addition exceeded the maximum amount alloted for construction.

An additional $46,000 is needed to purchase equipment such as student desks, cafeteria tables and chairs, laboratory furniture and instruments, home economics equipment and power equipment for the shop.

* * *

THEREFORE, it is now necessary for the board of education to ask the voters of the district to provide these funds by passing a 2½ mill levy for one year.

All high school equipment now in use will be transferred to the new high school. If this were not being done, much more than the above $46,000 would have to be spent for new equipment.

A levy of 2½ mills will raise approximately $46,000. Unless this levy is passed, it will not be possible to open the new high school for student and community use.

Schools in general are receiving less financial support from the state government each year.

School legislation during the past few years indicates that the state officials and state legislature expect local districts to assume more and more of the financial responsibility for operating public schools.

The facts mentioned present a true picture of the present financial status of the Logan Elm School District. Insufficient funds would necessitate drastic curtailment of the educational program for the schools of the district.

Passage of these levies will ensure a full school term for the 1959-1960 and 1960-1961 school years.

General Telephone Expands Laurelville Exchange Service

General Telephone Co. of Ohio is spending $33,925 in the Laurelville exchange to improve service for rural subscribers, Alan D. Fuller, district commercial manager, announced today.

Telephone crews recently started the project which will result in a major replacement and expansion of telephone lines on Route 56, east of Laurelville. Completion date of the project was not disclosed.

Fuller indicated the new facilities will provide improved service for all rural customers situated next to South Bloomingville. It also will include facilities for residents in previously unserved areas in that community which had been annexed recently by General Telephone.

When completed, the new facilities will make telephone service available for a number of applicants on the waiting list, Fuller said. Also included in it are ample facilities for future growth in that Hocking County community, he added.

"Because of its confidence in the future of Laurelville," Fuller said, "the company has decided to go ahead with this extensive project." The commercial manager urges any residents moving to the Laurelville exchange area to immediately place an order for telephone service at the district office in Circleville. Putting in the order promptly, he remarked, will speed up installation service.

There is another major improvement for Laurelville customers, Fuller commented, since it was converted to dial service a year ago. At that time, he said, Laurelville was included in a million dollar program also involving neighboring communities of Circleville, Ashville and Williamsport.

Guy Lombardo Plans Road Trip

NEW YORK (AP)—Guy Lombardo says he'll take his orchestra on a tour of the country this fall and winter. Except for a time in the early 1930s, the Lombardo band has been a fixture at the Hotel Roosevelt Grill here for the past 30 years. Lombardo, 57, said Monday he wants to get closer to the nation's dancing public but will return to the Roosevelt.

3 Ohioans Employed On Top Judge's Staff

WASHINGTON (AP)— Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart has three Ohioans on his staff.

His private secretary is Miss Elizabeth Kenney, who served him in the same job when he was on the U. S. Circuit Court bench in Cincinnati.

Both of his law clerks are Ohioans: Jerry Israel of University Heights, a Cleveland suburg, and Jack Evans of Nelsonville (Athens County).

The Ashville Village Council met in regular session October 19 with the following members present: Charles Morrison, Donald Wean, Jack Lemon, Paul Smith, and Richard Cook.

A motion was made and passed that Don Rathburn, Chester Fortner and Paul Welsh be accepted as auxiliary firemen.

Cook moved that any time village employes are working on the electrical system (other than replacing light bulbs) that the main switch should be thrown to the off position. Cook made this motion ni the interest of safety. Motion passed.

It was moved that the village purchase two 400 watt Mercury Vapor lumenairre and one 250 watt Mercury Vapor lumenairre street lights. Motion was carried.

Cook presented a comprehensive report to council on the sidewalks in the village along with the recommendations as to repairs, establishment of new side walks, etc.

The report also covered the fixing of existing sidewalks, grade and height of new ones. Several changes were made in the report after due deliberation by council and it was agreed that Cook would submit a new report at a later date with the additions, corrections, alterations, to be included in the new report.

Mayor Boman advised Council that the village has patched up the alley in rear of the banks at no cost to either bank.

Clare Lough appeared before council stating that he wished to tap onto the existing sanitary sewer in the Hoover Subdivision. Lough purchased the Gloyd property along with two other lots in the northeast end of the village. After some discussion on the matter Council tabled it for the present pending a pattern to be set up by Council that the meeting between the Village Council and the County Budget Commission had been set for either Thursday or Friday of the last week of October.

Arch Ward Holds Offensive Lead For CHS Tigers

Archie Ward, Circleville High School's hardrunning right halfback, holds a commanding lead in offensive statistics for the Tigers.

With six games under his belt, Ward has roared for nine touchdowns and two extras for a total of 56 points.

In the rushing department, the speed merchant is averaging 10.3 yards for each time he has carried the ball. He has lugged the pigskin 55 times, picking up 569 yards.

Close behind Ward in offense are Fullback Larry Hannahs and Left Halfback Gary Vandemark. Hannahs has tallied seven touchdowns and four extra points for a total of 46.

• • •

VANDEMARK, out since the Hillsboro game with a knee injury, has hit paydirt five times and scored two extra points for a total of 32.

Vandemark is close behind Ward in rushing. The fleet back has carried 37 times and picked up 344 yards for a commendable 9.3 average per carry.

Hannahs, slowed the first three games with an ankle injury, has raised his rushing average to 5.9 yards per carry. The fast fullback has carried 66 times to gain 387 yards.

Quarterback Dave Smith has run the ball only 10 times, but has picked up enough yardage for 5.2 average and two touchdowns. Although the adept ball handler hands off most of the time, he has gained 52 yards on keepers.

Left Half Chuck McDowell, starting his first game Friday against Paint Valley, has carried six times and picked up 31 yards for a 5.1 average. This includes a 21-yard touchdown run against PV.

Freshman Halfback Garold Dade has picked up 67 yards in 14 carries for a 4.7 average. He ran for two extra points in the Paint Valley game.

• • •

FULLBACK Gary Cook has posted a 4.3 average, based on 43 yards gained in 10 carries. Halfback Pat Rooney, recently back in action after an early season leg injury, has picked up 10 yards on two carries for a 5-yard average.

Also getting into the scoring act is End Jake Bailey who has snagged two passes for four extra points. End Dick Warner has caught one pass for two extra points and Tackle Dan Leonhardt has made good on one placement for an extra point.

Ward has scored three touchdowns on runs of more than 61 yards. His longest was a 67-yard scamper against Paint Valley on the second play from scrimmage.

The smooth performer galloped 64 yards for a TD against Wilmington, then turned in a 61-yard scoring dash against Hillsboro the following week.

The running star came into his own in the Rosary game when he scored all three of Circleville's touchdowns. This feat earned him CHS "Player of the Week" honors.

Hannahs has scored two touchdowns in each of his last three games. One of his best runs came in the Greenfield test when he took a screen pass from Quarterback Smith and raced 68 yards for a TD.

• • •

VANDEMARK hit his stride in the Hillsboro game to record touchdowns on runs of 58 and 48 yards. However, it was in this contest that the speedster suffered the knee ailment which has kept him sidelined since.

Coach Carl Benhase has alternated Hannahs, Rooney, Dade and McDowell at Vandemark's vacated position. Each has turned in commendable jobs at the post and the experience has proven valuable to Dade, Rooney and McDowell.

In winning three, losing two and tieing one, the Tigers have collected a total of 161 points as compared to 116 for the opposition. The locals' largest margin was a 49-14 decision over Hillsboro and the worst defeat was a 34-14 loss to undefeated Greenfield.

Michigan State's Sophomore Crew Prepares for Buckeyes

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Gambling on sophomores has started to pay off for Coach Duffy Daugherty, whose Michigan State squad clashes with Ohio State at Columbus Saturday.

After an uncertain start, the Spartans now look as if they have jelled into a football team.

A win over Michigan was sandwiched between losses to Texas A & M and Iowa. Then State beat Notre Dame 19-0 and Indiana 14-6.

Gary Ballman, starter at right half, finally came into his own against the Hoosiers. Ballman scored once on a 20-yard pass play from quarterback Dean Look and again on a 25-yard bolt.

The East Detroit sophomore was working, too, with his broken finger in a cast.

"It looks like we might be getting consistent," said Daugherty. "We've been playing our sophomores a lot and they are more than half way to becoming juniors now."

Look, bothered by a shoulder sprain, didn't get a starting call until the Notre Dame game.

Look refused a $50,000 baseball bonus offer to play football this fall. A former halfback, he's been a fair to good passer and a constant threat as a ball-carrier on the option.

Herb Adderley, junior left half, has been a steady performer.

Fullback Blanche Martin has been slowed the last two weeks by leg and rib bruises but still made 35 yards in six carries against the Hoosiers.

Daugherty uses complete offensive and defensive teams whenever possible. The defense, led by Larry Cundiff, 228-pound center, earned honors against both Notre Dame and Indiana.

Notre Dame couldn't drive across in four downs from the two-yard line and Indiana was held after a first down on the four.

Michigan State, with a 2-1 conference record, needs this one to stay alive in the title race.

Daugherty has warned his players they could be running into an ambush.

"Look what Ohio State did to Purdue," he said.

History is on the side of Michigan State, however. The Spartans have won all three previous games in the series, all at Columbus.

The then Michigan Agricultural College did it 35-20 in 1912 and teams coached by Biggie Munn, now athletic director, won 24-20 in 1951 and 28-13 in 1953.

"I'll give us an even chance of winning this one," said Daugherty.

Jaycee Keglers Rally To Win 3

The Jaycees Late Monday Bowlers, wearing newly purchased shirts and vowing they were going to turn on, backed up the threat by defeating the second place Top Hat team three games this week at Circle D.

The Jaycee keglers rolled a 973 single game and collected 2,749 pins in three games.

Junior Fowler posted high individual game for the evening with a 213. High individual three game series went to Bill Betts with 523 pins.

Jamin Owners All Ready for Second Duel

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Owners of the great French Trotter, Jamin, are looking forward to the running of the second leg of the $75,000 American Trotting Classic next Saturday. They hope their sensational 6-year-old can wrap it up then.

Jamin took the lead at the head of the stretch last Saturday and captured the first leg of the classic in 1:59 4-5.

A 4-5 favorite in the great field, Senator Frost broke stride in the backstretch while making his bid for the lead. Senator Frost rallied to finish seventh.

Silver Song, a 60-to-1 shot, was second and Trader Horn was third.

Another victory by Jamin in the second or third leg would settle it. If the three legs should be won by different horses, there will be a runoff.

Steamin' Demon, like Senator Frost an Ohio - owned trotter, was fifth. The Demon is owned by George W. VanCamp of Circleville and the Senator by Wayne W. Galvin of Wilmington. Another Ohio entry is Gene Laird, owned by Eddie Cobb of Washington C.H.

Duck Season In High Gear

The 1959 waterfowl hunting season continues here with several hunters reporting duck, coot and merganser kills. At least one goose has been taken in this area.

According to local nimrods, a large number of ducks and geese have been spotted at various locations over the county.

The best hunting seems to be along the Scioto River, although flocks have been spotted at Darby and other creeks here and at Hargus Creek Lake.

Due to a dry season in the north this year, the duck population seems to be below normal. In view of this decrease, the duck, coot and merganser season ends November 24. Geese may be taken through December 24.

Hunters are reminded that waterfowl may be taken from sunrise to sunset only. Here is the time chart for November:

Lane Now Threat In 3 Divisions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Kenny Lane's gory and rumpus-raising decision over former welterweight champion Virgil Akins made him a threat in three divisions today.

With blood streaming over both fighters at the finish, Lane won a split decision in a nationally televised 10-rounder at Capitol Arena Wednesday in his welterweight debut.

The triumph before a yelling, whistling crowd stamped Lane, the Muskegon, Mich., southpaw, as a creditable prospect in the 147-pound division. He is still ranked second behind Carlos Ortiz among contenders for Joe Brown's lightweight crown and is as good a bidder as any for the junior welter title held by Ortiz.

Jackson Hopes For Better Year

The Jackson Wildcats will enter the 1959-60 basketball season with everything to gain as they face the prospects of bettering a 1-16 record set last year.

The Wildcats lone victory was a sensational upset win over highly touted Williamsport, 64-62. The loss threw the Deers into a tailspin from which they never recovered.

Head Coach Paul Hoskins had four varsity lettermen returning to his lineup plus a promising newcomer. This will be Hoskins' second year at Jackson.

Robert Eitel, a 6' 1" junior, is Hoskins' tallest man and will start at center. He has a good left hand jump shot from around the post.

• • •

BROTHER Larry Eitel, a 5' 10" junior, will have a go at a forward position along with Stoutsville transfer student, Marion Guseman, a 6' junior, who played reserve ball for the Indians last year.

Starting guards are Gary Thompson and Milton Martindale. The two miniature guards were starters last year and shoot well from the outside.

Martindale has a fine one-hand shot and Thompson is deft with a two-handed set shot which figured prominently in Jackson's single 1958-59 win.

Larry Eitel shoots well from the corners and Guseman should score consistently around the bankboards and become a top-notch rebounder.

With the exception of Guseman, the Jackson varsity has the experience and team play necessary to easily top last year's worst slate in years.

Though not exceptionally tall or fast, Wildcat teamwork and knowledge of the other fellow's ability could develop Jackson into a squad to watch although its danger to the county's tougher clubs is probably slight.

• • •

FILLING OUT the Jackson roster are juniors Benny List, 5' 10½", and Robert Martindale, 5' 7"; sophomores Sam Cornwell, 5' 10½", and Joe Good, 5' 6";

Freshmen Ronnie Clifton, 6', Clark Maughmer, 5' 5", Leonard Sines, 6', and Alan Hix, 4' 10". Milt Martindale is the only senior on the club. There are six juniors, two sophomores and four freshmen.

This may not be Jackson's year, but with four starting juniors and several lanky reservists developing, the Wildcats could blossom in 1960-61.

Jackson managers are Paul Atwood and Chester Culwell. Cheerleaders include Sue Ann Radcliff and Kathleen McCloud, seniors; Martha Pontious, junior;

Sandra Smith, sophomore; Judy Allen, freshman, and Joy Maughmer, senior alternate.

The Wildcats will miss the deadly scoring of Charlie Galloway from the corners and Jerry Brigner from the outside.

GALLOWAY, second string All-County, finished sixth in the county scoring race last year with a 19.9 average and teammate Brigner, honorable mention All-County, followed with an 18.5 average for seventh in the scoring race.

Martindale averaged 2.6 points per game last year. Other starters' averages were Thompson, 5.2; Bob Eitel, 3.3, and Larry Eitel, 2.4.

The Wildcats finished eighth in team offensive figures last year with 875 points in 16 games for a 54.7 average.

Defensively, the Wildcat squad was like a sieve as opponents riddled its bucket for 1,125 points for a 70.3 average.

Kingston Sets Booster Meet

Three Kingston residents today took steps to start a Kingston High School athletic booster club.

The three men have written an appeal to all Kingston parents to meet Monday at 7 p. m. in the Kingston school cafeteria in an attempt to organize the booster club.

Paul Priest Sr., Lawrence Kerns Sr. and Nicholas Kelley with the assistance of Kingston High School principal and head coach, Gary Walsh, today handed out appeal slips to each pupil to take home to his or her parents.

The slip stated that several residents have expressed a desire and interest in promoting a booster organization.

• • •

THEY FEEL that Kingston has a fine group of youngsters in its school district and there is a need for guidance and assistance from persons outside the school to help develop these qualities.

The three - member planning committee said they felt a booster organization will aid in accomplishing this purpose.

Iowa Rated Tops in Big 10, on Paper

CHICAGO (AP) — If statistics showed on the scoreboard, Iowa would be a cinch for the Big Ten football title.

The Hawkeyes continued as paper champions this week, dominating the official conference individual statistics. Iowa shares last place in Big Ten standings with 1-3.

Bob Jeter is tops in rushing with 304 net yards in 45 carries for a 6.8 average. Northwestern's Ray Purdin is next with 169 in 29 trips for 5.8.

Olen Treadway, another Hawkeye, is the No. 1 passer with 56 hits in 95 shots for 585 yards and three touchdowns. Indiana's John Henry Jackson is No. 2 with 14-27 for 283 and three TD's.

Treadway also holds the total offense leadership. He has a minus 24 yards trying to run, leaving him a total of 561 and 5.3 a play.

Jackson again is second, adding 55 yards on the ground to his passing gains for 338. His average a play of 6.9 is topped only by Northwestern's John Talley, who has a remarkable 9.3 on total yardage of 242 in 26 rushing and passing plays.

Wildlife Notes On Fish, Deer In Buckeyeland

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fishermen, you can expect a fair harvest of walleyes in Lake Erie next year, for both sport and commercial purposes.

That prediction comes from Charles Selden, fish management supervisor of the Ohio Division of Wildlife District No. 1.

He said Lake Erie walleyes hatches last spring now measure 8.1 to 12.2 inches, that he had personally measured 468 of 975 walleyes taken in 19 nettings by commercial fishermen Oct. 23 of South Bass Island.

Another brightener for fishermen: A fall test netting program completed at Lake St. Marys in Mercer and Auglaize counties shows the lake continues as one of the top fishing spots in northwestern Ohio. Fifteen different species were netted, with crappies continuing to be the leading species. They are of good size and should measure eight inches by next spring. Channel catfish averaging 10½ inches were plentiful.

The program also produced results in many other waters in Northwestern Ohio. Among these was Findlay Reservoir, Hancock County, where many walleye, white bass and perch showed up.

Three reports of bow-killed deer have reached the Ohio Division of Wildlife. Frank Walls of Chillicothe took a 90-pound buck fawn with his bow in his home county of Ross. Two deer, one a 125-pound buck, the other a fawn of unknown sex, were reported taken by a party of Hamilton County archers in the Wolf Creek Wildlife Area, Morgan County.

Ohio's park attendance keeps going up. V. W. Flickinger, chief of the Division of Parks, said attendance reached 10,451,354 during July, August and September.

Accidental deer kill figures for the first nine months of 1959 are 25 per cent down from last year's mark. The 1959 tally is 156 deer, while 209 were reported killed during the same period in 1958. Size of the accidental deer kill serves game technicians as an index to the deer population.

James Bogart, 15-year-old Findlay angler, can tell you exactly what he caught on any given day during the past two fishing seasons. And he can tell you where he fished, what he used for bait, the time he caught each fish and the length of the catch.

The Findlay High School sophomore keeps an exact diary of his fishing experiences. In the 1958 season, he caught 117 fish, more than half of them bass. He fishes the Findlay Reservoir regularly so largemouth bass appeared with regularity in his notes. This year he has taken a 16-inch largemouth bass, a 14-inch smallmouth bass and an 18-inch walleye, among others.

Wyoming Appeal On NCAA Ban Set

BOSTON (AP)—The University of Wyoming is expected to appeal a decision by the NCAA council which placed the school on probation for a year and ruled the cowboy football team ineligible for post-season bowl games.

"We don't think we violated the NCAA code and we've been trying to play it real straight," Wyoming head football coach Bob Devaney said in Laramie, Wyo., Wednesday after the policy-directing body of the powerful NCAA handed down its decision.

Devaney said he plans to appeal the ruling, which would knock his team out of a trip to the Sun Bowl game.

And in Bozeman, Mont., the Council of Deans at Montana State College unanimously agreed to appeal for a review of another NCAA ruling placing that school on a two-year probation.

The college is host to the NCAA-sponsored ski meet in March. The action means that it cannot participate. The deans said they would appeal particularly the severity of the penalty.

Both schools were penalized for violations of the NCAA rules on recruiting and financial aid to athletes.

Wyoming currently leads the Skyline Conference football race, and was considered a prime candidate for a spot in the Sun Bowl game at El Paso, Tex., if it won the title. The NCAA action spoiled that.

The council, which concluded its regular fall meeting Wednesday, earlier had handed out probation sentences to Arizona State University at Temple and the University of Mississippi. They also were punished for recruiting and financial aid violations.

NCAA will be presented with a recommended amendment aimed at regulating play of alien athletes when the group meets in its annual convention in New York Jan. 6-8.

The amendment was approved Wednesday by the NCAA Council, the group's policy-directing body, in a move that Executive Director Walter Byers said was "designed to regulate the older boys coming over here to compete against younger boys."

The amendment would limit the number of semesters alien athletes could compete, place age limits on such players, and impose residency requirements before such athletes would be eligible to participate in national championship competition.

Alien students would be limited to 10 semesters or 15 quarters eligibility for all competition, and would be limited to three years after reaching the age of 20, two years after 21 and one year after 22.

Cepeda Is Voted Sophomore Award

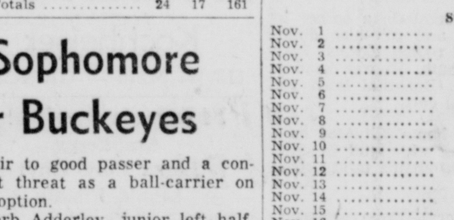

SAN JUAN, P.A. (AP)—Orlando Cepeda, National League Rookie of the Year in 1958 and its Sophomore of the Year in 1959, has already set one goal for 1960.

"I want to become a first class outfielder," he said today. "If I am going to play that position, I am going to try to make good. I do not want to become a player carried by a ball club just for his hitting."

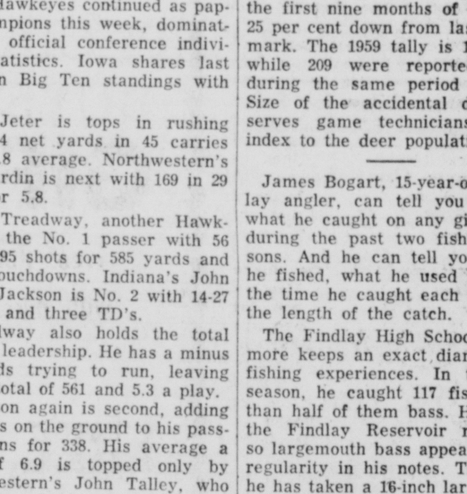

The San Francisco Giants' slugger Wednesday was named the leading sophomore in the annual Associated Press poll. He drew 86 of the 172 votes cast by members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America. Vada Pinson of Cincinnati was next with 66 votes.

Stoutsville Eyes Appeal

Clearcreek Group Dislikes Decision

There are indications that the Clearcreek Local School District citizens committee favoring consolidation with the Logan Elm School District will appeal a recent 5th District Court of Appeals decision to the Ohio Supreme Court.

The indication came as a result of a meeting held Saturday with Clearcreek residents and their attorney, Joseph Asher, Columbus.

The 5th Appeals Court October 19 dismissed an alternate writ of mandamus request filed by James E. Smith and his group of Clearcreek residents, Fairfield County, desiring a merger with Logan Elm.

Asher and his Clearcreek group were dissatisfied with the Appeals Court decision feeling that it went against the intent of the majority of Clearcreek residents in dismissing their mandamus suit.

* * *

THE MANDAMUS WRIT asked the court to order the Fairfield County Board of Education to transfer the Clearcreek district to Logan Elm after an election was held last November with 338 persons favoring the move and 266 opposed for a 55.9 majority.

Asher left for California Tuesday night and will return November 16, at which time an appeal may be filed.

Koch Named President of State Assn.

Winfield Koch, superintendent of Pickaway County Children's Home, recently was elected president of the Ohio Superintendents and Matrons Assn.

The association, holding its annual meeting in Columbus, is made up of about 100 officials who are responsible for the care of dependent children in Ohio's counties.

Koch, who served as the group's vice president last year, gave the association a detailed report on the child welfare conference held during the summer at North Carolina State University.

A major project during Koch's administration will be the creation of a workshop similar to the one he attended in North Carolina. The purpose of such a program is to increase official knowledge of improved care for dependent children housed in both boarding homes and foster homes.

The next meeting of the state association will be held on the Ohio State University campus Nov. 9.

High Court Upholds News Photographer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has upheld the reversal of a contempt of court fine levied against an Akron newspaper photographer.

The high court Wednesday refused to admit the case of Julius Greenfield for review, an action that allowed an appellate court ruling to stand.

Greenfield, of the Akron Beacon Journal, was fined $100 and costs by Judge Don Young of Norwalk for taking a photograph through the window of a door of Wayne County Juvenile Court while court was in session.

Ohio law provides that a court may punish a person guilty of misbehavior "in the presence of or so near a court or judge so as to obstruct the administration of justice."

The appellate court ruled the record failed to show Greenfield obstructed the administration of justice in any manner. Records showed Judge Young was not aware of Greenfield's action until notified by a bailiff.

If there was anyone obstructing the court, the ruling added, it was the bailiff.

Greenfield stood in a corridor outside the courtroom to snap a picture of proceedings involving failure of Amish parents to send their children to public school as required by law.

The Supreme Court has a ban on photographs or broadcasts from inside all Ohio courts of record during sessions.

Toledo Port's Grain Volume Climbs Sharply

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Grain movements through the port of Toledo this season have increased 169 per cent from a year ago, the Toledo-Lucas County Port Authority announced today.

Through September the volume of grain reached 273,952 tons.

In general cargo the gain was 73 per cent to a record 59,749 tons of imports and exports. This includes aluminum, wood pulp and newsprint from Canada, in addition to overseas trade.

Supreme Court Refuses Haste In Steel Strike

Union To Be Allowed Until Monday To File Injunction Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refuses to order the United Steelworkers to speed up their appeal of a Taft-Hartley back-to-work injunction that would halt the 107-day steel strike.

The government made a strong plea to the court Wednesday to tell the union to get going on the appeal by noon today. Without comment, the court denied the Justice Department request.

That leaves the union until Monday to appeal the ruling of a Philadelphia appeals court that upheld the injunction.

But union lawyer Arthur J. Goldberg said he expected to file the formal appeal notice with the Supreme Court Friday and present a complete brief for the union case by Monday.

This means the court probably won't be ready to rule until the middle of next week.

The strike will go on at least until then unless something comes of new full-scale negotiations that resume today at Pittsburgh between the union and the big steel companies.

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service said it was glad to hear that negotiations would resume. But it served notice on both sides that if nothing happened by Monday it would call them to Washington for a joint bargaining conference.

The involved court action began nine days ago when President Eisenhower asked his government lawyers to get a Taft-Hartley injunction in Pittsburgh.

The court order would halt the strike for 80 days, but the union could resume it after that period if no settlement were reached.

The union, believing the big steel firms are beginning to feel the financial pinch, attacked the injunction as unconstitutional.

The Philadelphia court upheld the injunction, but gave the union six days to take the matter to the highest court.

Half a million steelworkers are on strike against 96 companies and 250,000 more in related industries are out of work.

At issue are wage increases and the industry's demand for more control over local working conditions to effect economies. The industry contends any big wage increase would be inflationary and against the national interest because it would force a rise in steel prices. Prestrike wages averaged $3.11 an hour.

THE CORRECT ANSWER — United Steelworkers attorneys, Arthur Goldberg (left) and David Feller leave the Supreme Court building after filing the union's answer to government efforts to speed the union's appeal of the back-to-work decision in the steel strike. The high court refused to go along with government efforts. The union now has until Monday before asking the court to review a circuit court of appeals decision upholding the back-to-work order.

Ohio Steel Mill Employment Now 47,000, Was 122,000

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Employment in Ohio steel mills dropped from 122,000 in mid-July to 47,000 by mid-September, the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported today.

The bureau said the difference "largely represents primary steelworkers directly involved in the strike." Nearly one-half of these steelworkers are in the Youngstown - Warren area.

Layoffs stemming from secondary effects of the steel strike are beginning to rise, the bureau said, reporting that some 18,000, newly unemployed filed claims last week under the unemployment compensation law. One out of every three was due to the steel dispute. Part of the 50 per cent increase over the previous week, however, was due to delayed filing, as liberalized compensation regulations went into effect.

Cleveland alone accounted for three - fourths of the statewide jump, as several large automotive factories ran out of steel.

The bureau said those out of work one week or longer in Ohio totaled 57,000 last week, not counting 8,000 claiming temporary extended benefits. A year ago in the same period the average was 94,000. Ten thousand among current claimants, nearly one-fifth, represent persons jobless as secondary effects of the steel strike. Those covered by federal unemployment insurance systems, for railroaders, federal employes, and former servicemen, are not included in the figure cited.

It is too early for total figures on October employment. But mid-September showed nonfarm employment in Ohio up somewhat from mid-August, despite primary and secondary effects of the steel dispute.

Both factory and nonfactory employment were up. Introduction of new model automobiles boosted manufacturing totals, the bureau said, and opening of schools and seasonal pickups in trade and service lifted nonmanufacturing. The grand total of employed—three million—was two per cent above the year-ago figure.

But contrary to the statewide pattern, Canton and Youngstown employment were down from mid-August to mid-September — more than two per cent at Youngstown but less than one per cent at Canton. Steel short fabricators in Stark County and striking steelworkers in Mahoning - Trumbull - Mercer (Pa.) counties pulled their overall nonfarm totals down.

In the Youngstown area, steel mill employment fell from 52,000 in mid-July to 19,000 in mid-August to 15,000 by mid-September. The Canton area dropped six per cent from the year-ago nonfarm level. The Youngstown area, however, fell 14 per cent.

But earnings are still high, the bureau said. While down from their $106 per week peak last June, factory production workers in Ohio averaged $103 last month. Average hourly rates were down several cents, as higher - paid Steelworkers were off the payroll.

The outlook? It depends largely on steel, the bureau said. September and October are normally highest employment months in Ohio.

Tire, Wheel Theft Reports Continue

Marvin Spangler, Route 1, Ashville, informed the sheriff's department that two whitewall tires and a rim were missing from his car.

Spangler said the tires and wheels were taken sometime during the last two weeks.

The sheriff and local police have been investigating a series of tire and wheels thefts here since Pumpkin Show.

Several such thefts were reported during Pumpkin Show. The equipment was taken mostly from trunks of cars parked near the western edge of the city.

Retired Cops Forget Rules

LONDON (AP)—Thirteen retired police officers looked in vain for their cars after an annual reunion at a London restaurant Wednesday night.

The missing cars were on the other side of town-towed away for illegal parking.

Shakeup Near Complete in U.S. Diplomacy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The resignation of Robert D. Murphy as undersecretary of state has almost completed an unplanned shakeup in the State Department high command. It has been under way since Christian A. Herter took control last spring.

Two further developments are in prospect: a successor must be found to fill Murphy's key job. And Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen, veteran expert on the Soviet Union next week will assume a new post as Herter's special adviser on Soviet affairs.

The changes involving five policy-making positions could have important impact on the development of U.S. foreign policy toward various parts of the world, but Herter's associates say they were not made with any policy purpose in view.

Murphy's resignation was announced by the White House Wednesday night. Murphy, 65, wrote President Eisenhower that he was resigning effective Dec. 3 for personal reasons. The President accepted the resignation "with deep regret, but with complete understanding."

Later Murphy told reporters, "It was an awfully tough decision to make." He said he wanted greater financial security and more time with his family than his State Department duties had permitted. He will take a job in private industry.

Cuban Military Tribunals Get Official Revival

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's Cabinet early today ratified the revival of military tribunals which sent 555 of his enemies to execution before firing squads.

Fears of a new blood-bath grew with an estimated 200 persons already in jail awaiting investigation or trial as counterrevolutionaries, and unconfirmed reports circulating of more and more arrests daily.

Prime Minister Castro abolished the controversial military tribunals in July in favor of civilian courts. Though the latter had power to impose death for activities against the revolutionary regime, the heaviest sentences meted out were 30 years.

A power failure plunged most of the capital into darkness and fresh anxiety after the six-hour Cabinet session ended just before 2 a.m. The blackout was traced to an equipment failure, the American-owned Cuban Electric Co. said, adding there was no immediate indication of sabotage. The power went on again over most of the city after about two hours.

Foreign Minister Raul Roa told newsmen that the government would deliver its reply later today to the stiff U.S. protest against the rising anti-American campaign in Cuba and Castro's charges that the U.S. government had connived at flights over Cuba by anti-Castro exiles in the United States.

ESCAPES MOB — Jules Dubois, Latin American correspondent for the Chicago Tribune, was threatened by a mob in Havana while he was writing a story in a cable office. Several hundred demonstrators gathered in the office, shouting "to the firing squad" before military policemen rescued him.

Rivera Paintings Sold

NEW YORK (AP)—Twenty-seven works of the late Mexican painter Diego Rivera were sold at auction at the Parke-Bernet Galleries Wednesday for $167,000.

Mylar Ballon New, Flashy Entry in Outer Space Race

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has a spectacular new entry in the space derby — a DuPont Mylar made-in-Circleville balloon as big as a 10-story building that inflates 250 miles above the earth.

The first space balloon launching Wednesday at Wallops Island, Va., was a smashing success. Not only did the balloon perform as planned, it startled the dickens out of hundreds of citizens all over the Eastern Seaboard.

The balloon, 100 feet in diameter, was the biggest object anyone has ever sent up into the fringes of space. But it weighed only 130 pounds.

It was not meant to go into orbit, and soon fell back into the sea. It was visible for 10 minutes. Later the National Aeronautics and Space Administration hopes to put some of these giant space travelers into orbit around the earth.

The balloon, fired at 5:40 p.m., caught the rays of the sun at the top of its flight. As it unfolded up there, its aluminized surface caught the light at different angles and sent forth myriad flashes of reflected sunlight.

Many who saw it thought it was a flare, surrounded by sparks.

The project was not announced in advance and nobody knew what it was.

Prof. Robert Brown, director of the Moonwatch station at New Haven, Conn., said it looked like "the craziest thing in the world."

Civil Defense officials checked in with their headquarters within minutes. Newspaper, police and radio station telephone switchboards were glutted with calls.

The balloon was sent up in a two-stage rocket with a thrust of 130,000 pounds.

The space agency said the whole huge balloon was folded into a container 26½ inches in diameter. The sphere was made of plastic and coated with silvery aluminum outside.

The plastic used was Mylar, manufactured by the E.I deNemours DuPont Co. at its plant in Circleville, Ohio.

After the balloon was released 250 miles up, air trapped inside it began to expand it. Then four pounds of water in two plastic bags was released inside the balloon. At that altitude the water expanded into vapor and completed the blowing up of the balloon.

NASA hopes to send these balloons into orbit 800 to 1,000 miles above the earth. They will be used as reflectors of radio signals.

Miami City Officials Slap Ban on Negro

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Negroes were barred from six city swimming pools and other recreation areas today after quick reversal of City Manager Ira F. Willard by the Miami City Commission.

Willard had issued an order Tuesday opening the previously all-white pools and parks to Negroes and six Negroes used two pools Wednesday before the commission acted.

"I had no legal basis on which I could refuse them entry," Willard told the commissioners.

Mayor Robert King High said he had "grave fears about what might happen if Mr. Willard's order was put into effect."

Willard issued an order returning the pools and parks "to the status they were before."

The NAACP has said if the commission did not open the recreation areas it would go into court again.

Court action already has brought integration to the city's golf course and public transportation.

Girl, 19, Is Held For Lima Shooting

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff's deputies held a 19-year-old Lima girl for investigation today after Jewel George Trevoe, 21, described by officers as her former boy friend, was shot in the abdomen with a .38 caliber revolver.

Deputy Sheriff Bernard Ludwig said the shooting took place when Trevoe found the girl sitting in a car with another man outside a house where a party was being held. Trevoe was accused of threatening the girl with a knife when he was shot. He was taken to a hospital where his wound was reported serious.

Seaway Business Booms

MASSENA, N.Y. (AP) —An estimated 6,600 ships will pass through the U. S. locks of the St. Lawrence Seaway before the waterway closes for the winter Nov. 30, officials estimate. To now, 5,650 ships have passed.

General Electric Adds Third Shift

The local General Electric Lamp plant returns to three-shift manufacturing operations next week. The announcement was made today by E. G. Grigg, plant manager.

At the start of the third shift will have 30 manufacturing employes, but it is expected that more will be employed later. The third shift will operate six days a week.

Since the plant expansion was completed, production has increased steadily and all parts of the new facilities are now in use.

In the last three months more than 100 women and 25 men have been added to the payroll bringing total employment to more than 750 and annual payroll to more than $3,500,000.

Grigg said that growth of demand for both regular and new types of fluorescent lamps including the new Power Groove lamp, is responsible for this rapid expansion.

Also growth in demand for lamps made here is causing the General Electric Glass Plant in Logan, to increase production and increase employment in order to supply glass for the Circleville plant, Grigg said.

Survivors of 'Black Tuesday' On Wall Street Recall Fate

NEW YORK, (AP)—Like the survivors of the blizzard of 1888 the survivors of Black Tuesday on the stock market have long memories. It was 30 years ago today—Oct. 29, 1929—that the bottom dropped out of the stock market.

Today's stock market has been booming. But most brokers stress all the measures taken since 1929 to keep the debacle from happening again. And they think the majority of Americans are more sensible now.

Stock prices had been riding high in 1929—ridiculously high, whether measured by earnings, assets or prospects.

The little fellow was in the market up to his neck — and often over it. He had taken his life savings to gamble. Often he had only a 10 per cent equity in his holdings. The rest was borrowed money.

So, many were wiped out overnight. Banks tottered. The depression — not prosperity — was just around the corner.

On Black Tuesday a record 16,410,030 shares were traded on the New York Stock Exchange in the frantic effort to unload. In a series of lesser falls prices kept on going down until mid-1932.

But in the wake of Black Tuesday came a long series of measures by the government and by private business and financial institutions to tidy up stock market practices and guard against a repetition of the disaster.

This year daily trading averaged 3,800,000 in the first three months, 3,200,000 in the second quarter, and 2,800,000 in the third.

This year you must have a 90 per cent cash down payment when you buy a share, not 10 per cent.

The Securities and Exchange Commission (born in the 1930s) takes a close look at any new stock offered for sale. It and the stock exchanges police the activities of corporations whose stocks are listed.

Federal insurance agencies back bank deposits and guarantee home mortgages.

You can get badly hurt in the stock market today. That's for sure.

But there can't be another Black Tuesday unless an awful lot of us start acting plumb foolish.

Auto Crash Injures Two

A driver and a passenger were slightly injured in a one-car crash at the Goodman-Teegardin and London - Lancaster Roads 16 miles north of here at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Driver Delbert M. Murphy, 28, Route 3, Circleville, suffered lacerations of the face. Pat Williams, 18, Ashville, received lacerations on the face and right knee. Both were treated at Berger Hospital.

Murphy told Deputy Sheriff Robert Hoover that he failed to get his car stopped at a dead end in the road and that the auto crashed.

Hoover said the front of the car was extensively damaged.

Khrush Visit Labeled Ike's Greatest Mistake

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — A churchman says Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the United States was the "greatest mistake our honored president has made."

Dr. Carl McIntire, Collingswood, N.J., president of the International Council of Christian Churches, said Wednesday President Eisenhower should scuttle the Soviet-United States exchange program. He said only the Soviets benefitted.

Van Doren Admits Being In on 'Fix'

NEW YORK (AP)—Charles Van Doren and Hank Bloomgarden reportedly have admitted to the district attorney that they received both questions and answers prior to their appearances on the NBC TV quiz show Twenty-One.

The New York Times today attributed its information to "an authoritative source in the Criminal Courts Building."

The New York Herald Tribune, in its edition today, quoted "a reliable source."

Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan refused to confirm or deny the reports.

The Times quoted Van Doren as saying: "I think that Monday is only five days away. I'm not in a position to start talking about it now. It would put me in such a terrible light, not only with the Congress, but with the other newspapers to whom I have refused to speak that I feel I must say, 'No comment.' "

Van Doren, who won $129,000 on Twenty - One, now dropped by NBC, is scheduled to testify next week in Washington before a House special subcommittee.

Bloomgarden, who won $98,500 on the quiz show, was quoted by the Times as saying: "You go ahead and print what you want. I don't intend to get into an argument about it. I have no comment as to whether I received any help."

Bloomgarden has not been invited to testify before the House committee.

400 Feared Dead; 2 States Suffer Floods

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A radio message from the State of Colima today said at least 300 persons are reported to have perished as a result of hurricane and flood in the town of Minatitlan.

The message, picked up here by an amateur radio operator, was addressed to Mexico's President by Dr. Rafael Chavez Carillo, brother of Colima's governor. Minatitlan is an inland city of about 10,000 population.

Added to those who lost their lives in coastal regions of Colima and Jalisco states, counted earlier at nearly 100, the loss of life assumes the proportions of one of this country's worst natural disasters of modern times.

In Tecoman, 12 miles from the coast, 16 persons were reported dead and 4,000 homeless.

Large sections of the two small western states bordering the Pacific still were isolated by floods in the wake of weekend torrential rains and a hurricane Monday.

Air rescue operations continued around the clock in an effort to reach hundreds of families driven from their homes by rain-swollen rivers that jumped their banks and poured through dozens of small villages.

The rivers knocked out communications and flooded roads in the stricken area, hindering the movement of military convoys carrying food, medicine and clothing.

The Pacific port of Manzanillo, which took the full force of the hurricane, reported 80 known fatalities. At least 100 residents were reported missing and 500 injured.

Full reports of casualties and damage could not be obtained because of the breakdown in communications. The President's office announced reports received by radio.

At least seven persons were dead and 15 missing in Cihautlan, 30 miles northwest of Manzanillo. Floods destroyed 40 per cent of the homes in the town of 5,000.

Four small Mexican freighters were reported sunk at Manzanillo. There also was a report indicating the 800-ton freighter Sinaloa, which left Manzanillo Monday for Acapulco, had gone down at sea. The report said 12 crewmen were rescued but 17 still were missing.

Teenage Glue Sniffing Is Dangerous Fad

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)—As many as 4,000 of the 16,000 teen-agers in this northern Texas city are endangering their lives by sniffing plastic cement fumes, police say.

Sgt. John Cawyer said Wednesday his agency has been investigating the practice since last June. Cawyer gave the estimate of the number of youths involved.

The cement produces a state similar to drunkenness, Cawyer said after he questioned teen-agers who said they sniffed the fumes "for kicks" during school hours.

Dr. D. E. Fletcher, a pathologist who helped police in the investigation, said the cement is a substance containing ether and carbon disulfide.

The ingredients damage the liver, may harm the brain, and will kill if used repeatedly, Dr. Fletcher said.

"Apparently this is replacing drinking among the younger set," the sergeant said. "Some teen-agers known as 'glue sniffers' have been handled previously for drinking."

Lima News Hit By Big Lawsuit

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — E. Robert Thorpe, former Auglaize Local School District superintendent, filed a $1,271,000 libel suit today against The Lima News. He charged in the suit that he was libeled in news stories published by the newspaper on July 2 and 21.

What Happens If School Tax Levy Is Not Approved?

By ROBERT K. HARROD
Editor, The Herald

What would happen if the Circleville school operating levy is not approved by voters next Tuesday?

First thing that would happen is the Board of Education would call for a special election in an attempt to gain approval again.

If the issue failed a second time it would be placed on the ballot in special election again, and again, until it is approved.

The levy is for a total of 9.5 mills. Of that total 6 mills are on the tax bills now, but that levy will expire at the end of this year. An additional 3.5 mills is on the same ballot to finance normal growth of the system, plus a small amount of improvement.

If the levy fails the schools will not have enough money to continue operations past March 1, 1960. That means the schools will have to borrow money to finish out the school year. If money is not borrowed, the schools will be forced to close doors.

* * *

IF THE levy fails the local school system will lose what is called "additional state aid." This year that figure was $63,000. A conservative estimate of the loss if the levy fails would be $50,000 state aid next year.

If the levy fails taxpayers would be forced to pay for a special election. That amount is $0,000. An additional expense of that size would further add to the school's financial woes.

The taxpayers are entitled to the facts.

They are entitled to know what the money will be used for if the levy is approved. Likewise, the public is entitled to know what would happen should the levy fail.

This is no threat. Many persons can't face the facts and are resentful if anyone says, "You must vote for this or the schools will close." These persons are hypersensitive and refuse to believe the facts.

The fact is the schools will be forced to borrow money to continue operations past March 1, or close about that date.

There is no sword hanging over the taxpayer's head. Prsons promoting passage of the levy won't make a nickel if it is approved. If it fails they won't lose money except indirectly through the general weakening of the economic activity here. The real losers are our children.

The indirect loss through debilitation of Circleville's economic life would be serious. Chances of attracting a new industry here, so vitally needed for continued community progress, would be extremely slim if schools were forced to close.

No one likes to be told, "you must do a certain thing". Each of us is free to make our choice, even if it hurts us. However, any reasoning voter will face the facts. The levy must be approved.

Circleville Halloween Parade On Schedule for Saturday

The Circleville Junior and Senior Chambers of Commerce sponsored Halloween Parade will be held at 7:30 p. m. Saturday.

The parade will form on E. Franklin St., between S. Court and S. Pickaway Sts. It will march north on Court St. to Ted Lewis Park where judging of costumes will take place on the ball diamond.

All contestants must march in the parade to be eligible for prizes. A total of $1.00 in cash prizes will be awarded.

The annual affair will be led by the Circleville High School marching band. In case of rain, the judging will take place under cover, but under no circumstances will it be cancelled.

• • •

PRIZES INCLUDE: grand prize, $15; best decorated vehicle, $15; ugliest in parade, $5; prettiest in parade, $5; best impersonation, $5; youngest in parade, $5, and oldest in parade, $5.

Other prize categories will be divided into three classes. They are under one year to seven years; eight years through 14, and 15 years and up.

Prizes in the age categories are $5 for first; $4 for second; $3 for third; $2 for fourth, and $1 for fifth.

Chairman of the Jaycee parade committee is Glenn McCoy. He will be assisted by Edgar Webb and Clark Bitzer. Prominent local citizens will act as judges.

U.S. Foreign Service Vet Is To Retire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert D. Murphy, undersecretary of state and troubleshooter in U. S. diplomacy, is about to retire after 39 years in the foreign service.

Murphy, who is 65 years old today, has decided to accept a post in private business, turning down the opportunity to become ambassador to West Germany.

Since 1953, the Wisconsin-born Murphy has been the highest ranking career officer in the State Department's top echelon.

The late John Foster Dulles relied heavily on his judgment and skill as a negotiator to help settle many a diplomatic crisis. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter has relied on Murphy just as heavily.

Murphy has played key roles in helping settle the fighting in Lebanon, the Trieste dispute, and many backstage diplomatic quarrels.

He also has been one of the most influential men in the State Department in deciding on policy with the Soviet Union. When Soviet diplomats visited the department to discuss detailed problems, Murphy was usually the man they called on.

Murphy's reasons for stepping down at this time are not known officially. He is known to have considered for a long time whether he should climax his career by accepting the post in West Germany. But he turned it down, notifying President Eisenhower at the White House Tuesday.

He is expected to stay on as undersecretary for about two months.

The present ambassador to West Germany is David K. E. Bruce.

Lima Ex-Convict Terrorizes Family

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—A former convict freed of a charge of shooting with intent to wound only days ago was hunted on the same charge today after police said he terrorized his estranged wife and her six children by a former marriage.

Police say Lloyd Van Riper, 52, who was released from Ohio penitentiary in 1957 after serving 28 years for armed robbery, fired one shot while chasing a 12-year-old stepdaughter into the street. She was unhurt, but the girl and her family fled to neighbors for protection.

Van Riper was freed in Municipal Court recently on a charge of shooting with intent to wound a 19-year-old stepson.

700,000 Ohio Folks Receive Half-Billion

CLEVELAND (AP) — About a half-billion dollars will be collected by about 700,000 Ohioans this year in social security payments from the federal government.

This was evident from a report which Melville H. Hosch, regional director, gave Wednesday showing 694,286 persons in Ohio were receiving payments at the end of last February, the last time totals were figured.

The major share of the money and of the people receiving it comes under the retired men and women classification and represents funds contributed by them and their employers. In Ohio the average retired worker was drawing $75.74 a month in social security last February. This compares with $79.64 in Connecticut, which has the highest state average, and $54.66 in Mississippi, where the average payment is lowest.

The number of retired men and women getting federal old age insurance benefits in February in Ohio was listed by Hosch as 379,611—up 39,939 from a year earlier. Total payments amounted to $28,749,888 a month, an increase of $5,547,180 from a year earlier.

To 117,746 aged dependent spouses, a monthly total of $4,820,854 was being paid in Ohio last February.

Under the comparatively new disability provision, 13,638 persons were drawing $1,254,426 a month.

Survivors' benefits to widows, minor children and aged dependent parents totaled more than a half-million dollars monthly.

Cage Tourney Site To Be Aired Tonight

Pickaway County coaches, male teachers and administrative personnel will meet at 6 p. m. today in the Walnut Twp. school cafeteria for their annual pre-basketball season meeting.

Dinner will be served at 6 p. m., with the business meeting to follow. Main topic of discussion will involve the site of the 1960 County Basketball Tournament.

Reports here indicate that coaches and school administrators are split practically down the middle on the future site for the tourney.

In yaars past, the tournament has been held at the County Fairgrounds' Coliseum. Many coaches maintain conditions are unsafe due to a sweating floor there.

* * *

LAST YEAR conditions became so intolerable that huge floor fans were placed next to the playing surface where players were exposed to possible serious injury.

School administrators maintain that parking facilities are advantageous at the Coliseum, plus the fact that the coliseum is for the use of county residents and should be ulitized.

Coaches favor transferring the tourney to the newly erected Circleville High School gymnasium which will house the same number of fans under more comfortable and safe conditions.

All school personnel agree that tonight's meeting will be interesting.

U.S. A-Chief Tells of Pace Set by Soviet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviets show a remarkable ability to get an atomic energy project moving in a hurry, says Chairman John A. McCone of the Atomic Energy Commission.

But McCone, just back from a Soviet tour with other U.S. experts said he felt the U.S. program of peaceful uses of atomic energy is "considerably more advanced."

McCone told a news conference Tuesday he was shown a thermonuclear machine at Leningrad which the Soviets said they built and got into operation in four months.

It would have taken this country a lot longer, he said, and British scientists estimated it would take them two years.

McCone said the United States must "find a way to cut down our lead time to a minimum" on critical projects. He pointed out, however, the inherent lack of speed in the democratic processes that required getting things approved on various levels of government.

McCone led a party of six American atomic specialists in a six-day tour of Soviet civilian atomic installations. McCone said U.S. developments in nuclear power, controlled thermonuclear fusion and high energy physics are examples of fields in which he said the United states is ahead.

Gotham Cops Urged To Use Billyclubs

NEW YORK (AP)—"A crack around the legs will do them no harm and will cure a lot of this juvenile delinquency," says City Council Majority Leader Joseph T. Sharkey, a Brooklyn Democrat. He spoke Tuesday before the Council adopted a resolution urging Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy to order policemen to carry nightsticks on all shifts. Police now carry the long sticks only at night.

Ohioan on Supreme Court Is Living 'in Goldfish Bowl'

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Everyone wants to see the new giraffe in the zoo," Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart observed.

He was referring to himself, and his career on the highest bench that started just a year ago. So many people want to see the Ohioan who—at 44—is easily the youngest member of the nation's highest court.

But Stewart has to refuse most of the many invitations he receives to speak, to attend parties, to write articles. He says he simply is too occupied with his work.

He talked about his job the other day in his office. As he figures it, he participated in perhaps 150 cases a year when he was on the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati.

That compares, he said, with 1,800 cases decided by the Supreme Court in the last year—and he had to read every one.

"That means working almost every night at home," he said. "I have a hideaway on the third floor where I read. Also I'm usually here (in his office) Saturdays.

"Sometimes I'm interrupted in my reading at home by my two older children, asking help on their homework. I'm glad to do it, too."

Stewart is proud of his children: Harriet, 14, Potter Jr., 11, and David, 8. Harriet is at Madeira School in suburban Virginia, Potter attends St. Albans in Washington. Both are private schools.

David goes to Jackson public school in the Georgetown section of Washington, where the Stewarts have rented a house.

"Harriet, the oldest, is an excellent student," her father said. "Potter was just elected president of the sixth grade."

Stewart has a cardinal rule that homework must be completed before Harriet and Potter may watch television. Usually, that means they don't get to watch much.

"But, David, the youngest, is quite a TV fan," he said.

The justice himself watches only an occasional football or world series baseball game. He says he hardly has much time for outside reading, let alone time for television.

He manages to read the New York Times and Washington Post every morning. Currently he is reading a novel about Washington politics, "Advise and Consent."

How would he describe the work of a Supreme Court justice? As he put it in an address to a group of lawyers a few weeks ago, it's much like the work of federal judges elsewhere—with this difference:

"The tempo is faster, the pressures greater, the conflicts sharper.

"There is the ever-present consciousness, at least for a newcomer, that he is functioning in a goldfish bowl—the uncomfortable feeling, as one of my colleagues has put it, that everything he writes is chiseled in stone."

Mile of Pennies Drive Ended Short of Goal

Circleville High School Band Mothers today announced the final collection of the Mile of Pennies campaign which ended Monday. The collection came within 260 feet of the intended goal, 5,280 feet.

The total collection was $606.76 which was $31 short of the goal, $638.

A weekly individual prize was awarded to the three pupils turning in the greatest number of feet of pennies. Also a prize was given to each elementary school room that turned in the largest number of feet of pennies during the campaign.

Folders for the Mile of Pennies drive were donated by the Circleville Savings and Banking Company. Andy's Restaurant, 504 S. Court St., donated the proceeds of the oversized hamburgers which he auctioned off Friday at the Pumpkin Show to the Band Mothers drive.

This week's individual prize winners were—1. P. D. Ehmley, senior band—43 ft.; 2. Elaine Goldschmidt, senior band—39 ft.; 3. Kay Kline, Wayne Twp. School—37 ft.

School rooms receiving awards are—Circleville Junior High School grade 8— 202 ft.; Corwin St., grade 1—53 ft.; Wayne Twp. grade 5—185 ft.; Mound St., grade 2—55 ft.; and South Court, grade 5—69 ft.

Walnut St., grade 1 — 60 ft.; Franklin St., grade 4—57 ft.; High Street, grade 5—132 ft.; and Atwater, grade 4—172 ft.

Beware of Food Fads

Recent research suggests that, through atomic science, alcohol may be extracted from wheat as a fuel on a commercial basis. That could eat into the wheat surplus, particularly that part of it not desirable for milling and baking.

Another line of inquiry is proceeding in the grain sorghums. These, too, tend to pile up because production is greater than demand for feed. Yet the sorghums have a heavy starch potential and might provide an important base for industrial production.

While these trends promise increased grain consumption, nutritionists are inquiring into the effect of various foods on the heart and arteries. The villain, according to one medical school of thought, is cholesterol, a fatty substance that shuts off circulation if too much of it builds up in the circulatory system.

Some scientists have suspected a number of causes, including potatoes and the grain cereals. Word got out that maybe you ought to go slow on potatoes and cereals. As a result potato consumption per capita in the U. S. went down from 146 pounds in 1938 to 107 pounds in 1958. Consumption of grain cereals declined from 204 pounds per capita in 1938 to 146 pounds last year.

Now the experts are getting off that scent, more or leess, and putting sugar at the top of the list of suspects. They're putting bread and potatoes back on the list of pantry staples that people ought to eat more of.

Consumption of sugar has remained about the same per capita through the years. Now sugar producers had better get on their guard. If the nutrition faddists go after sugar as they once did after bread and potatoes, the producers of that commodity will be compelled to undertake a fight against declining consumption similar to that of the cereal and potato producers.

There is a constant struggle against food prejudice. It is very much a factor in the market places. It would be well if the experts were sure of their ground before proceeding. But perhaps that would be too much to expect of them.

Need More Pre-Marriage Info

Did you know that you are (or were) "preconditioned" to success or failure in marriage? So says a family sociologist.

Judson Landis, staff member of the University of California, contends the roots of marriage troubles go back to early experiences of individuals in their own families. If the individuals come from happy families, their chances of a happy marriage are good. Otherwise not.

Landis admitted that this fact would probably not keep any young people from marrying. But he said that persons from unhappy families should recognize that they are "poor risks" and have to work that much harder to make their own marriages successful. Recognizing the handicap from family background is the first step in achieving a successful relationship, he added.

Landis' main point for students is the importance of young people ascertaining what they and their would-be mate are really like. He deplored the fact that dating and courtship years often are spent without learning the elementary facts — especially how each prospective marriage partner thinks and feels about things important to the other.

Late Sleeper Becomes Actor

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—"Some people don't like to get up in the morning," said Eddie Jackson, "So they go into show business."

"That's how it was with me. I couldn't get up early enough to look for any other kind of work," he said.

Dixieland music is back, bigger than ever, and "Struttin' Eddie," who has been singing it for 45 years, is cashing in on the boom.

"I don't know any other kind of music. I like the beat of rock 'n' roll, but I can't catch the lyrics," he said.

"If you put a gun to my head and asked me to name three words in any rock 'n' roll tune, I couldn't do it—not even to save my life."

The banjo-eyed veteran, slowed up a bit by a double hernia operation a few years ago, is still one of the most active survivors of the heyday of vaudeville. Eddie, now 63, started as a singing waiter in Brooklyn. He teamed in his salad past with Jimmy Durante and the late Lou Clayton, and played at the old Palace here, the mecca of vaudeville, no less than 29 times.

Jackson loves to recall the Prohibition Era of the flaming 1920s.

"There was a lot of money around then, and it was being spent," he said. "Anything they couldn't get is what people wanted —so they all seemed to want to drink.

"But I don't miss the night clubs. Those were closed-door days. They had some rough college boys around then who aren't around now—if you get what I mean.

"People don't go for the night clubs so much now. They all stay home and keep their television sets warm. I do myself."

As he talked of the old days, Eddie cocked his head sideways as if he were listening to the faint echo of a distant song.

"The greatest entertainer that ever lived was Al Jolson," he said. "No man ever thrilled me like that man."

Eddie came from a poor family —his father was a pushcart peddler—and knew lean years of struggle himself.

"I believe in doing the other fellow good; I never hurt anybody in my life," he said. "I don't mind how big the other fellow's yacht is, or how green his yard is—just so there's a little green in my own yard."

Moonshine Business Booming

By George Sokolsky

It does not seem possible, but moonshining has developed into a big industry and it is estimated that from 40,000 to 60,000 persons are engaged in producing moonshine liquor and that perhaps 150,000 more are engaged in the distribution and sale of the stuff.

What does this mean in terms of government? It can only mean that just as local governments are unable to deal with the increase in major crimes and the fact that the age of the criminal is consistently lower, year by year, so is the Federal Government unable to enforce its laws because when taxes on a commodity make that commodity too costly, contraband sales set in. In 1958, more than 20,000 illegal stills were seized and according to statistics gathered by Licensed Beverage Industries, Inc., their production amounted to about 55,000,000 gallons of moonshine liquor which would gross about $1,000,000,000.

According to the same source perhaps 20 percent of all liquor consumed in this country in 1958, was non-taxed moonshine. This is an enormous percentage, particularly as it is now 26 years after Prohibition was abolished and the bootlegger is supposed to be out of business.

Again, the same thing is true of moonshining that is true of most other evasive crimes; they cannot be committed without the consent of government officials, particularly at the lower level. The fact is that it takes 10 pounds of sugar to make a gallong of moonshine. Therefore the wholesaler who sells large quantities of sugar to those who can have no proper use for sugar in such huge dimensions must have some knowledge of the reason for the purchase. There must be bankers or factors who finance these operations and whose activities can be traced by efficient government supervision.

To the distillers, naturally, this is a form of competition that is annoying, but the real issue is tax evasion. Whenever a group is enabled to evade taxes, by whatever method, whether it is shipping money to Switzerland or gypping the customs by bringing in dresses from Paris, the rest of us have to pay more taxes. There can be no excuse for creating a privileged class of those who do not pay taxes.

The moonshiner exists because he is able to evade the excise tax on liquor. If he had to pay $10.50 a gallon Federal excise tax, plus state taxes, he would go out of business. Whatever he pays to state and county officials as graft is less than $10.50 a gallon. Therefore, he can stay in business. The moonshiner can sell his liquor, after paying graft and taking his profit, for about half the price that tax-paid liquor costs.

The size of moonshining is now so large that it needs to be taken seriously. The usual crime syndicates have gone into the business and in cities such as New York, Cleveland and Detroit, the business now flourishes on a large scale. The heaviest concentration of moonshine stills is in the Southeastern states, although there is considerable activity of this kind in New York, Pennsylvania and Oklahoma.

Some people like moonshine liquor. They get a kick out of the illegality of it. They are thrilled by the escapade of doing something they ought not to do. But the game is not worth the candle because all the safety devices that the law has put upon the distilling industry disappear in moonshining. Also, it gives to the criminal elements another commodity in which they can deal freely, designating markets, dividing territories and killing those who stand in their way.

One of the fundamental moral problems in the United States is the re-establishment of the authority of the law and the punishment of those who violate the law. Those who push heroin or marijuana or moonshine whiskey are all of the same ilk; they violate the law, organize crime syndicates and disturb society.

Invariably they are able to operate because some law enforcement agency is unable or unwilling to do its duty, or has been so corrupted that it has actually become part of the crime syndicate. These racketeers move in wherever it is possible. They are in narcotics, in moonshine whiskey, in labor unions, even in what has heretofore been regarded as legitimate business. They have their own lawyers and bankers. They are a menace to established government because they are organized to violate the law and evade taxes.

You're Telling Me!

New acturial tables disclose that slender people live longer. Now you know why insurance companies take a narrow viewpoint.

Overweight people can still live to a ripe old age, however. At least they've got a fat chance.

One fact about both men and women hasn't changed. They die very late in life.

The actuaries learned that women are five pounds lighter than they were 30 years ago. Slow process, that reducing.

Women still outlive men, their statistics say. Women's figures may lie, but their statistics don't.

It's no wonder women die later than men. Most women won't admit they're that old.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

SAM LEVENSON reports that he dropped into a Chinese restaurant recently and was mildly astonished to note that the menu featured pizza pie. Summoning the manager, he demanded, "How come a chop suey joint serves an Italian dish like pizza?"

"We gotta," explained the manager. "The demand is terrific. You see, this is a Jewish neighborhood."

Home from a trek through darkest Africa with his wife, an explorer confided to J. W. Cunningham that the highlight of the expedition was the day they were captured by a band of cannibals. The chief, luckily, proved to be something of an epicure. "I never eat a person who has passed the age of forty," he announced.

"That was the moment," recalled the explorer, "that I heard my wife give her correct age for the first time in public."

TV Can Make You Fat

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Most of you can blame lack of will power if you are fat. You simply eat too much.

But you can also justifiably place a good share of the blame on the advent of the invention of television, the home freezer and all of our other labor-saving devices.

Supermarkets are wonderful places in which to buy the family's groceries. The only problem is that they make it too easy to buy too much.

This, coupled with the ease of storing food in home freeers and refrigerators, has helped change our shopping habits—and our figures.

Not so many years ago when a homemaker went shopping she bought only enough food to last for two or three days. That's about all she could carry in her arms or in the youngster's wagon. Besides, that's all she could store conveniently at home.

Now the housewife takes the family car when she goes shopping and she often buys enough to last a week or more.

She doesn't buy one loaf of bread, she gets two or three, maybe even four. Instead of getting one box of cookies, she picks up three. She doesn't get one candy bar, she buys a box of them.

One ice cream bar? Of course not. She has a freezer at home, so she buys half a dozen, or possibly a whole dozen.

As I said, she buys enough to last a week. However, often it does not last that long.

When the goodies are in the house the temptation is great to eat them. One ice cream bar no longer suffices. There's always another one in the freezer and it's a simple matter to get it.

Televiewing, of course, is an accessory after the fact. It has become a national habit to nibble while watching TV.

By ten p. m. that fullness you felt after dinner has worn off. With commercial after commercial appealing to your appetite, it's natural that you beat a path to the refrigerator, pantry or freezer.

And you lose another round in the battle of the bulge.

Question and Answer

A. B.: How long after the last period of a woman going through the menopause is she safe from becoming pregnant?

Answer: There is no absolute rule as to how long after the cessation of menstruation the possibility of pregnancy will end. To be reasonably safe, several years without any menstrual flow should be permitted to elapse.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — If Fidel Castro is earnest about wanting a democratic Cuba, then why all the blood?

Prime Minister Castro has been in effect dictator since his rebel army last New Year's Day threw out Fulgencio Batista's dictatorship and took over.

He has called for land reforms, probably badly needed, and other social changes. But Cuba is in growing turmoil. Criticism of his regime is rising.

He was an inspired rebel military leader but now gives the impression of a man too emotional, chaotic and disorganized to run a government.

As the heat increases, he thinks of vengeance. He calls for death for his enemies by firing squads and depends not on ballots but on mobs for support.

His government suspended Congress Jan. 6, put off new elections for 18 to 24 months, suspended criminal courts, and, through military courts, rolled up 555 executions by firing squads.

Yet he said Cuba will remain a democracy. "We are men of the law."

The firing squads worked for months, were finally stopped. But his troubles continued. This week he summoned 250,000 Cubans to a rally in Havana.

He outdid Hollywood by arriving in a helicopter, gun in hand, denounced the United States and asked the mob for approval for new firing squads. He got it.

This was reminiscent of last January when the firing squad execution of so-called war criminals was being severely criticized abroad and he called together a rally of a million Cubans to approve what he was doing to his enemies.

His idea of justice was to try a foe in a sports stadium, with not a single witness appearing in his defense, before 18,000 people. The crowd included American newspapermen his government invited down to see the spectacle.

This was what happened in the case of Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco, who had directed Batista's army operations against Castro. There was never any doubt of the outcome: the major was sentenced to death before a firing squad.

When Castro addresses a mob he harangues, he screams, he appeals to hate in a way Hitler or Mussolini might have found refreshing.

He denies he is a Communist but turns with fury on any who say he is or complain that Communists are infiltrating his government.

He has done this three times to men once close to him.

On Oct. 19 Maj. Hubert Matos, one of Castro's most respected revolutionary leaders, resigned as commander of Camaguey province, charging the Castro regime was being penetrated by Communists.

Castro had him arrested and before Monday night's mob virtually signed the major's death warrant by asking approval for Matos' execution by a firing squad. The mob responded: "Firing squads! Firing squads!"

On July 13 Manuel Urrutia, Castro's handpicked president, blasted Cuban Communists although declaring Castro's government "has absolutely nothing to do with Communists." Why this threw Castro into an emotional spin is not clear. But it did. He accused Urrutia of "near treason."

On July 17 Castro denounced Urrutia on television and, in a play for mob support against the President, resigned as prime minister. A few hours later Urrutia resigned. Then Castro went back as prime minister.

The most sensational case was that of Maj. Pedro Luis Diaz Lanz, who resigned June 30 as Cuban air force chief, fled to the United States, and told a Senate committee Castro was a Communist. Cuban officials called him a liar.

On Oct. 19 — the same day Matos resigned — Havana was plastered with leaflets from a plane flying over Havana. This was the latest of several similar leaflet air drops.

The former air force chief several days ago told U.S. authorities he had piloted an unarmed aircraft over Havana last Wednesday. Later he publicly denied this statement. He is in the United States.

These various episodes so inflamed Castro that at Monday's rally he denounced the United States. The U. S. State Department protested in a stiff reply. The episode of the plane put this country in an embarrassing fix.

But Castro didn't gain anything, except mob approval, for his performance. The net result: tattered relations between Cuba and the United States.

Lake County Bank Takes Over Stamps

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Not long after he began his present term, State Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson announced that he felt deserving Democrats should have the sales tax stamp agency commissions many banks were collecting.

Now, in Lake County, a number of the Democrats to whom Ferguson assigned agencies Sept. 30 have turned their selling job over to the Lake County National Bank and its branches. The bank, which had handled the stamp sales before Ferguson revoked their agencies, shares the one per cent commission with the appointed agents.

Joseph E. Sarosy, chairman of the Democratic executive committee of Lake County, disclosed Tuesday that the agent-appointees had made the agreement with the bank. But he declined to say what the commission-splitting arrangement was.

Sarosy had been appointed an agent in Painesville. The only agent in central Lake County prior to Sarosy's appointment and after Ferguson had revoked the bank's agency was the county treasurer. His commissions had to be returned to the county general fund, and the fund was enriched about $9,000 last year from this source, Mrs. Catharine B. Rose, deputy county treasurer said. Now, she said, sales at the county courthouse office of the treasurer have been dropping off.

First Astronaut Is Cinch To Be Very Frightened Flier

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—What will happen to the first man shot into space?

"He'll get the hell scared out of him."

That is a comment from Dr. Fred W. Berner, the man who is helping to put the "finishing touches" on the nation's seven astronauts.

Dr. Berner is technical director of research at the Aero Space Medical Laboratory at Wright Air Development Center, Dayton. He spoke Tuesday night to members of the Central Ohio section of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

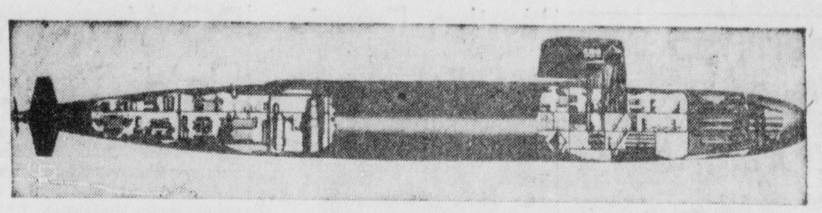

Space travel for man is not so simple after all, he explained. Combatting weightlessness — zero gravity — and meeting human needs are two of the big problems. Dr. Berner's job deals with the problems affecting man—Psychological, physiological, isolation, claustrophobia, food, water, oxygen and body chemical processes. The serious problems in interplanetary travel, he said, involve weight, space and power.

"We don't know how the body is going to react under the long time gravity zero," he said, speaking of the point when man, if not strapped down, will float. "If anybody here can develop a means of creating gravity zero for five minutes, let me know."

Thus far, by use of jet plane at high altitude and steep dives, gravity zero has been maintained for about 30 seconds.

Dr. Berner said man's entry into space will be by rocket penetration and early return such as was accomplished with two monkeys. And the first space trip will come when scientists "perfect the business of where (the first man up) is going to light."

Questioned by the chemical engineers on Soviet progress, Dr. Berner replied: "Don't underestimate the Russians." He also said, in reply to questions, that space travel in event of an international conflict would be of advantage if a space ship could be maneuvered within 400 miles of earth.

ANOTHER POLARIS SHOOTER—The Oct. 3 launching at Mare Island Naval shipyard, Vallejo, Calif., finds this undersea weapon sliding into the deep. It is the nuclear sub Theodore Roosevelt, third such to be built on the west coast and latest addition to the U. S. Navy's Polaris missile fleet. The cutaway sketch shows the engine room at far left, and the reactor room next to it. Enclosed middle section is the missile area. Toward the bow are the control room, crew quarters and forward torpedo room. The T.R. has 16 firing tubes for the 1,500-mile Polaris missiles. The 6,700-ton sub is 380-plus feet long.

Officials Press Probe Into Woman's Death

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Allen County officials are continuing their probe in the death of Mrs. Fay Brown, 54. She was shot in front of her home Monday. Sheriff's deputies have been unable to obtain any coherent information from the victim's son, Darrell, 21, in custody since early Tuesday.

4-H Program Highlights Saltcreek Twp. PTO Meeting

Discussion of levies to be voted on by Logan Elm voters, 4-H Achievement awards, purchasing window shades for the older section of the school and a talk by George Hamrick, County Agent, were highlights of the Saltcreek PTO meeting held Monday evening.

Carl Anderson presided at the session held in the school auditorium. Mr. H. A. Strous, membership drive chairman, reported the results of the drive which ended Monday. Top room honors went to the 4th grade students and their teacher, Miss Margaret Chilcote with 82 members.

Mrs. Florence Bochert's 1st grade and Dale Drake's 6th grade won second and third place awards. Individual winners were Lynn Kay Fraunfelter with 36 memberships, followed by Darlene Collins and Lorna Poling and Lynda Young who tied for third place.

On the recommendation of the school needs committee the membership agreed to purchase new window shades for the front of the older section of the school as well as first aid kits for the first eight grades and two record players for the use of the lower grades.

The president named the teachers of the first four grades to the program committee for November and asked Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dresbach, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Moss, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Speakman and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Justice to serve as the refreshment committee. It was also decided to hold future PTO meetings at 7:30 p. m.

Logan Elm Superintendent, Carl Burger, distributed information sheets on the school levies to come up for vote in next week's election. He explained the need for the funds requested. The operating teacher's salaries, to provide which is needed to continue paying teacher's alaries, to provide for fuel, light, janitorial services and supplies. A two and one-half mill levy, he explained, is needed for one year to raise forty-six thousand dollars to buy equipment for the new high school.

For the program, devotions were conducted by Barbara Jenkins. 4-H Advisors, Miss Donna Hardman, Francis Fraunfleter, Robert Collins, Judson Beougner and Raymond Hedges made achievement awards to 35 members of the two Saltcreek clubs.

George Hamrick, county agent, spoke briefly emphasizing the good to be gained from keeping boys and girls busy in 4-H and other activities. A piano solo by Linda McFadden and two numbers by the junior orchestra under the direction of R. H. Shaw completed the program.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Spangler, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Van Fossen.

28 Children Celebrate Halloween

Junior Modern Woodmen Club held its annual Halloween Party Tuesday night in the club rooms of the Masonic Temple.

Twenty-eight children dressed as barnyard animals, witches, farmers, society ladies, sailors, Indians, storybook characters and High School majorettes were present.

Rita Garrett and Judy Gatrell tied for the prettiest; Donna and Debbie Whaley, witches, were named the ugliest and Ellen Whaley, made up as an Indian maiden was awarded a prize for the most characteristic.

Club director Ruby Cross, assisted by club officers, served donuts, cider and candy to the group.

Mothers present were Mrs. Esther Gattrell, Mrs. Pauline Garrett and Mrs. Margaret Bunn.

Initiation exercises will be held at the next meeting November 18th.

Teenage Class Elects Officers

Election of officers was held when the Senior Teenage Class of the Christian Union Church met in the home of their teacher, Mrs. Laura Maxwell Monday.

Officers elected were: Ethel Ramey, president; Butch Adkins, vice president; Jane Huff, secretary; Barbara Knece, treasurer; Grover Temple, assisting secretary; and Jane Huff, news reporter.

Following the devotional period, games and refreshments were enjoyed by the group. Plans for the next class meeting have not been scheduled.

Halloween Party Staged by Local Young Ladies

Mrs. Clarence H. England, 132 Logan St., entertained her Sunday School Class of sixth grade girls of the Church of Christ in Christian Union at her home Tuesday evening.

The house was decorated in Halloween colors of black and orange crepe paper. Pumpkins and black cats added to the Halloween atmosphere.

Ellen Whaley won the prize for best costume. Another prize winner was Marjene Phillips.

The evening was spent playing games and contests. After refreshments were served the group sang a couple of old hymns and a prayer was given by Mrs. McClellan Clark.

Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Max Noggle assisted Mrs. England with the games and refreshments.

Those attending were Linda Rodgers, Charlene Arledge, Evonne Griffey, Teresa Lane, Karen Sue Wilson, Connie Ayers, Sandra Ramey, Susie Carpenter, Ellen Whaley, Michele Vanhoose, Sharon Gaines, Brenda Downing, Janet Hatfield, Julianne Temple, and Marjene Phillips.

Kitchen arithmetic: When a recipe calls for 1½ cups of grated cheddar cheese you'll need 6 ounces.

Eastern Star Joins Society

Circleville Chapter No. 90 held its regular meeting Tuesday evening in the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Donna Foreman, Worthy Matron was in charge of the business meeting. The Chapter voted a membership to the Pickaway County Historical Society. Leslie Hines was appointed as a representative to the Pickaway County Traffic Safety Committee.

Election of officers for the year 1959-1960 will be held at the November 10th meeting. All members are urged to be present to cast their ballots.

Yearly dues will be payable November 11. Members are asked to pay the secretary, Mrs. Emma Curlett.

PC Womens Republican Club Holds Luncheon-Meeting

About 50 members and guests of the Pickaway County Women's Republican Club were present at New Holland Methodist Church to observe their Halloween Casserole Luncheon and Meeting Monday.

Table arrangements and decorations for the fall season were made by Mrs. Roy Stewart, Mrs. L. M. Tarbill and Mrs. Merton Tootle.

Following the luncheon, the business session opened with prayer by Mrs. Elmer Siegle. Pledge to the flag was led by Miss Betty McCoy.

A review of the 20th Annual Fall Conference of the Ohio Federation of Republican Women's Organizations was reported, with discussions and remarks. A review of the Hawaiian Party, celebrating Hawaii being admitted into the Union as our 50th State was given by Mrs. Wilbur Gillespie. Others who attended were Mrs. Herbert E. Louis, Mrs. William Lucas and Mrs. Donna Wagner.

Special recognition was given to Mrs. Theron Loose, who celebrated her 60th wedding anniversary on October 15, and to Mrs. Herbert E. Louis, former State Republican Representative, who was celebrating her 49th wedding anniversary Monday.

It was voted to donate Christmas wrapped gift packages to be given to the Orient State School for Christmas. Gifts are to be brought to the November 23rd meeting at the home of Mrs. Elmer Siegle, Ashville.

Guild No. 36 Observes Halloween

Members of Berger Hospital Guild No. 36 were dressed in Halloween costumes last evening when they met in the home of Mrs. Ronald List, Route 1.

Plans were completed for the annual bazaar to be held November 13th in the Armory. Guild No. 36 members will be selling pocketbooks, stoles, sweaters, dish cloths, cookbooks and chances on a clock and stole.

Jean Binkley read a letter from Mr. Williamson, Berger Hospital Administrator, explaining hospital needs.

The next meeting will be held in Shade's Restaurant, Canal Winchester, on November 18th. Those attending are asked to contact Mrs. John Cockrell, GR 4-4377 for reservations by November 13th.

Mrs. Don Hurley, 124½ Watt St., will host the December 16th meeting.

Trailmakers Hold Candy Exchange

Mrs. Bill Ankrom, 415 N. Pickaway St., was hostess to the Trailmakers Class of Calvary EUB Church Tuesday evening. There were 14 members present.

Mrs. Dorothy Wise was in charge of devotions. She concluded with a reading, "A Mighty Fortress". The group then repeated the Lord's Prayer.

The business meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. Andrew Goeller. The group voted to donate clothing to needy children at Thanksgiving in place of the usual food baskets.

During the social hour, conducted by Mrs. Goeller, prizes were awarded to Mrs. Manley Carothers and Mrs. G. E. Niswender.

At the close of the evening, a home-made candy exchange was held and refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Niswender.

Local Women Attend OFWC Conference

Tuesday, members of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs attended the district conference held in the McKendree Methodist Church, Columbus.

Mrs. Carl A. Weinman, president of OFWC, told of her tour of Asia with a group of women from the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Weinman and Mrs. Ned Newcomer, Director of Juniors for Ohio, gave a report on the GFWC Board Meeting in Washington.

Both speakers devoted much time to reporting their experiences during a visit to Postal Department where they were shown a display of obscene literature which is being sent through the mails to children whose names the publishers are able to secure.

Mrs. Weinman told of seeing sewing machines donated by clubwomen, through CARE, being used 24 hours a day near Manila. She also told of watching the distribution of 5000 school kits by American Clubwomen in Hong Kong, which were donated to the children, about half of whom are refugees from Red China.

The theme of the conference was "House of Treasures". Following a short tour into the house, a dramatization of the departments of work of the Ohio Federation was given.

Mrs. Ralph Dunkel, district music chairman sang, "Bless This House". Also participating in the day's program was Mrs. William Speakman, president of Circleville Junior Women's Club, who led the Junior pledge.

Attending the conference from Circleville in addition to Mrs. Speakman and Mrs. Dunkel were Mrs. Richard Pettit, Mrs. Earl Wolfe, Mrs. Sterling Poling, Mrs. Earl Weaver, Mrs. Forrest Croman and Mrs. Homer Reber.

Ladies Aid Plans Wednesday Meeting

Ladies Aid of Morris EUB Church will hold its meeting in the home of Mrs. Carl Anderson, Route 4, at 2 p. m. Wednesday. Mrs. Anderson will be assisted by Mrs. Minnie Kerns.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

You'll Be Sorry, Young Lady

DEAR ABBY: My problem has been getting me down. I have been dating a young man who means nothing to me. He says he loves me. I have told him honestly I like him only as a friend. I feel guilty letting him spend his money on me but he begs me to go out with him anyway. When I turn him down (I date others, too) he cries and it breaks my heart. He calls me every single day! He knows I go with him because I feel sorry for him, but he says he is living in hopes that one day I will love him like he loves me. I am 20 and he is 23. When I kiss him good night, I gag.

SORRY FOR HIM

DEAR SORRY: Girls who go with men because they "feel sorry for them" usually wind up feeling sorrier for themselves. Send him on his way. He'll live.

DEAR ABBY: I am a man who has done a hitch in the Navy and has been around quite a bit. I am 33 and have been going with a woman who is 29. I like a woman to be honest with me as we talked over our past lives out-in-the-open like. I told her about my past and then she commenced to tell me about hers. At first she said there were only three men in her life. This didn't bother me much because I figured it was average. Every time we get on the subject she brings up another one. The total is now up to eleven. I am very upset about this and wonder if maybe she is not the girl for me. What do you advise?

BEEN AROUND

DEAR BEEN: If she gets to 12—sell!

DEAR ABBY: I am a Senior at college so you know I'm no moron. I've been dating this girl who is engaged to a man who goes to another college. I know for a fact that this girl thinks more of me than she does of her fiance. I can tell by the way she kisses me. My problem is she won't admit it. She won't do anything about it (like send her ring back). But I know she'd like to. How can I get her to break off with the other guy and be all mine?

FLIPPED

DEAR FLIPPED: (and I do think you have!): Do you realize that you are fighting for the "love" of a girl who is engaged to one man and romancing with another? If you think a wedding ring would stop her circulation, you'd better think again. Take a good look at her in daylight.

Do you have a problem? For a personal reply, write to Abby, in care of this newspaper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Kingston News Report

By Miss Margaret Thomas
Phone NI 2-3495

Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett, who was elected a delegate to the Altrusa Conference of the 5th District, spent from Friday evening to Sunday, in Akron where she stayed with a group of delegates at the Mayflower Hotel.

One of the highlights of the weekend was a conducted tour through the Stan-Hywet Museseum. This was originally the 60-room home of Mr. Seiberling, who was the founder of the Akron Rubber Co.

It is built in English architecture and furnished with many wonderful and valuable pieces of art.

They also were in Mansfield where they visited the Kingswood Gardens to see the beautiful Chrysanthemum Show.

Mr. and Mrs. David Crouse Jr., of Lake White, have recently become the owners of Lawson's Restaurant located at the northern edge of Waverly.

• • •

THE CROUSES are former residents of Kingston and are well known in Ross County where they are called Dave and Louise. They have named their new enterprise "The Crouse House," and report that they will install pizza ovens along with other improvements.

Since Dave is busy with his duties at the Waverly State Bank, where he is vice president, and Louise is a teacher in the Jasper schools, they have engaged Bill Lawson to manage the business. He has been associated with the restaurant since it opened several years ago, so is familiar with its operation.

We called attention to the 96th birthday of Mr. Charlie Edler which was celebrated Oct. 4 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Asa Parks. Mr. Edler (Grandpa) is still up and about, but is not in Kingston, as reported.

Just recently he has gone to stay at the Gospel Light Nursing Home, 15 S. Hickory St., Chillicothe, where his wife "Mollie" is being cared for, because of a hip injury she suffered some time ago.

On Friday the Edlers observed their 69th wedding anniversary. No celebration was planned, but members of the family called to congratulate them, and friends sent cards and notes of greeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Edler have a son, Mr. Charles W. Edler, besides the daughter already mentioned, and seven grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Mr. Edler spent much of his life farming in Ross County, but because of ill health had to give it up. For 21 years he was custodian of the Methodist Church and no one could ever ring the bell like Grandpa. Later he was care-taker of the old grade school building on Church Street for eight years.

Thus he is widely known in this area and he and his wife are highly respected citizens.

Keep in mind the meeting Wednesday at the Methodist Church in observance of the Week of Prayer and Self-denial. All members of the four churches on the charge, with their families and friends, are invited to be present.

MR. AND MRS. William Gary spent Tuesday in Columbus. They have recently moved here from Columbus, and Mr. Gary is the new upholsterer who has opened a place of business on Main Street, next door to the Library.

Mrs. Blanche Long and cousin, Mr. W. S. Van Skiver visited his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Shellhorn, at Springfield Wednesday. Mrs. Shellhorn is recovering from a serious operation.

Mr. Robert Whitsel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Whitsel is in Grant Hospital where he was put in traction. He is suffering from an injury received while he was at work at the Meade Paper Co. in Chillicothe.

Pat Kelley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carson Kelley, was operated on in Chillicothe Hospital on Wednesday. Pat is the boy who was in a coma for 4 months in 1958, following a bicycle accident. This surgery had nothing to do with that injury, however.

Mrs. Lawrence Betz, the president, had charge of the meeting when the Ne Plus Ultra organization met at the Methodist Church, Tuesday evening. Miss Margaret Thomas presented the devotions.

The secretary, Mrs. Paul Miller, and the treasurer, Miss Mildred Holderman, gave their reports. The Traveling Basket was present and again started out.

The committee, appointed to investigate the cost of making sliding doors for the church kitchen, reported and were ordered to complete the work.

The pecans, which is the project of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, have arrived and some were sold to this group. The gift package of the evening was won by Mrs. James Search.

Miss Nancy Jones entertained with several piano solos, and Mrs. N. F. Bond played a group of popular numbers of "yester year", while refreshments were being served.

The committee in charge were Mrs. Charlie Miller, Mrs. Lawrence Kerns, Mrs. Paul Miller, Mrs. Barton Whitten, and Mrs. Rufus Kerns.

'STUPID THING' — That's what Virginia Arness, wife of the star of the "Gunsmoke" TV series, said about her suicide attempt in Honolulu. She told reporters she and her husband James, who plays marshal Matt Dillon on television, had been "having difficulties the last three years."

Mother Is Freed In Death of Child

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I did it; I know I did it," said the young mother accused of murdering her 3-year-old daughter.

"I don't want to go home," Elvera Ellis told her husband.

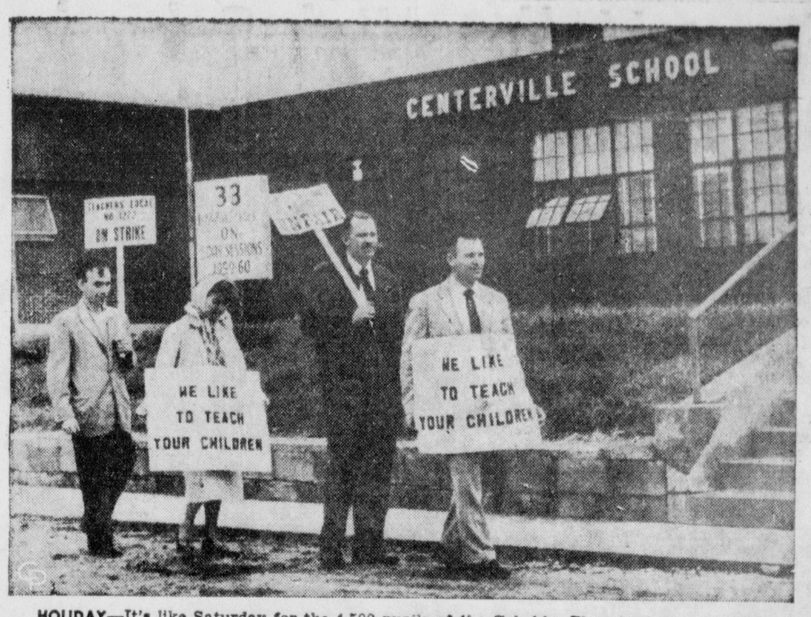

But Mrs. Ellis was free to go home anyway. She had just been acquitted.

The 21-year-old mother said she struck Gloria Duran — her daughter by a previous marriage — because Gloria hit her 10-month-old son.

There had been testimony that Gloria suffered previous head injuries and Superior Court Judge Walter H. Odemar decided: "I can't find her (the mother) guilty in the face of this testimony."

400 Men To Be Idled By Dayton Plant Move

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Some 400 workers will be idled here when the V-belt operations of Dayton Rubber Co. are moved to Springfield, Mo., by Nov. 13. A spokesman attributed the move to a "tremendous" increase in business

HOLIDAY—It's like Saturday for the 4,500 pupils of the Cahokia, Ill., school district while this is going on—a strike of 100 of the 180 teachers. They seek $300 pay increases, regret the strike but "will stick by their convictions."

Teays Valley High School Big Enough for 850 Pupils

Pictured above is the proposed Teays Valley consolidated high school. The bond issue for the construction and equipping the school will appear on Tuesday's off-year general election ballot.

The building's proposed site is 60 acres west and south of the intersection of Route 752 and the Circleville - Lockbourne Eastern Road, north of Ashville.

Plans call for the high school to be completed by September, 1961 to concur with the opening of schools that fall. It will provide adequate facilities for 850 pupils.

Based on 85 cents a cubic foot cost, the building will cost $1,423,750. Other fees and costs will include architects' fees, $87,600 or 6 per cent of the total amount;

* * *

FURNITURE and fixtures, $170,850; athletic field, $97,800; land, $60,000 or $1,000 an acre, and site improvement, $60,000.

The bond issue will not only care for the present student population but will meet enrollment for many years to come at the present expected rate of increased enrollment, according to school officials.

The building will be constructed so that additional classrooms and shops may be added at a minimum of cost.

The high school building would include facilities for English and foreign language, science and electronics, social science, mathematics;

Commercial, vocational home economics, vocational agriculture, manual arts, metal working and mechanics, driver training and automotive, arts and crafts, drafting, printing and photography;

Music, both vocal and instrumental; health therapy, library to seat 76 persons, study halls of 80 seats each, cafeteria with stage for double service;

* * *

A 1,200-SEAT auditorium; athletic field and stadium; a 2,000-seat gymnasium; speech therapy room; counselling rooms; sick rooms; a complete kitchen; general office rooms; storage rooms, and boys' and girls' rest rooms.

The plans call for the high school to have facilities sufficient to meet the requirements of the North Central Assn. of Secondary Schools.

Based on an average cost of 3.4 mills for 20 years, the additional tax would mean $3.40 per year for property valued at $1,000; $10.20 for $3,000 piece of property;

Property valued at $5,000 would be taxed $17 per year; $6,000 at $20.40 per year, and an $8,000 property at $27.20 per year.

These taxes are based on real estate property which is valued at half of its market value on the tax duplicate.

Buggy Drivers Told About Lighting Law

MILLERSBURG, Ohio (AP)—The current issue of the Sugar Creek Budget, a publication circulating through the Amish section, contains a reminder from the sheriff of Holmes County about buggy lights.

Sheriff Harry R. Weiss notes that under a new state law, effective Nov. 1, all vehicles travelling the highway at night at speeds under 20 miles an hour must have flashing red lights.

This safety measure will require some changes in the Amish country. Some of the newer buggy models are equipped with batteries and lights, but lack any flashing mechanism.

Westinghouse Votes Hike in Dividend Rate

NEW YORK (AP) — Westinghouse Electric Corp. directors today raised the annual dividend rate of common stock from $2 to $2.40 and recommended a 2-for-1 split of common shares.

The split proposal will be submitted to stockholders at a special meeting at Pittsburgh Jan. 4.

The company also reported the highest third quarter earnings in history.

Directors declared a dividend of 60 cents on the common — on which the quarterly dividend had been 50 cents—payable Dec. 1 to holders of record Nov. 9.

If the stock split is approved, it is expected that the quarterly dividend on the new common will be 30 cents a share.

President Mark W. Cresap and Board Chairman Gwilym A. Price said the action was taken after a review of operating results showing increased profit in the first nine months of this year on only slightly higher volume of sales than in the like period of 1958.

Westinghouse reported earnings of $56,225,000, equal to $3.17 per share, for the nine months ended Sept. 30, compared with $49,011,000 and $2.79 in the corresponding period of 1958.

Third quarter earnings totaled $22,075,000, equal to $1.25 per share, up from $19,038,000 and $1.09 a year ago.

Sales in the third quarter amounted to $494,189,000, compared with $460,538,000.

Trading in the company's stock was suspended for a time after the split was announced because of a crush of buy orders. When trading was resumed, the first sale was at $96, up $2 from the previous price and up $2.50 on the day.

Killer of Neighbor Gets Sentence in Pen

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Common Pleas Judge G. H. Birrell Wednesday sentenced John Sacha, 70, to life in Ohio Penitentiary for shooting Mrs. Katherine Propkowchow last August in a dispute over the boundary between their properties. Sacha was indicted for first-degree murder but allowed to plead guilty to second-degree and to a charge of shooting with intent to kill. He wounded Mrs. Propkopchow's husband, Joseph, and was sentenced to 20 years on that charge.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's Halloween time again and the gobblins and witches will find many apples available at stores and roadside food stands.

All types of apples are in plentiful supply, the quality is excellent and prices are low.

The other trappings of Halloween and the harvest season also are available in adequate numbers. This includes pumpkins, gourds and Indian corn.

Along more substantial lines, best buys appear mainly in veal and pork. Several chains are running weekend specials in leg of veal, pork loin, hams and rib ends of pork. The low pork prices reflect large runs of hogs at livestock markets.

On the other hand, a tendency for prices of sirloin steak to strengthen is apparent in some sections. More uniform are gains of 2 to 6 cents a dozen in egg prices in virtually all areas.

Other items in which stores are running specials include fish sticks, ground beef, ducks, sirloin, chuck roast, steaks and chicken legs.

For the second straight week iceberg lettuce is cheap and is listed as among the best buys in the vetetable section. Potatoes and onions, although slightly higher priced than last week, are still excellent buys.

Most of the popular vegetables —cabbage, cauliflower, tomatoes, Idaho potatoes, brussel sprouts— are in the good buy list. On the expensive side are snap beans and egg plants.

The good buy list in fruits is quite colorful — oranges, lemons and limes.

Grapefruit, pears and emperor grapes also come cheap.

Youngstown-Lorain Shriners Shun Purchase

CLEVELAND (AP)—Al Koran Temple of Shriners from a territory extending from Youngstown to Lorain voted 672 to 538 Wednesday night against purchase of the old Euclid Ave. Baptist Church building at East 18th St. and Euclid Ave. Al Koran Temple had a 60-day option to buy for $550,000 the 32-year-old Baptist building to replace its headquarters at East 36th St. and Chester Ave. razed earlier this year by fire.

Licking County Dems Give Nod to DiSalle

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — The Licking County Democratic executive committee has formally endorsed Gov. Michael V. DiSalle as a favorite son candidate for the 1960 presidential nomination.

A number of other county party organizations preceded Licking into the DiSalle camp, but the governor has not yet indicated he would accept the favorite son role.

Urbana Man Held In Poisoning Case

URBANA, Ohio (AP)—A first-degree murder charge has been filed against an Urbana man for the Oct. 18 cyanide death here of James (Chico) Gomes.

James G. Buckney of Urbana is being held without bond since his arrest Saturday and will be arraigned in Municipal Court Friday, Champaign County Prosecutor Richard Harris said.

Buckney has been the unidentified "mystery figure" in the case. He has consistently refused to make any statements except to deny his guilt, Harris said.

Gomes died after drinking some wine in his home Oct. 18. Wine bottles found in his backyard and his body were sent to the Bureau of Criminal Investigation and Identification in London.

450 Persons To Work County Voting Places during Tuesday's Election

The Pickaway County Board of Elections today announced the assignments of personnel to man the county and city's 45 precinct polling places Tuesday.

A total of 450 persons will man the polls from 6:30 a. m. until the precinct counting has been completed. Six persons will be on hand during the voting hours of 6:30 a. m. until 6:30 p. m.

Four persons will relieve the voting crew and count the ballots, tabulate the results and report into the election board office.

The 450-person total does not include officials of the election board and their tabulating crew of John A. Fissell, 354 Cedar Heights Road, and A. W. Goeller, 1040 Atwater Ave.

THE HERALD will have a reporter on hand to obtain the results as they arrive. The public may call The Herald GR 4-3131 for hour-to-hour tabulations.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown stated today that Ohio's 88 County Boards of Elections have completed appointing thousands of men and women to serve at the more than 12,500 polling places in the state at the off-year general election, Tuesday.

"September 15 was the deadline for such appointments", Brown said.

JUDGES AND CLERKS of elections' appointments are made with consideration of the recommendations made by the Republican and Democratic parties.

"Because of this, in his endeavor to insure the appointment of the best qualified precinct election officials," Brown said, "he has continuously kept state, district and county political leaders in both parties acquainted with a well-defined program of his office and the Boards of Elections for increased efficiency and honesty in the elections operation."

"This," he said, has been done through his educational program, including the mailing of a semi-monthly bulletin directed chiefly to Boards of Elections but containing information of direct bearing on party officials responsible for recommending election official appointees."

SECRETARY OF State Brown estimates that more than 130,000 persons will be in some manner allied with the conduct of the November 3 election, including the polling place judges and clerks to be appointed on or before September 15.

He had high praise for the men and women who serve in the polling places. "By and large they do a good job. Our efficiency has greatly increased in the past few years and fraud and irregularities are at a minimum," Secretary of State Brown said.

New Idle Claims Mounting in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—New claims for unemployment compensation mounted to 18,814 in the week ended Oct. 24, up from the 12,458 reported the previous week.

Bureau of Unemployment Compensation officials attributed the climb to the effects of the steel strike. In October last year, the average weekly total of new claims was 14,112.

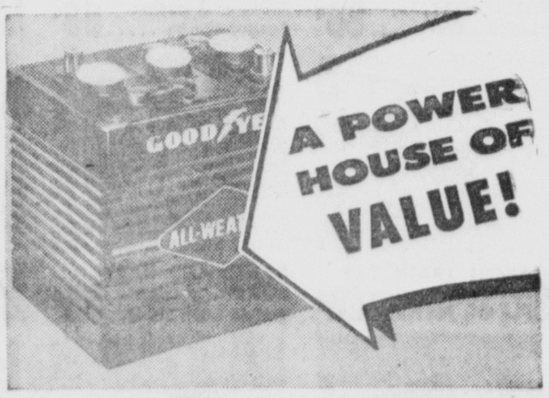

Continuing claims of those unemployed one week or more increased from 51,870 to 57,233. The average number of claims on file in October last year was 93,672.

Biggest hike in new claims came from the Cleveland area, where the total jumped from 1,825 in the week ended Oct. 17, to 6,005 for the week ended Oct. 24. Furloughing of workers in industries short of steel was the principal cause of the big increase in the area.

Cost of Steel Strike Being Felt Good Now

Earnings, Payrolls Both Cut as Walkout Starts Taking Toll

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The cost of the big steel strike is beginning to show up in the figures. Whether they're earnings or payroll totals they aren't pleasant.

Stockholders are being told the net loss in income in the first months of the strike. But these figures have to be read against the background of the year as a whole if they're not to be misleading.

The metalworking companies also are reporting their third quarter and nine months earnings. In most instances these figures cover periods when neither the steel strike nor the copper work stoppage pinched. These statements also have to be read with the final three months in mind if they are to be given their true perspective.

But, first, here are the figures.

Fifteen steel companies have reported on their third quarter operations. Five of them report net losses. Two others, with some of their activities unaffected by the strike, reported in the black but much lower net income than the previous year. Most of those showing increased earnings are small companies not involved in the strike.

Combined, the 15 show a loss for the July-August-September quarter of nearly 49 million dollars. This compares with a net income of 124 million for the same companies in the 1958 third quarter. The second largest steel producer, Bethlehem, isn't included in the list.

But this year's loss must be considered in relation to what went before.

In the first six months of the year steel users were ordering a nine-month supply of steel so that they could ride out a three-month strike, which was the longest then expected.

The big earnings that the steel industry piled up in the first half of the year enabled them to turn in a pleasant report for the year to date.

Nineteen steel companies report their combined nine months earnings are 443½ million dollars, a third higher than the same companies reported in the like 1958 period—a good part of which was recession ridden.

The metalworking companies have gone through the summer quarter without many bruises. Most fabricators of steel and copper products didn't first feel the strikes until October.

In this group 37 companies show only five making less for the first nine months of the year than they did in the like period of 1958.

Combined, their earnings come to $86,891,000, or an increase of 70 per cent over what the same companies reported for the 1958 period.

Denmark has an old wedding custom for the bride to carry a purse of small coins, to be tossed to children watching at the church.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Clear skies prevailed over the state during the night and temperatures again dipped to near or below the freezing point.

Temperatures ranged from 35 at Cleveland to 27 at Zanesville, while Columbus and Akron had 31.

Heavy fog formed along the Ohio River at Chesapeake and Marietta.

A high pressure controlling our weather has now moved to the lower St. Lawrence valley and our winds will return to a southerly flow with a slight warming trend for today and Friday.

Today will be dry with the earliest possibility of some light rain late Friday night.

Vega Rocket Plans Stalled By Walkout

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Space Chief T. Keith Glennan said the steel strike is delaying a crucial space program — the Vega rocket capable of putting up a Sputnik-size satellite .

He told the American Bankers Assn., in a prepared speech, that "this program, unfortunately, is now being set back by the shortages resulting from the steel strike."

Glennan, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, gave no indication as to the extent of the delay.

The three-stage Vega was designed to place 4,800 pounds in an orbit 300 miles above the earth, or 1,000 pounds into a deep space trajectory to the moon and beyond.

It was scheduled to be ready for initial flight early in 1961.

"As the situation stands now, it is reasonably certain that in early 1961 the Vega will be the first of our space vehicle systems capable of matching the performance demonstrated by the Russians more than a year ago," Glennan said.

"I have no doubt that the Russians will be improving their systems during this same period," he added.

Glennan attributed the Soviet lead in space exploration to the early Soviet decision to concentrate on ICBMs as the delivery system for the nuclear weapons they were developing shortly after World War II.

Smoke Screen

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Neighbors became concerned when they saw smoke billowing from the garage of a house. Teenage Marriage Divorce Rate Labeled as 'Appalling'

CINCINNATI (AP)—A veteran social worker says more and more teenagers today are rushing into premature marriages — and their divorce rate is appalling.

"They see this as a way of getting the love they never experienced from parents," said Mrs. Pauline Cohen, a supervisor here for the Family Service Assn. of America.

Mrs. Cohen said in an interview that her experience confirms the results of a special study of teenage marriage patterns published in the coming issue of a national magazine.

The results include these eye-openers:

Forty per cent of girls married in America this year will be under 19.

Twenty-six per cent will be under 18.

Forty eight of every 1,000 girls between the ages of 14 and 17 are married.

"These figures are in line with what we find here in Cincinnati," Mrs. Cohen said.

The study adds this:

"A bride under 20 has three times the chances of being divorced as a girl who marries between the ages of 22 and 24."

One of the main reasons for this young marital failure, said Mrs. Cohen, is the pathetic ignorance of teenagers as to what marriage is like.

"So many of these youngsters go into it without knowing the day-to-day routine that goes with it," she said. Budgeting, cooking and other basic skills of household management are often lacking.

The teenage husband finds it hard to hold a job. "He becomes miserable at home and carries it with him to work, so that it becomes unbearable," the social worker said.

Sometimes parents help, but also offer another danger. "Even where parents do help," Mrs. Cohen said, "there is a continuance of the dependant relations between parents and children that can be quite harmful.

"If the parents contribute to their youngsters support, they often feel they have a right to control decisions in the marriage."

Other contacts with school friends, usually dwindle away to almost nothing.

She said that if the couple has religious ties, they feel sharply the loss of religious ceremony.

"Most girls have some dream of what their wedding will be like," said Mrs. Cohen. "They think the excitement of the quick marriage will be enough, but later they think differently."

The lucky ones are steered to a family aid service by parents or friends. There they can receive help that may see them through the difficult adjustment period.

The study lists four chief factors that seem to lead to teenage marriages:

Parent - child friction, lack of realistic approach, mothers who relive romances through their daughters and school difficulties.

Mrs. Cohen suggested more courses on family relationships are needed.

"But this instruction has to be fairly early," she said, "because if you wait too long, you may reach the youngsters when they already are too involved to see the problem clearly."

She recommends the junior high school level.

DiSalle Approves New Prison Boss

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle today expressed satisfaction over appointment of Beryle Sacks, former FBI man, as warden of Ohio Penitentiary, effective next month.

Sacks will succeed Warden Ralph W. Alvis, who was named to head the Lebanon Correctional Institution.

Commenting to newsmen on published reports that he was miffed by the appointment, DiSalle said he was concerned instead over apparent leaks after supposedly confidential talks about Sacks.

The governor said everything he learned about Sacks in checking his record of service with the FBI was good.

7-Count Indictment Filed Against Killer-Car Driver

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A seven-count indictment faces the driver of a stolen car which ran down and killed three school children here Oct. 19.

A grand jury returned the indictment Tuesday against Paul W. Graham, 22, of Columbus. Police were pursuing Graham who apparently lost control of the car when the tragedy occurred. The children were waiting for a school bus.

The indictment charges Graham with three counts of second-degree manslaughter, one of auto theft, one of auto theft as a second offender and two of driving a car without the owner's consent.

Prosecutor Earl W. Allison said Graham probably will face the charges in Common Pleas Court about Nov. 6. Graham is held in lieu of $100,000 bond.

Victims of the crash were Randy Kline, 7, and his brother, Raymond, 4, sons of T.Sgt. and Mrs. Arden Kline, and Jane Bellah, 7, daughter of T. Sgt. and Mrs. Jerry J. Bellah. The sergeants are stationed at nearby Lockbourne Air Force Base.

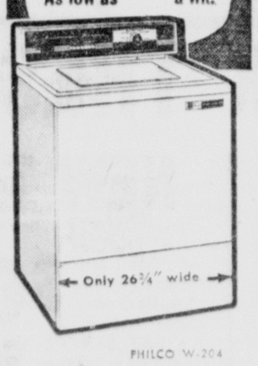

One auto theft charge stems from Graham's admission that he took a privately owned car from the state capitol lot on Oct. 12, then abandoned it.

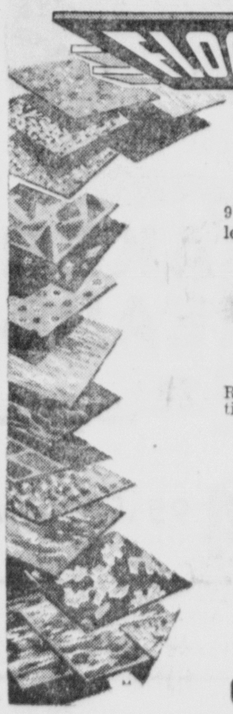

The second offense involves the car which struck the children as they waited for the bus south of Columbus. Police said the vehicle belonged to the state auditor's office and was taken from the same capitol lot about six hours prior to the accident.

Twice in the past year, Graham was placed on probation by the court. He now faces the possibility of sentences on previous charges of burglary, grand larceny and auto theft. Allison said he will ask for revocation of the probations.

Logan Elm Levies Are Explained

The Logan Elm Board of Education today outlined the necessity and reasons behind the two current operating levies to appear on Tuesday's off-year general election.

Logan Elm voters are being asked to support and vote for a proposed 2-mill renewal levy for current operating funds which is presently on the tax duplicate and will expire January 1.

This levy will continue to finance teachers' salaries, janitorial services, fuel, light and supplies. The levy will run for five years and will not increase district taxpayers' assessments.

A new 2-mill current operating levy is before the voters to provide funds for the operation of the new Logan Elm High School and the elementary schools.

* * *

IT WILL not be possible to operate the new high school or to make necessary improvements in the elementary schools without passage of this levy.

This levy will increase taxes 20 cents for each $100 of property valuation.

If the property is on the tax duplicate for $5,000 the tax increase will be $10 annually.

The majority of properties in Pickaway County appear on the tax duplicate at half or less than half of their true valuation. This levy will run for five years.

School administrators and architects state they are disappointed that the construction costs for the new high school and the Washington Twp. elementary addition exceeded the maximum amount alloted for construction.

An additional $46,000 is needed to purchase equipment such as student desks, cafeteria tables and chairs, laboratory furniture and instruments, home economics equipment and power equipment for the shop.

* * *

THEREFORE, it is now necessary for the board of education to ask the voters of the district to provide these funds by passing a 2½ mill levy for one year.

All high school equipment now in use will be transferred to the new high school. If this were not being done, much more than the above $46,000 would have to be spent for new equipment.

A levy of 2½ mills will raise approximately $46,000. Unless this levy is passed, it will not be possible to open the new high school for student and community use.

Schools in general are receiving less financial support from the state government each year.

School legislation during the past few years indicates that the state officials and state legislature expect local districts to assume more and more of the financial responsibility for operating public schools.

The facts mentioned present a true picture of the present financial status of the Logan Elm School District. Insufficient funds would necessitate drastic curtailment of the educational program for the schools of the district.

Passage of these levies will ensure a full school term for the 1959-1960 and 1960-1961 school years.

General Telephone Expands Laurelville Exchange Service

General Telephone Co. of Ohio is spending $33,925 in the Laurelville exchange to improve service for rural subscribers, Alan D. Fuller, district commercial manager, announced today.

Telephone crews recently started the project which will result in a major replacement and expansion of telephone lines on Route 56, east of Laurelville. Completion date of the project was not disclosed.

Fuller indicated the new facilities will provide improved service for all rural customers situated next to South Bloomingville. It also will include facilities for residents in previously unserved areas in that community which had been annexed recently by General Telephone.

When completed, the new facilities will make telephone service available for a number of applicants on the waiting list, Fuller said. Also included in it are ample facilities for future growth in that Hocking County community, he added.

"Because of its confidence in the future of Laurelville," Fuller said, "the company has decided to go ahead with this extensive project." The commercial manager urges any residents moving to the Laurelville exchange area to immediately place an order for telephone service at the district office in Circleville. Putting in the order promptly, he remarked, will speed up installation service.

There is another major improvement for Laurelville customers, Fuller commented, since it was converted to dial service a year ago. At that time, he said, Laurelville was included in a million dollar program also involving neighboring communities of Circleville, Ashville and Williamsport.

Guy Lombardo Plans Road Trip

NEW YORK (AP)—Guy Lombardo says he'll take his orchestra on a tour of the country this fall and winter. Except for a time in the early 1930s, the Lombardo band has been a fixture at the Hotel Roosevelt Grill here for the past 30 years. Lombardo, 57, said Monday he wants to get closer to the nation's dancing public but will return to the Roosevelt.

3 Ohioans Employed On Top Judge's Staff

WASHINGTON (AP)— Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart has three Ohioans on his staff.

His private secretary is Miss Elizabeth Kenney, who served him in the same job when he was on the U. S. Circuit Court bench in Cincinnati.

Both of his law clerks are Ohioans: Jerry Israel of University Heights, a Cleveland suburg, and Jack Evans of Nelsonville (Athens County).

The Ashville Village Council met in regular session October 19 with the following members present: Charles Morrison, Donald Wean, Jack Lemon, Paul Smith, and Richard Cook.

A motion was made and passed that Don Rathburn, Chester Fortner and Paul Welsh be accepted as auxiliary firemen.

Cook moved that any time village employes are working on the electrical system (other than replacing light bulbs) that the main switch should be thrown to the off position. Cook made this motion ni the interest of safety. Motion passed.

It was moved that the village purchase two 400 watt Mercury Vapor lumenairre and one 250 watt Mercury Vapor lumenairre street lights. Motion was carried.

Cook presented a comprehensive report to council on the sidewalks in the village along with the recommendations as to repairs, establishment of new side walks, etc.

The report also covered the fixing of existing sidewalks, grade and height of new ones. Several changes were made in the report after due deliberation by council and it was agreed that Cook would submit a new report at a later date with the additions, corrections, alterations, to be included in the new report.

Mayor Boman advised Council that the village has patched up the alley in rear of the banks at no cost to either bank.

Clare Lough appeared before council stating that he wished to tap onto the existing sanitary sewer in the Hoover Subdivision. Lough purchased the Gloyd property along with two other lots in the northeast end of the village. After some discussion on the matter Council tabled it for the present pending a pattern to be set up by Council that the meeting between the Village Council and the County Budget Commission had been set for either Thursday or Friday of the last week of October.

E. E. Borror recently resigned from the Ashville - Harrison Volunteer Fire Department after serving faithfully for 19 years as a volunteer fireman. Borror served under the following fire chiefs: William Cloud, H. Brintlinger, Cecil Scott, William Fortner, Frank Tedrow, Paul J. Boman, and Ed Cummins.

This is an outstanding record and a job well done. Borror and his wife will be moving in the near future to the Williamsport community where Borror is manager of a grain elevator.

Arch Ward Holds Offensive Lead For CHS Tigers

Archie Ward, Circleville High School's hardrunning right halfback, holds a commanding lead in offensive statistics for the Tigers.

With six games under his belt, Ward has roared for nine touchdowns and two extras for a total of 56 points.

In the rushing department, the speed merchant is averaging 10.3 yards for each time he has carried the ball. He has lugged the pigskin 55 times, picking up 569 yards.

Close behind Ward in offense are Fullback Larry Hannahs and Left Halfback Gary Vandemark. Hannahs has tallied seven touchdowns and four extra points for a total of 46.

* * *

VANDEMARK, out since the Hillsboro game with a knee injury, has hit paydirt five times and scored two extra points for a total of 32.

Vandemark is close behind Ward in rushing. The fleet back has carried 37 times and picked up 344 yards for a commendable 9.3 average per carry.

Hannahs, slowed the first three games with an ankle injury, has raised his rushing average to 5.9 yards per carry. The fast fullback has carried 66 times to gain 387 yards.

Quarterback Dave Smith has run the ball only 10 times, but has picked up enough yardage for 5.2 average and two touchdowns. Although the adept ball handler hands off most of the time, he has gained 52 yards on keepers.

Left Half Chuck McDowell, starting his first game Friday against Paint Valley, has carried six times and picked up 31 yards for a 5.1 average. This includes a 21-yard touchdown run against PV.

Freshman Halfback Garold Dade has picked up 67 yards in 14 carries for a 4.7 average. He ran for two extra points in the Paint Valley game.

* * *

FULLBACK Gary Cook has posted a 4.3 average, based on 43 yards gained in 10 carries. Halfback Pat Rooney, recently back in action after an early season leg injury, has picked up 10 yards on two carries for a 5-yard average.

Also getting into the scoring act is End Jake Bailey who has snagged two passes for four extra points. End Dick Warner has caught one pass for two extra points and Tackle Dan Leonhardt has made good on one placement for an extra point.

Ward has scored three touchdowns on runs of more than 61 yards. His longest was a 67-yard scamper against Paint Valley on the second play from scrimmage.

The smooth performer galloped 64 yards for a TD against Wilmington, then turned in a 61-yard scoring dash against Hillsboro the following week.

The running star came into his own in the Rosary game when he scored all three of Circleville's touchdowns. This feat earned him CHS "Player of the Week" honors.

Hannahs has scored two touchdowns in each of his last three games. One of his best runs came in the Greenfield test when he took a screen pass from Quarterback Smith and raced 68 yards for a TD.

* * *

VANDEMARK hit his stride in the Hillsboro game to record touchdowns on runs of 58 and 48 yards. However, it was in this contest that the speedster suffered the knee ailment which has kept him sidelined since.

Coach Carl Benhase has alternated Hannahs, Rooney, Dade and McDowell at Vandemark's vacated position. Each has turned in commendable jobs at the post and the experience has proven valuable to Dade, Rooney and McDowell.

In winning three, losing two and tieing one, the Tigers have collected a total of 161 points as compared to 116 for the opposition. The locals' largest margin was a 49-14 decision over Hillsboro and the worst defeat was a 34-14 loss to undefeated Greenfield.

Michigan State's Sophomore Crew Prepares for Buckeyes

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Gambling on sophomores has started to pay off for Coach Duffy Daugherty, whose Michigan State squad clashes with Ohio State at Columbus Saturday.

After an uncertain start, the Spartans now look as if they have jelled into a football team.

A win over Michigan was sandwiched between losses to Texas A & M and Iowa. Then State beat Notre Dame 19-0 and Indiana 14-6.

Gary Ballman, starter at right half, finally came into his own against the Hoosiers. Ballman scored once on a 20-yard pass play from quarterback Dean Look and again on a 25-yard bolt.

The East Detroit sophomore was working, too, with his broken finger in a cast.

"It looks like we might be getting consistent," said Daugherty. "We've been playing our sophomores a lot and they are more than half way to becoming juniors now."

Look, bothered by a shoulder sprain, didn't get a starting call until the Notre Dame game.

Look refused a $50,000 baseball bonus offer to play football this fall. A former halfback, he's been a fair to good passer and a constant threat as a ball-carrier on the option.

Fullback Blanche Martin has been slowed the last two weeks by leg and rib bruises but still made 35 yards in six carries against the Hoosiers.

Daugherty uses complete offensive and defensive teams whenever possible. The defense, led by Larry Cundiff, 228-pound center, earned honors against both Notre Dame and Indiana.

Notre Dame couldn't drive across in four downs from the two-yard line and Indiana was held after a first down on the four.

Michigan State, with a 2-1 conference record, needs this one to stay alive in the title race.

Daugherty has warned his players they could be running into an ambush.

"Look what Ohio State did to Purdue," he said.

History is on the side of Michigan State, however. The Spartans have won all three previous games in the series, all at Columbus.

The then Michigan Agricultural College did it 35-20 in 1912 and teams coached by Biggie Munn, now athletic director, won 24-20 in 1951 and 28-13 in 1953.

"I'll give us an even chance of winning this one," said Daugherty.

Jaycee Keglers Rally To Win 3

The Jaycees Late Monday Bowlers, wearing newly purchased shirts and vowing they were going to turn on, backed up the threat by defeating the second place Top Hat team three games this week at Circle D.

The Jaycee keglers rolled a 973 single game and collected 2,749 pins in three games.

Jamin Owners All Ready for Second Duel

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Owners of the great French Trotter, Jamin, are looking forward to the running of the second leg of the $75,000 American Trotting Classic next Saturday. They hope their sensational 6-year-old can wrap it up then.

Jamin took the lead at the head of the stretch last Saturday and captured the first leg of the classic in 1:59 4-5.

A 4-5 favorite in the great field, Senator Frost broke stride in the backstretch while making his bid for the lead. Senator Frost rallied to finish seventh.

Silver Song, a 60-to-1 shot, was second and Trader Horn was third.

Another victory by Jamin in the second or third leg would settle it. If the three legs should be won by different horses, there will be a runoff.

Steamin' Demon, like Senator Frost an Ohio - owned trotter, was fifth. The Demon is owned by George W. VanCamp of Circleville and the Senator by Wayne W. Galvin of Wilmington. Another Ohio entry is Gene Laird, owned by Eddie Cobb of Washington C.H.

Duck Season In High Gear

The 1959 waterfowl hunting season continues here with several hunters reporting duck, coot and merganser kills. At least one goose has been taken in this area.

According to local nimrods, a large number of ducks and geese have been spotted at various locations over the county.

The best hunting seems to be along the Scioto River, although flocks have been spotted at Darby and other creeks here and at Hargus Creek Lake.

Due to a dry season in the north this year, the duck population seems to be below normal. In view of this decrease, the duck, coot and merganser season ends November 24. Geese may be taken through December 24.

Hunters are reminded that waterfowl may be taken from sunrise to sunset only. Here is the time chart for November:

Lane Now Threat In 3 Divisions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Kenny Lane's gory and rumpus-raising decision over former welterweight champion Virgil Akins made him a threat in three divisions today.

With blood streaming over both fighters at the finish, Lane won a split decision in a nationally televised 10-rounder at Capitol Arena Wednesday in his welterweight debut.

The triumph before a yelling, whistling crowd stamped Lane, the Muskegon, Mich., southpaw, as a creditable prospect in the 147-pound division. He is still ranked second behind Carlos Ortiz among contenders for Joe Brown's lightweight crown and is as good a bidder as any for the junior welter title held by Ortiz.

Jackson Hopes For Better Year

The Jackson Wildcats will enter the 1959-60 basketball season with everything to gain as they face the prospects of bettering a 1-16 record set last year.

The Wildcats lone victory was a sensational upset win over highly touted Williamsport, 64-62. The loss threw the Deers into a tailspin from which they never recovered.

Head Coach Paul Hoskins had four varsity lettermen returning to his lineup plus a promising newcomer. This will be Hoskins' second year at Jackson.

Robert Eitel, a 6' 1" junior, is Hoskins' tallest man and will start at center. He has a good left hand jump shot from around the post.

* * *

BROTHER Larry Eitel, a 5' 10" junior, will have a go at a forward position along with Stoutsville transfer student, Marion Guseman, a 6' junior, who played reserve ball for the Indians last year.

Starting guards are Gary Thompson and Milton Martindale. The two miniature guards were starters last year and shoot well from the outside.

Martindale has a fine one-hand shot and Thompson is deft with a two-handed set shot which figured prominently in Jackson's single 1958-59 win.

Larry Eitel shoots well from the corners and Guseman should score consistently around the bankboards and become a top-notch rebounder.

With the exception of Guseman, the Jackson varsity has the experience and team play necessary to easily top last year's worst slate in years.

Though not exceptionally tall or fast, Wildcat teamwork and knowledge of the other fellow's ability could develop Jackson into a squad to watch although its danger to the county's tougher clubs is probably slight.

* * *

FILLING OUT the Jackson roster are juniors Benny List, 5' 10½", and Robert Martindale, 5' 7"; sophomores Sam Cornwell, 5' 10½", and Joe Good, 5' 6";

Freshmen Ronnie Clifton, 6', Clark Maughmer, 5' 5", Leonard Sines, 6', and Alan Hix, 4' 10". Milt Martindale is the only senior on the club. There are six juniors, two sophomores and four freshmen.

This may not be Jackson's year, but with four starting juniors and several lanky reservists developing, the Wildcats could blossom in 1960-61.

Jackson managers are Paul Atwood and Chester Culwell. Cheerleaders include Sue Ann Radcliff and Kathleen McCloud, seniors; Martha Pontious, junior;

Sandra Smith, sophomore; Judy Allen, freshman, and Joy Maughmer, senior alternate.

The Wildcats will miss the deadly scoring of Charlie Galloway from the corners and Jerry Brigner from the outside.

GALLOWAY, second string All-County, finished sixth in the county scoring race last year with a 19.9 average and teammate Brigner, honorable mention All-County, followed with an 18.5 average for seventh in the scoring race.

Martindale averaged 2.6 points per game last year. Other starters' averages were Thompson, 5.2; Bob Eitel, 3.3, and Larry Eitel, 2.4.

The Wildcats finished eighth in team offensive figures last year with 875 points in 16 games for a 54.7 average.

Defensively, the Wildcat squad was like a sieve as opponents riddled its bucket for 1,125 points for a 70.3 average.

Kingston Sets Booster Meet

Three Kingston residents today took steps to start a Kingston High School athletic booster club.

The three men have written an appeal to all Kingston parents to meet Monday at 7 p. m. in the Kingston school cafeteria in an attempt to organize the booster club.

Paul Priest Sr., Lawrence Kerns Sr. and Nicholas Kelley with the assistance of Kingston High School principal and head coach, Gary Walsh, today handed out appeal slips to each pupil to take home to his or her parents.

The slip stated that several residents have expressed a desire and interest in promoting a booster organization.

* * *

THEY FEEL that Kingston has a fine group of youngsters in its school district and there is a need for guidance and assistance from persons outside the school to help develop these qualities.

The three - member planning committee said they felt a booster organization will aid in accomplishing this purpose.

Iowa Rated Tops in Big 10, on Paper

CHICAGO (AP) — If statistics showed on the scoreboard, Iowa would be a cinch for the Big Ten football title.

The Hawkeyes continued as paper champions this week, dominating the official conference individual statistics. Iowa shares last place in Big Ten standings with 1-3.

Bob Jeter is tops in rushing with 304 net yards in 45 carries for a 6.8 average. Northwestern's Ray Purdin is next with 169 in 29 trips for 5.8.

Olen Treadway, another Hawkeye, is the No. 1 passer with 56 hits in 95 shots for 585 yards and three touchdowns. Indiana's John Henry Jackson is No. 2 with 14-27 for 283 and three TD's.

Treadway also holds the total offense leadership. He has a minus 24 yards trying to run, leaving him a total of 561 and 5.3 a play.

Jackson again is second, adding 55 yards on the ground to his passing gains for 338. His average a play of 6.9 is topped only by Northwestern's John Talley, who has a remarkable 9.3 on total yardage of 242 in 26 rushing and passing plays.

Wildlife Notes On Fish, Deer In Buckeyeland

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fishermen, you can expect a fair harvest of walleyes in Lake Erie next year, for both sport and commercial purposes.

That prediction comes from Charles Selden, fish management supervisor of the Ohio Division of Wildlife District No. 1.

He said Lake Erie walleyes hatches last spring now measure 8.1 to 12.2 inches, that he had personally measured 468 of 975 walleyes taken in 19 nettings by commercial fishermen Oct. 23 of South Bass Island.

Another brightener for fishermen: A fall test netting program completed at Lake St. Marys in Mercer and Auglaize counties shows the lake continues as one of the top fishing spots in northwestern Ohio. Fifteen different species were netted, with crappies continuing to be the leading species. They are of good size and should measure eight inches by next spring. Channel catfish averaging 10½ inches were plentiful.

The program also produced results in many other waters in Northwestern Ohio. Among these was Findlay Reservoir, Hancock County, where many walleye, white bass and perch showed up.

Three reports of bow-killed deer have reached the Ohio Division of Wildlife. Frank Walls of Chillicothe took a 90-pound buck fawn with his bow in his home county of Ross. Two deer, one a 125-pound buck, the other a fawn of unknown sex, were reported taken by a party of Hamilton County archers in the Wolf Creek Wildlife Area, Morgan County.

Ohio's park attendance keeps going up. V. W. Flickinger, chief of the Division of Parks, said attendance reached 10,451,354 during July, August and September.

Accidental deer kill figures for the first nine months of 1959 are 25 per cent down from last year's mark. The 1959 tally is 156 deer, while 209 were reported killed during the same period in 1958. Size of the accidental deer kill serves game technicians as an index to the deer population.

James Bogart, 15-year-old Findlay angler, can tell you exactly what he caught on any given day during the past two fishing seasons. And he can tell you where he fished, what he used for bait, the time he caught each fish and the length of the catch.

The Findlay High School sophomore keeps an exact diary of his fishing experiences. In the 1958 season, he caught 117 fish, more than half of them bass. He fishes the Findlay Reservoir regularly so largemouth bass appeared with regularity in his notes. This year he has taken a 16-inch largemouth bass, a 14-inch smallmouth bass and an 18-inch walleye, among others.

Wyoming Appeal On NCAA Ban Set

BOSTON (AP)—The University of Wyoming is expected to appeal a decision by the NCAA council which placed the school on probation for a year and ruled the cowboy football team ineligible for post-season bowl games.

"We don't think we violated the NCAA code and we've been trying to play it real straight," Wyoming head football coach Bob Devaney said in Laramie, Wyo., Wednesday after the policy-directing body of the powerful NCAA handed down its decision.

Devaney said he plans to appeal the ruling, which would knock his team out of a trip to the Sun Bowl game.

And in Bozeman, Mont., the Council of Deans at Montana State College unanimously agreed to appeal for a review of another NCAA ruling placing that school on a two-year probation.

The college is host to the NCAA-sponsored ski meet in March. The action means that it cannot participate. The deans said they would appeal particularly the severity of the penalty.

Both schools were penalized for violations of the NCAA rules on recruiting and financial aid to athletes.

Wyoming currently leads the Skyline Conference football race, and was considered a prime candidate for a spot in the Sun Bowl game at El Paso, Tex., if it won the title. The NCAA action spoiled that.

The council, which concluded its regular fall meeting Wednesday, earlier had handed out probation sentences to Arizona State University at Temple and the University of Mississippi. They also were punished for recruiting and financial aid violations.

NCAA will be presented with a recommended amendment aimed at regulating play of alien athletes when the group meets in its annual convention in New York Jan. 6-8.

The amendment was approved Wednesday by the NCAA Council, the group's policy-directing body, in a move that Executive Director Walter Byers said was "designed to regulate the older boys coming over here to compete against younger boys."

The amendment would limit the number of semesters alien athletes could compete, place age limits on such players, and impose residency requirements before such athletes would be eligible to participate in national championship competition.

Alien students would be limited to 10 semesters or 15 quarters eligibility for all competition, and would be limited to three years after reaching the age of 20, two years after 21 and one year after 22.

Cepeda Is Voted Sophomore Award

SAN JUAN, P.A. (AP)—Orlando Cepeda, National League Rookie of the Year in 1958 and its Sophomore of the Year in 1959, has already set one goal for 1960.

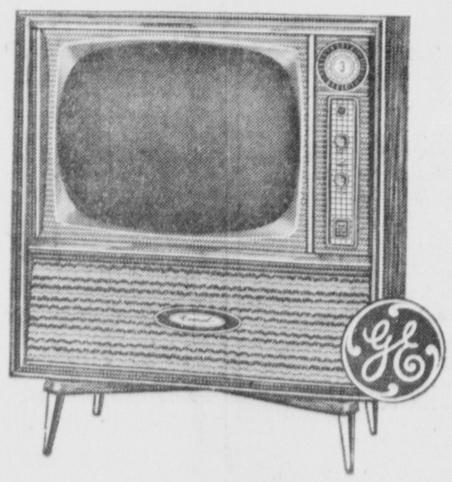

"I want to become a first class outfielder," he said today. "If I am going to play that position, I am going to try to make good. I do not want to become a player carried by a ball club just for his hitting."

The San Francisco Giants' slugger Wednesday was named the leading sophomore in the annual Associated Press poll. He drew 86 of the 172 votes cast by members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America. Vada Pinson of Cincinnati was next with 66 votes.

OWN & OPERATE

your own business from your own home, where you can be your own boss and secure your future. Nationally advertised concern is now setting up exclusive franchise in Circleville to service all of Pickaway county. New type equipment creates an opportunity for mechanically inclined men to establish themselves in a specialized, high level business. Operate from your own home on a low overhead cash basis. We help you set up your business with a carefully formulated, proven plan, and assist you in establishing working accounts. On the average our owners show a net profit over $8,000.00 for their first year of operation. This business requires manual labor, so if you are looking for a selling job, or the like, do not inquire. If you are sincere about owning a business of your own, write:

MR. JACK KREFT
215 North Main Street
Janesville, Wisconsin

If selected, be prepared to start within four weeks. Total cost is $4,495.00 which is secured by operating equipment; this is not a vending machine. If you qualify you can own this business with a down payment of $3,000.00. Write letter telling about yourself as all replies are confidential.

WE NEED 2 MEN IMMEDIATELY!

One of Circleville's leading new car agencies needs two men immediately.

One experienced new car salesman!

One mechanic experienced in automatic transmission!

Vacations with pay plus many other benefits.

Stoutsville Eyes Appeal

Clearcreek Group Dislikes Decision

There are indications that the Clearcreek Local School District citizens committee favoring consolidation with the Logan Elm School District will appeal a recent 5th District Court of Appeals decision to the Ohio Supreme Court.

The indication came as a result of a meeting held Saturday with Clearcreek residents and their attorney, Joseph Asher, Columbus.

The 5th Appeals Court October 19 dismissed an alternate writ of mandamus request filed by James E. Smith and his group of Clearcreek residents, Fairfield County, desiring a merger with Logan Elm.

Asher and his Clearcreek group were dissatisfied with the Appeals Court decision feeling that it went against the intent of the majority of Clearcreek residents in dismissing their mandamus suit.

* * *

THE MANDAMUS WRIT asked the court to order the Fairfield County Board of Education to transfer the Clearcreek district to Logan Elm after an election was held last November with 338 persons favoring the move and 266 opposed for a 55.9 majority.

Asher left for California Tuesday night and will return November 16, at which time an appeal may be filed.

Koch Named President of State Assn.

Winfield Koch, superintendent of Pickaway County Children's Home, recently was elected president of the Ohio Superintendents and Matrons Assn.

The association, holding its annual meeting in Columbus, is made up of about 100 officials who are responsible for the care of dependent children in Ohio's counties.

Koch, who served as the group's vice president last year, gave the association a detailed report on the child welfare conference held during the summer at North Carolina State University.

A major project during Koch's administration will be the creation of a workshop similar to the one he attended in North Carolina. The purpose of such a program is to increase official knowledge of improved care for dependent children housed in both boarding homes and foster homes.

The next meeting of the state association will be held on the Ohio State University campus Nov. 9.

High Court Upholds News Photographer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has upheld the reversal of a contempt of court fine levied against an Akron newspaper photographer.

The high court Wednesday refused to admit the case of Julius Greenfield for review, an action that allowed an appellate court ruling to stand.

Greenfield, of the Akron Beacon Journal, was fined $100 and costs by Judge Don Young of Norwalk for taking a photograph through the window of a door of Wayne County Juvenile Court while court was in session.

Ohio law provides that a court may punish a person guilty of misbehavior "in the presence of or so near a court or judge so as to obstruct the administration of justice."

The appellate court ruled the record failed to show Greenfield obstructed the administration of justice in any manner. Records showed Judge Young was not aware of Greenfield's action until notified by a bailiff.

If there was anyone obstructing the court, the ruling added, it was the bailiff.

Greenfield stood in a corridor outside the courtroom to snap a picture of proceedings involving failure of Amish parents to send their children to public school as required by law.

The Supreme Court has a ban on photographs or broadcasts from inside all Ohio courts of record during sessions.

Toledo Port's Grain Volume Climbs Sharply

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Grain movements through the port of Toledo this season have increased 169 per cent from a year ago, the Toledo-Lucas County Port Authority announced today.

Through September the volume of grain reached 273,952 tons.

In general cargo the gain was 73 per cent to a record 59,749 tons of imports and exports. This includes aluminum, wood pulp and newsprint from Canada, in addition to overseas trade.

The October meeting of the PTO met at the School on Tuesday evening for their regular meeting. Mrs. J. E. Morris, president, was in charge of the business meeting. "The Lord's Prayer" was given in unison, followed by the secretary's report by Mrs. Robert Conway and treasurer's report by Mrs. Ralph Smith. A vote carried for the organization to serve the Lion's Club supper, later in the year. Mrs. Bessie Newton of the project committee, announced the need of books for the grades and high school, also unbreakable plates for the cafeteria. A motion passed for the committee to purchase the necessary items.

Forest Morris, president of the New Holland Lion's Club, announced a community meeting for Monday evening at the New Holland School, for cooperation of persons and organizations, interested in helping to make a recreation park in New Holland area possible.

Program was by the 4-H Clubs. Mrs. George Jordan presented certificates, awards and pins to 15 girls present, and Hoyt Martin, assited by Harold Skinner and Harley Evans gave their awards, etc. to the 26 members of the Live Stock Club present.

Discussion of bond and operating levies in Westfall District with questons and answers was lead by Mr. Lanman. Mr. Kellam, the architect was present and had the model of the new building and drawing of the site and floor plan, which proved interesting, as we were all anxious to see how the building would look.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria by Mrs. Howard Somers and her committee.

Mr. George Levally, a patient at Veteran's Hospital, in Dayton, underwent surgery, on Wednesday of last week. His Sunday visitors were Mrs. George Levally and daughter Susan and Mr. and Mrs. George Levally and daughter Sharon of Columbus.

Don't forget to attend the Halloween Carnival, sponsored by the PTO and the grades, at the Atlanta School on the evening of October 30. Come masked or unmasked.
